THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY
WASHINGTON DC 20350-1000

March 1, 2018

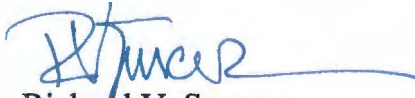

MEMORANDUM FOR UNDER SECRETARY OF DEFENSE FOR PERSONNEL AND READINESS

SUBJECT: Fiscal Year 2017 Department of Defense Annual Report on Sexual Assault in the Military

As requested by the Performing the Duties of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness memorandum of September 25, 2017, the attached is provided as input from the Department of the Navy (DON) covering Fiscal Year (FY) 2017 for your Annual Report to Congress on Sexual Assault in the Military, as mandated by the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 2011, Section 1631 and Public Laws 111-84, 112-239 and 113-291.

The DON is deeply committed to achieving a culture of respect – where sexual assault is never tolerated and ultimately eliminated; where all victims receive effective support and protection; and where offenders are held appropriately accountable. I, the Chief of Naval Operations, and the Commandant of the Marine Corps work collaboratively towards these high-priority goals. The DON remains the only Military Department with a dedicated Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) entity that reports directly to the Secretary. On my behalf, the Department of the Navy Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (DON SAPRO) maintains visibility and oversight of SAPR activities throughout the Navy and Marine Corps, and it conducts a number of Department-level initiatives. I have included in our inputs a separate executive summary of these uniquely Departmental efforts, which complement and expand upon Service-level programs of the Navy and Marine Corps.

Should you require additional information, my point of contact for this action is Ms. Jill Loftus, Director, DON SAPRO who may be reached by telephone at (703) 697-2180 or by email at jill.loftus@navy.mil.

FY17 Annual Report on Sexual Assault in the Military Executive Summary: Department of the Navy

The Department of the Navy (DON) is committed to a culture of gender respect, where sexual assault is never tolerated and ultimately eliminated, where all survivors receive coordinated support and protection, and where offenders are held appropriately accountable. There is no precedent for the scale of what we seek to achieve, and we accept the challenge of breaking new ground in doing so.

The Secretary of the Navy, the Chief of Naval Operations, and the Commandant of the Marine Corps work collaboratively and with shared priority to combat sexual assault throughout the Department. Each conducts separate but overlapping Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) activities whose overall impact exceeds the sum of its individual parts. Each also works in partnership with the Department of Defense (DoD) and others to combat sexual assault.

The Department of the Navy Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (DON-SAPRO) is a Secretariat entity that operates under the immediate supervision of the Secretary of the Navy. On behalf of the Secretary, DON-SAPRO maintains visibility and oversight of Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) activities throughout the Navy and Marine Corps, conducts a number of Department-level initiatives, and develops Departmental SAPR policy guidance.

During FY17, the Director and her staff visited over 50 Navy and Marine Corps locations world-wide. Agendas at each site typically included private meetings with military senior leaders; presentations by local commanders; individual interviews with diverse stakeholders including senior enlisted leaders, Sexual Assault Response Coordinators, Victim Legal Counsels, criminal investigators, command legal officers, medical personnel, and chaplains; and also focus group conversations with Sailors and Marines. Consistent themes from focus groups are that Sailors and Marines feel confident in their command's support and more comfortable about reporting a sexual assault.

Many site visits coincided with live-acted, large-audience "Pure Praxis" training programs sponsored by DON-SAPRO. These sessions use professional civilian actors/trainers and audience participation to explore individual responsibilities and behaviors with regard to preventing retaliation and ostracism against individuals after they report a sexual assault. Feedback at all levels was extremely positive. In FY17, more than 52,000 Sailors and Marines attended 214 Pure Praxis programs at 70 locations world-wide; over 120,000 have been trained to date.

Training tools developed during FY17:

- During FY17, DON-SAPRO staff worked to translate material on healthy relationships, the definition of consent, male and female sexual assault, preventing and confronting ostracism, and bystander intervention into a "graphic novel" format suitable for the youngest Sailors and Marines – those known to be our highest-risk demographic for sexual assault. Extensive input was provided directly by young Sailors and Marines in numerous focus groups, and professional graphic art support was provided by the Defense Media Activity (Navy). The resulting 370-page "graphic novel" was evaluated by the Services for publication and use in diverse training environments; implementation will begin in FY18.

- During FY17, DON-SAPRO developed pre-planned response cards, providing SAPR guidance for military immediate supervisors of enlisted personnel. The cards identify leadership responsibilities and priorities, as junior members of the chain of command, in SAPR situations they are likely to encounter as well as providing resources.
- During FY17, DON-SAPRO, in coordination with the Navy, worked with the Naval Air Warfare Center Training Systems Division (NAWCTSD) Advanced Modeling and Simulation Branch to develop course curriculum and scenario scripts to create a comprehensive, virtual, immersive, and interactive training simulation for Navy Officers (O4-O6) and Chief Petty Officers (E7-E9), focusing on their roles and responsibilities to prevent and respond to sexual assault. Marine Corps curriculum and scenario scripts targeting Field Grade Officers (O4-O6) and Staff Noncommissioned Officers (E6-E9) is complete. DON-SAPRO plans to complete training development in FY19. Implementation is expected in FY20.

Other training tools previously developed by DON-SAPRO remain in active use. Each combines professional-quality video segments and facilitated group discussion.

- “Not On My Watch,” is a two-hour SAPR training program tailored for Navy recruits in training, combining video segments with facilitated discussion. It is currently in use for all Navy recruits.
- “Counting On Us,” is a two-hour program tailored for use at the Navy’s Senior Enlisted Academy, which all Navy Senior Chiefs (E-8) are now required to attend.
- “Make a Difference, Be the Solution,” is tailored for pre-commissioned officers, including midshipmen at the Naval Academy and at civilian college Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (ROTC) programs, along with candidates in training at Officer Candidate School (OCS).
- “Empowered to Act,” is tailored for prospective Commanding Officers and is in use at the Naval Leadership and Ethics Center.
- “SAPR Commander’s Guide” is a conveniently-sized, glossy-format booklet summarizes Departmental priorities, background data, and suggestions for managing local sexual assault cases developed for Navy and Marine Corps Commanding Officers.
- “One Team, One Fight” is a one-hour SAPR training program tailored for civilians. It was deployed DON-wide in 2013, was updated in 2017, and remains in use for new hires.

Special initiatives during FY17:

- During FY17, DON-SAPRO distributed 19,000 copies of its updated “SAPR Commander’s Guide” for Navy and Marine Corps Commanding Officers. This conveniently-sized, glossy-format booklet summarizes Departmental priorities, background data, and suggestions for managing local sexual assault cases. The original 2012 version was 22 pages long, and over 40,000 copies were distributed to command leadership across the Navy and Marine Corps. The updated current edition is expanded to 50 pages, with new sections written respectively by judge advocates, criminal investigators, chaplains, medical personnel, and the reserve component.

- In partnership with Commander Naval Installations Command (CNIC) and the Office of Chief of Chaplains, DON-SAPRO resourced and developed the initial curriculum for confidential, voluntary "CREDO" offsite retreats intended to promote healing and resiliency among survivors of prior sexual assault. Building on FY16's three pilot retreats, CREDO resourced by CNIC met the goals for FY17 in successfully conducting three Hope to Healing (H2H) retreats in Virginia, California, and Hawaii reaching Officer and Enlisted service members from all branches. Retreats developed teaching modules which underscored the vulnerability of prior victims to repeated sexual assault hoping to break the cycle. Goals for FY18 are to develop and conduct one male sexual assault retreat in the Norfolk area and continue female retreats both CONUS and OCONUS.
- DON-SAPRO continued its partnership with Navy leadership and the Naval Education and Training Command to continuously assess sexual assault in military training environments. Voluntary sexual assault surveys of all graduating students (both genders) began at several sites in 2013 and were expanded during FY14 to all 19 Navy "A" School (initial post-recruit military vocational training) locations – including those at the Naval Submarine School in Groton, CT, where almost all students are male. Surveys at each site utilize a DON-SAPRO survey process that is voluntary, anonymous, web-based, and continuous. The results continue to validate our impression of a low incidence of sexual assault and a positive command climate in these settings.
- During FY17, DON-SAPRO continued to expand the scope of its outreach and liason efforts on behalf of the Department. Direct meetings were held with a variety of organizations, including industry, the National Football League (NFL), and Hollywood to collaborate on approaches to sexual assault prevention and response. In each case, we found national organizations interested in how the DON executes training on sexual assault, sexual harassment, and domestic violence, and in our insights about how media influences the behaviors of young Sailor and Marines, and of those we hope to recruit.

Sexual Assault Prevention Projects During FY17:

The Department of the Navy has accumulated over five years of experience in sexual assault prevention among Sailors in post-recruit vocational training at Training Support Command (TSC) Great Lakes, Illinois. We continue to assess outcomes since multiple simultaneous initiatives were begun in February 2011 through a partnership of DON-SAPRO, senior Navy leaders, and local stakeholders. The most obvious change has been a sustained 63% decrease in the frequency of reports of penetrating sexual assaults (see Figure 1 below). In contrast, reports of non-penetrating offenses decreased similarly for about two years, but then progressively increased to levels now above their prior baseline – despite no recent change in their estimated true frequency from ongoing sexual assault surveys of departing TSC students. Taken together, these findings suggest two superimposed and positive effects – both (a) a rapid and sustained impact from prevention initiatives on the frequency of all forms of sexual assault, and (b) a more recent increase in the reporting of non-penetrating assaults as a result of extensive SAPR training about the spectrum of acts that constitute sexual assault in the first place.

Our experience at TSC Great Lakes suggests that sexual assault prevention in a high-risk population of young people is possible but not easy. Key factors appear to include the need for multiple simultaneous specific efforts, and the engagement of leadership throughout the chain of command. Navy senior leaders have already begun applying these insights elsewhere.

As follow-on activities, this year, DON-SAPRO continued work on the prevention demonstration project involving collaboration with 5th Fleet, regional leaders and local commanders at Naval Support Activity Bahrain, an overseas operational shore installation.

FY 2017 Annual Report on Sexual Assault in the Military Executive Summary: Navy

Sexual assault remains a threat to the United States Navy. It adversely impacts readiness, morale, and retention. Navy takes this threat seriously and is fully committed to sexual assault prevention, providing gender-specific support to victims, and holding offenders appropriately accountable, while ensuring that alleged offenders are afforded the protections entitled to them by law. Navy continues to aggressively pursue prevention efforts, improvements to command culture and climate, and expanded response capabilities with the ultimate goal of eliminating sexual assaults.

This past year, Navy worked to prevent sexual assault through a variety of efforts. Lead among these endeavors was the use of a metrics-based, data science approach to better understand where and why sexual assaults occur. Navy created targeted prevention tactics, focusing on platforms, units, genders, and geographic location. These micro-level prevention efforts address issues and risk factors that Sailors see every day, as opposed to generalized areas of concern that many Sailors may not relate to. Analysis involved data derived from the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID), Defense Equal Opportunity Management Institute's (DEOMI) Defense Equal Opportunity Climate Survey (DEOCS), and other behavioral and operational sources. As Navy's knowledge of circumstances surrounding these assaults increases, there will be a corresponding ability to better identify leading indicators, target prevention efforts and accurately focus action and policy.

Another center of gravity was sustained leadership emphasis by Commanders down to front line supervisors on appropriate behaviors. Leaders are central in establishing a climate of dignity, respect, and environmental expectations. Their engagement and positive example reinforced what "right" looks like and helped prevent unacceptable behavior, such as sexual assault, from occurring.

FY17 data shows a continued increase in reporting, further reducing the gap between incidents and reports. However challenges remain. Navy recognizes the need to focus more on increasing male victim reporting and improving response, and will continue to work to remove barriers to reporting and improve male-specific support. Navy will also continue working to eliminate reprisal, ostracism, and maltreatment towards victims of sexual assault, first responders, witnesses and those who intervened on their behalf.

Navy's Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program reflects the commitment that sexual assault is never tolerated, condoned, or ignored. There are no bystanders and all are expected to intervene. Navy remains committed to cultivating a climate of mutual dignity and respect, in which Sailors look out for their shipmates, victims are supported, and offenders are held appropriately accountable.

1. Goal 1—Prevention—“Institutionalize evidenced-based, informed prevention practices and policies across the Department so that all Military Service members are treated with dignity and respect, and have the knowledge, tools, and support needed to prevent sexual assaults.”

1.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Prevention goal. (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 1 – Prevention, p. 6)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant or force-wide changes to how your Military Service addresses the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ this year to reduce the occurrence of sexual assault? What prevention initiatives did your Military Service employ with targeted subgroups of your population or for specific locations? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016))
- Communications and Engagement: How does you align prevention communications and training across your Military Service? (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5 (Communications), p. 11)
- Leader Involvement: How do you prepare and include command to support the Military Service prevention approach? How does the Military Service prepare and help command address unit climate challenges and climate survey results? (DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (July 7, 2015), Encl 5, para 9f)
- Community Involvement (Internal to DoD): How does your Military Service prepare and configure military communities and their resources to support the prevention approach? (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5 (Community Involvement), p. 11 / SecDef Memo (May 1, 2014), Develop Collaborative Forum for Sexual Assault Methods, p. 2)
- Community Involvement (External to DoD): How does your Military Service employ resources external to your military communities to advance prevention initiatives? These can be force-wide initiatives or initiatives taken with specific locations or subgroups based on risk or some other factor. If this section is included, examples of these external collaborations, rationale for their use, and an assessment of the collaboration’s outcome should be included. (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5, (Community Involvement), p. 11 / SecDef Memo (May 1, 2014), Develop Collaborative Forum for Sexual Assault Prevention Methods, p. 2)
- Education and Training: How are education/training activities used to advance the Military Service’s prevention approach? What specific training programs are used (e.g., interpersonal communication, healthy relationships, and improving alcohol choices) and how/when were they distributed throughout the Military Service population? (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5 (Education and Training), p. 12)

REQUIRED:

- What metrics are being used to assess the effectiveness of prevention efforts intended to reduce the prevalence of sexual assault. Include a discussion of the metrics used to assess your sexual assault prevention program, and how they support or supplement DoD's core prevention metrics (i.e., prevalence and bystander intervention experience). Describe how the results of those metrics are informing prevention planning? (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5 (Harm Reduction), p. 12) / DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 6 (Prevention Metrics, Assessment, and Research), p. 13

Navy's strategic approach to prevention in FY17 focused on understanding and shaping the culture and climate. This approach helped identify evidence-based prevention practices and policies to reduce or eliminate unwanted behaviors. Fleet-wide training and awareness efforts continue to provide all Sailors the knowledge, tools, and support necessary to prevent sexual assaults. The mandate to create a culture intolerant of unacceptable actions and behaviors is supported through engaged leadership at all levels, frequent and consistent communication, internal (e.g. Navy/DoD) and external (e.g. other governmental agencies and civilian organizations) community, education and training, and the means to assess prevention programs and practices.

Leadership

Navy leaders at all levels play a critical role in preventing sexual assault. Leaders impact the unit's culture, drive command climate, and ensure a safe and productive working environment. Leaders, by their words and actions, establish a culture of dignity, mutual respect, and professionalism among shipmates. They expect active intervention when any Sailor witnesses inappropriate behaviors or actions that may lead to the harm of a fellow Sailor.

During the past year, Navy implemented several significant changes to broaden leader engagement in preventing sexual assault. At the senior leadership level, the Chief of Naval Operations (CNO)'s quarterly meeting with his Fleet Commanders expanded in scope to look at unhealthy behaviors across the spectrum of harm, instead of solely focusing on sexual assault. This forum, called the Signature Behaviors Governance Board, looks at Sailors holistically from a Socio-Ecological Model (SEM) perspective focusing on Sailor's well-being at the individual, family, unit and Navy level. Specifically, the Board's purview includes sexual assault, improper social media usage, domestic violence, child maltreatment, hazing, bullying, hazing, suicidal behavior, and drug and alcohol abuse. The Board offers a more responsive and coordinated approach to address personal readiness and preparedness, and appropriately align resources and efforts.

At the deck-plate level, per CNO guidance, Navy front line supervisors were directed to conduct frank, small group discussions on destructive behaviors, emphasizing the impact of positive micro-climates and peer-influence among their work teams. This bottom up approach will drive change, instill ownership for climate among individuals on the team, and lead to earlier interventions when counter-productive workplace behaviors are exhibited.

Navy has continued force-wide efforts to counter destructive behaviors with initiatives such as Fleet-led Cultural Workshops designed to identify and understand the genesis of command cultures and barriers to reporting, and periodic micro-climate assessments conducted during “Division in the Spotlight” and Command Resilience Team programs. Commands have integrated counter destructive modules into their command indoctrination programs, petty officer and Chief Petty Officer indoctrination training, and officer training programs.

To improve Sailor resilience and increase coordination and collaboration among prevention-related issues, strategies, and initiatives, the Navy 21st Century Sailor Office established the Human Behavior Performance Branch. The mission of this cross-cutting organization is to explore and strengthen protective factors to reduce a variety of risk behaviors through the development and implementation of evidence-based prevention and treatment approaches. These efforts include analyzing human behavior in high-risk situations, and formulating solutions using a tailored prevention strategy to improve overall wellness.

Communication and Engagement

Navy’s multi-faceted prevention activities and initiatives have been supported through strategic communications and Force engagement. Several promising initiatives have been executed throughout Navy to enhance and broaden these efforts.

The Navy Smartphone Application (LiveSafe) pilot, underway in Hampton Roads and Rota, Spain (November 2016-May 2018), is complementary to Navy’s initiatives to counter destructive behaviors. LiveSafe explores the effectiveness of smart phone technologies in reducing the incidence rate of destructive behaviors. LiveSafe provides the following functions that could improve prevention efforts for Service members:

- Resource Pages focused on countering myths and mis-perceptions, giving Sailors “Quick Links” (a direct link to a resource website) to standing resources spread across the Navy.
- Resource maps to installation facilities focused on countering destructive behaviors, such as the Fleet and Family Support Center (FFSC), Chaplains, medical facilities, and other support services. The maps allow Sailors to easily find and navigate to these local resources, and include links to existing facility web sites and provide contact information such as phone numbers and office hours.
- SafeWalk function that allows Sailors to temporarily enable third-party personnel from their contact lists to “virtually” escort them to their destination and away from potentially dangerous situations.
- Two-way communication with Sailors via an alert system that can be installation focused, geographic location focused, or to all users. This communication pathway can help steer Sailors away from emerging hazardous situations, particularly overseas.

- Crowd-sourced tips provided back to Navy from Sailors who observe potentially hazardous situations. These tips could be crime-related (passed to Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS) tip hotline), installation vulnerabilities (passed to installation security teams), or infrastructure-related (passed to installation leadership teams).

The eighteen-month long pilot will include feedback from user focus groups to determine if this kind of technology can contribute to preventing destructive behaviors and how the technology can be tailored to support Sailor needs.

Commander, Pacific Fleet (CPF) developed “Change the Culture,” a comprehensive approach to influence behavior and responsibility. “Change the Culture” is General Military Training, not a SAPR-specific training. It is a 60-minute interactive presentation designed to promote positive behaviors and build resiliency. The presentation defines culture, examines society’s role in the development of personal behaviors, challenges Sailors to assess their behaviors, emphasizes that change starts on the individual level, and re-defines new social norms derived from individual behavior change.

“Change the Culture” is informative, entertaining, and engaging. Catch phrases such as “Change starts with the individual” encourage Sailors to apply and discuss “Change the Culture’s” lessons outside the training environment. The training is designed to be shareable through communication avenues that younger Sailors are comfortable with, such as social media. This presentation is impactful and relatable to all ranks, ages, and genders.

Navy continues to emphasize that the reduction of sexual assault and other unacceptable behaviors is “Commander’s business” and a leadership issue to be addressed at all levels. SAPR training remains fully incorporated into commands’ regular training program from annual Standardized Core Training (SCT) to short, stand-alone training at the workcenter level. The transition from the standard brief and PowerPoint oriented training to smaller, interactive peer-led discussions that are tailored to the unique issues faced by that command helps reinforce the message at the proper doses to avoid Sailors “tuning out” the message.

Community Involvement (internal to Navy/DoD)

Navy has engaged, configured, and prepared several internal organizations and resources to support prevention efforts. Some promising initiatives and pilot programs have been implemented that target specific subgroups of Sailors and units around the Fleet. Program assessment will determine their effectiveness and Navy’s ability to scale the program to the entire Fleet. These efforts include the following:

The One Love prevention model is a theoretically-driven program that has been piloted with approximately 1,400 Sailors, to include many onboard USS CARL VINSON (CVN-70). Peers are trained to facilitate small group, 90-minute, face-to-face Escalation workshops. Escalation workshops teach Sailors to identify and decrease risk factors while simultaneously increasing protective factors. The workshops focus on making audiences aware of unhealthy relationship behaviors, available resources, tools on how to identify and intervene in potential destructive behaviors, and emphasize the importance of everyone's role in prevention. Initial feedback has been positive, with 80% of surveyed attendees strongly agreeing that all Sailors should participate in the workshop, 82% aware of availability of resources for help and 86% understanding when they should intervene in a potentially abusive situation.

The 21st Century Sailor Office partnered with the Digital Warfare Office (DWO) to develop and conduct a Destructive Behavior Pilot (FY17-18). The goal of the pilot is to identify risk and protective factors through data mining and analytics to provide commanders a visual dashboard assessment of their unit. In addition to identifying leading indicators of destructive behavior, the pilot will establish baselines by designated platforms (ship/squadron/unit type). Providing commanders with a data-based assessment of their unit allows them to better assess their people and operational risk. Completing a useful assessment requires the ability to aggregate data and trends that are outside the normal distribution of their community or domain. Key areas include:

- Sexual Assault
- Suicide
- Suicide Related Behaviors (Ideations)
- Domestic Violence
- Alcohol and drug use/abuse
- Equal Opportunity

Collaborating with Naval Health Research Center (NHRC), Navy has undertaken Discovery of Fitness – Finding the Balance, a program to promote Sailor resiliency and synergy across the spectrum of wellness to improve operational performance. NHRC researchers believe that improving Sailors' fitness, toughness and resiliency will help reduce the incidence of sexual assault and other destructive behaviors, by giving Sailors the tools to make positive behavioral choices. Using on-site observation and interviews, NHRC researchers will gather information on multiple contributors to performance, targeting specifically sleep, fitness, nutrition, and mental skill to identify human performance (HP) factors and gaps. NHRC will recommend applied solutions to promote toughness and resilience. Moving into FY18, Navy will identify types of individuals who would benefit most from HP factors, and the most promising solutions to implement force-wide.

Community Involvement (external to Navy/DoD)

Navy continues to leverage organizations external to the military to advance prevention efforts. In FY17, Navy engaged with the Center for Naval Analysis (CNA), RAND Corporation (RAND), and Kognito on several studies.

One CNA study will analyze relationships between destructive behaviors. CNA will use the U.S. Fleet Forces Command (USFFC) Special Incident Reporting (SITREP) Data Tool database to focus on personnel incidents and the connections between destructive behaviors. CNA will layer additional data sources into this analysis, including unit DEOCS data and deployment schedules. This will provide a baseline analysis of destructive behaviors over time.

A second CNA study, “Destructive Behaviors: Bringing All of the Data Together”, is a year-long effort to identify, obtain, and aggregate numerous data sets with information about destructive behaviors, known risk factors, and other personnel data. Once the data is aggregated, CNA will begin identifying leading indicators of destructive behaviors, to better understand the interrelationships between these behaviors and risk factors. Navy sees this effort as an essential step to develop statistical models.

Navy is engaged with RAND to identify sexual assault risk concentration in the Fleet. Using 2016 Workplace and Gender Relations Survey Active/Reserve (WGRA/R) data, RAND will determine how risk is associated with class of ship, operational characteristics, Carrier/Expeditionary Strike Group or other functional/command organizations. The outcome of this study will assist Navy in tailoring and aligning future prevention efforts. Additionally, RAND is conducting a study with Navy to identify Sailor experiences associated with elevated installation/ship sexual assault risk across the Fleet. Using data from the 2014 and 2016 WGRA, RAND will examine how sexual assault and sexual harassment risk vary across ships and installations in relation to:

- Command climate (as rated by Sailors on each ship/installation),
- Perceived responsiveness of commanders to problems of sexual harassment/assault,
- Barriers to reporting assault/harassment or self-reported reasons for not reporting,
- Types of assault (contact, penetrative, or attempted assault), location of assault (on ship/facility or off), assailant characteristics (higher or lower rank, in chain of command, one or many assailants, etc.),
- Self-reported indicators of morale (intention to reenlist, perceived unit productivity/conflict, perceived retaliation, self-reported sick days, emotional distress), and
- Command characteristics (e.g., proportion of women in leadership positions).

This study will help Navy understand if and why the risk of sexual assault and sexual harassment varies across ships and installations and allow further tailoring of prevention initiatives to specific commands to best address identified characteristics.

Navy has partnered with Kognito, a firm that develops health simulations, to launch the “Prevention Project Promoting Healthy Behaviors”, a proof of concept project that provides comprehensive and interactive educational simulations and assessment for 400 Sailors. This 12-month long project will provide a base-line assessment with a one-of-a-kind, blended-learning approach in an online/mobile learning environment. Participants will role-play conversations with multiple virtual, fully-animated and emotionally responsive avatars that exhibit signs of negative behaviors including depression, thoughts of suicide, and anxiety. Sailors will learn how to recognize warning signs and how to respond in the most effective and non-threatening manner. Assessment of this study will utilize data collection and analytic technologies integrated with principles of neuroscience, social psychology, cognitive psychology, adult learning, applied game mechanics, and storytelling to determine meaningful and sustainable change in skills, attitudes, knowledge, and healthy behaviors.

Education and Training

In FY17, Navy introduced “Full Speed Ahead” (FSA), a continuation of the highly successful “Chart the Course” (FY16) Fleet-wide training. FSA provides scenario-based videos and facilitator-led discussions which help Sailors determine how to make the “right” decisions, understand consequences, and behave professionally when facing difficult situations. The training covers a spectrum of behaviors and emphasizes the importance of leaders at every level to identify and intervene when they witness inappropriate behaviors. The training reinforces Navy’s Core Attributes (integrity, accountability, initiative, and toughness) and healthy behaviors as the foundation to a resilient and professional force. Specifically, this course:

- Paints a picture of what “right” looks like,
- Demonstrates how to make “right” actionable,
- Activates the peer group and taps into micro-climates,
- Acknowledges that there are barriers to behavioral and cultural change,
- Provides tangible actions that foster trust and confidence in leadership, and
- Emphasizes the influential role of the Sailors in the “Critical Middle” (ranks of E5-E8 and O1-O4).

Measurement of Prevention Efforts

At a strategic level, the primary metric to assess the effectiveness of sexual assault prevention efforts remains the estimated prevalence of sexual assault, measured biennially via the WGRA/R. The Navy’s goal is to drive down the estimated prevalence of sexual assault while increasing reports of sexual assault, thereby decreasing the reporting gap (difference between incidents and reports of sexual assault).

Navy continues to apply data science and advanced analytics to deepen the understanding of sexual assault incidents and to inform future prevention pilot programs, studies, and revisions to SAPR policy. For example, an analysis of “blue-on-blue” incidents (meaning Sailor on Sailor) between FY14 and FY16 revealed a small group of subjects named in more than one sexual assault over time. These repeat alleged offenders tended to be older and involve more contact than penetrating offenses. The analysis revealed that the prior offenses were not reported until the NCIS investigations into the more recent, or latest reported offense. This latent reporting often resulted in no legal action being taken on the older alleged offenses due to the age of evidence or witnesses no longer remembering the incident. This finding reinforced the criticality of timely incident reporting to hold subjects accountable and prevent additional sexual assaults and further victimization, and will inform the development of prevention efforts.

In FY17, the Navy normalized the rate of sexual assault reporting by Fleet area of responsibility (AOR) and developed a common reporting dashboard to ensure like-comparisons. FY18 efforts will include a baseline of surface ships, aviation units, and shore installations in an effort to inform more targeted sexual assault prevention approaches.

At the operational level, commands have used several metrics and approaches to assist in evaluating the efficacy of the efforts and studies listed above. Some of these measures include:

The LiveSafe pilot program showed the challenges of meeting Sailors in the Cyber domain when they are not on duty. Using direct chain of command engagement to “get the word out” and encourage use of LiveSafe delivered very little in the way of results and use. This was in part due to a perception by Sailors that the Navy was using LiveSafe to track them while outside of the workplace. After conducting focus groups and working with other Smartphone application customers, LiveSafe “advocates” were established at most commands in the Hampton Roads area. As a result, use rates and downloads of the application improved considerably. After several more rounds of focus groups and tailoring LiveSafe to satisfy Sailor-identified challenges, the application experienced a significant increase in users and daily use. Further addition of “click-bait” (content that brings the Sailor back to the application more regularly) helped create credibility in LiveSafe and overcome the false user perception that the Navy was tracking Sailors while off-duty. The end of the FY included a focused campaign of click-bait synchronized with Suicide Prevention Month that significantly raised Sailor awareness of suicide prevention activities.

“Change the Culture’s” effectiveness as General Military Training will be measured both qualitatively and quantitatively in FY18. Focus groups are scheduled for early FY18 at ten commands that received “Change the Culture” training. The focus groups will consist of 10 to 30 randomly selected members of those 10 commands to ascertain the impact the training had on the command's culture. Quantitative feedback will be achieved by analyzing the longitudinal effects, if any, of various data points including number of sexual assault reports, domestic violence reports, DEOCS results, sexual harassment reports, hazing reports, Driving Under the Influence (DUI) reports and other Alcohol Related Incidents (ARI), and suicides/suicidal ideations. CPF will conduct both assessments between March and June 2018, and complete the analysis by the end of July 2018.

USFFC actively engaged in the development and implementation of the SITREP Data Tool which now provides Fleet Commanders the ability to query, view, and analyze standardized data and automated reports for sexual assault and other destructive behaviors from a centralized database. Additionally, a dashboard was developed to improve accuracy and display trends to better target prevention efforts. Combining data from SITREP Data Tool and DSAID, Navy commands can more accurately assess progress towards achieving the Goals of the SAPR program. Specifically within the Prevention Goal, data continues to reinforce the Fleet's effort to focus on front line supervisors and the micro-climates they lead as the campaign "center of gravity". Specifically tracked and evaluated are differences between:

- male victim and female victim sexual assault,
- contact sexual assault and penetration sexual assault,
- peer to peer sexual assault and senior-subordinate sexual assault,
- assaults that may take place in and around the workplace as compared to those taking place away from the workplace,
- incidents that include alcohol and those that do not, and
- assaults reported within 30 days of an assault, assaults reported more than 30 days after the assault, and assaults reported without date.

1.2 Future Efforts: Briefly describe your leadership-approved future plans to reduce the occurrence of sexual assault in your Military Service.

Navy will delineate sexual assault incident rate baselines by geography and platform/community to facilitate targeted prevention approaches. In concert with this effort, Navy will focus on understanding the relationship between sexual assault and other destructive behaviors (e.g., suicide, drug/alcohol abuse, sexual harassment, bullying/hazing, discrimination) that impact Sailors and operational readiness. Navy will develop a comprehensive prevention strategy that addresses the full spectrum of destructive behaviors from the headquarters to the individual unit level.

Leadership

In FY18, Navy is hiring a Highly Qualified Expert (HQE) to serve as the Special Advisor to the Director, 21st Century Sailor Office on the prevention of destructive behaviors which directly impact the readiness and retention of military members. The HQE will advise on primary prevention (approaches that take place before a destructive behavior has occurred to prevent initial perpetration or victimization), secondary prevention (immediate responses after a destructive behavior has reportedly occurred to deal with the short-term consequences of violence), and tertiary prevention (long-term responses after a destructive behavior has occurred to deal with the lasting consequences of violence and treatment interventions). The HQE will advise on policies, programs, practices, goals, courses of action, and assist in aligning resources and effort.

Communications and Engagement

During FY18, Navy will explore LiveSafe's embedded two-way communication using installation Emergency Managers and installation service providers. There is potential for LiveSafe to provide additional communication pathways for installation emergency response personnel, particularly with newly reported Sailors who have not yet established military email accounts. Destructive behavior response personnel will create specialty user groups within LiveSafe to enable communication with collateral duty personnel (e.g., SAPR Victim Advocates) and improve awareness of installation resources, training events, and to push timely training materials to improve prevention programs at each command. Finally, a two-way communication pathway is being added between the Fleet Master Chief, the Fleet Commander, and Sailors on the deck plates, similar to the Commanding Officer's suggestion box, to allow users to pose questions and provide suggestions for process improvement.

"Change the Culture" will continue to be presented in the upcoming year as a part of CPF's Resilient Workshop Summits throughout the Pacific Fleet Area of Responsibility as well as stand-alone presentations at Naval installations worldwide. CPF expects commands which received "Change the Culture" to have a lower rate of destructive behaviors after receiving the presentation. Additionally CPF anticipates improved DEOCS survey results for commands having received the presentation. Continuation of "Change the Culture" as General Military Training will depend upon the assessment of training effectiveness.

Community Involvement

The One Love Program is expected to be presented in various locations throughout the Pacific Fleet in FY18. Navy has partnered with Boston University to conduct a One Love Escalation Study to evaluate the effectiveness of the program. On-site observations, interviews in an operational environment, an academic literature review, and data analysis will be used to support the study. A programmatic assessment will follow to determine its ability to further prevention work, provide a holistic approach, and the feasibility of expanding the program Navy-wide if results are favorable.

Navy anticipates executing Phase II of the Department of Defense (DOD) Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (SAPRO) sponsored Applied Prevention Project (APP) to more accurately describe target populations. Leveraging findings from Phase I, an environmental scan of sexual assault prevention initiatives in the Jacksonville Tri-base region, the goal of Phase II will be to implement an evidence-based sexual assault prevention intervention and measure its effectiveness over time.

Training and Education

Navy will introduce "Full Speed Ahead 2.0" (FSA 2.0) in the upcoming year to help address the prevention of destructive behaviors. The curriculum builds upon the FSA training described earlier to include lessons on the ramifications of social media based misconduct. FSA 2.0 specifically discusses the wrongful distribution of intimate images online, and the impact on those pictured in the images, those posting the images, and the command. "FSA 2.0," like the original Full Speed Ahead training encourages Sailors to conduct an honest self and team assessment; in doing so, Sailors will recognize that Navy culture is the sum total of individual character and actions. The course also emphasizes that dedication to personal betterment, team dynamics grounded in trust and respect, and a “Sailor 24/7” commitment to the Navy’s values yields a culture that is inclusive and empowering for all. Specifically, “FSA 2.0” challenges each Sailor to honestly assess personal, interpersonal, and social media character and conduct by answering and acting on the following:

- How does your character, attitude, and behavior impact others and the functioning of your organization?
- How does your organization’s peer-to-peer and leadership dynamic impact trust, respect, and motivation?
- How do you and your organization use social media, and what are the associated risks and rewards?
- How can we modify personal, interpersonal, and social media behaviors to strengthen overall culture, cohesion, and mission effectiveness?

Navy will distribute Atlantic, a graphic novel jointly created with the Department of Navy (DON) Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (DON SAPRO) and United States Marine Corps. The graphic novel, which targets personnel in the 18-24 year-old age range, addresses numerous topics including sexual assault, consent, and healthy relationships. Atlantic will be distributed in a limited number of hard copies to the Fleet, and as a free download digital e-book. A facilitator's handbook will be provided to guide small group discussions of the novel within work centers and Navy school houses.

Navy is collaborating with DON SAPRO and Fleet partners to develop a Virtual Immersive Training Project (VITP) to target SAPR leadership training for the E6-E9 and O1-O4 populations. Once completed, this project will provide a 3-year progressive learning continuum. The program is an adaptive first-person type training where each decision by the learner leads to different outcomes in the training. Years two and three will build upon the previous years' responses and change scenarios presented to learners accordingly. The program is designed to test the application of SAPR knowledge in a simulated real-time experience and will tailor the experience to meet the participants’ paygrade.

Conclusion

Navy’s efforts in FY18 will reinforce the expectation that every member of the Force foster and uphold an environment of respect, dignity and trust. Setting and adhering to professional behavior and the maintenance of an environment of mutual respect is critical to Navy’s success and will be accomplished through efforts at the institutional, command, small team and individual levels. Every member of the Navy team must be actively engaged to prevent sexual assaults. Leaders at all levels must champion Navy’s prevention efforts. Sailors should support their peers to ensure they stay safe on and off duty. All Sailors deserve, and must expect, a safe and secure work and living environment, and a culture intolerant of destructive behaviors.

2. Goal 2—Victim Assistance & Advocacy—“Deliver consistent and effective advocacy and care for all military Service members or their adult dependents, such that it empowers them to report assaults, promotes recovery, facilitates dignified and respectful treatment, and restores military readiness.”

2.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Victim Assistance & Advocacy goal. (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, p. 7)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant or force-wide changes to how your Military Service addresses the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ this year to improve response to sexual assault? What victim assistance and advocacy initiatives did your Military Service employ with targeted subgroups of your population or with specific locations? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016))
- What are your oversight processes for reviewing D-SAACP credentials, qualifications, continuing education, inappropriate behavior, and revocation of certification, if appropriate? What progress is being made to ensure SAPR personnel meet D-SAACP screening requirements prior to attending your Military Service’s SAPR certification training? What are your procedures for suspending, revoking, or reinstating certification of SARCs and SAPR VAs in accordance with the D-SAACP guidelines? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, Objective 2.1, p. 8 / DoDI 6495.03, “Defense Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP),” (September 10, 2015), Encl 2, para 4c / DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #6, p. 3)
- What efforts is your Military Service utilizing to encourage SARCs and SAPR VAs to renew their certification at a higher level in order to increase the quality of victim assistance providers? Are there any identified challenges that SARCs and SAPR VAs have in obtaining continuing education advanced training, to included training on emerging issues and victim-focused trauma-informed care? What is being done to address these challenges? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, Objective 2.1, p. 8 / DoDI 6495.03, “Defense Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP),” (September 10, 2015), Encl 3, para 3)
- What progress has your Military Service made in collaborating with the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to develop a protocol for routinely communicating the availability of VA resources and benefits to your Service members? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #10, p. 3)
- What progress has your Military Service made in performing a gap analysis between the actual role being performed by SARCs and SAPR VAs in the field and the requirements of DoDI 6495.02 and Military Service regulations to ensure current policies are adequate and appropriate? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #4, p. 3)

- What efforts are underway to strengthen service provider participation in an integrated victim services network of care to effectively integrate SAPR support and victim services (e.g., legal, health, investigations, SARCs, SAPR VAs, Victim Witness Assistance Programs, and IG)? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #9, p. 3)

REQUIRED:

- What metrics or assessment processes are being used to address the effectiveness of victim assistance and advocacy efforts intended to deliver consistent care for all Service members and/or their adult dependents? What is your status in developing indicators for measuring SARCs and SAPR VAs “quality response” in support of D-SAACP? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #7, p. 3)

- What are your procedures for suspending, revoking, and reinstating certification of SARCs and SAPR VAs in accordance with the D-SAACP guidelines? How many SARCs and SAPR VAs in your Military Service received a suspension? A revocation? A reinstatement? (Identify how many SARCs and VAs in each category) (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, Objective 2.1, p. 8 / DoDI 6495.03, “Defense Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP),” (September 10, 2015), Encl 3, para 3)

- How is your Military Service continuing to ensure that both male and female victim input is included in the development of your SAPR policy? (SecDef Memo (May 1, 2014), Improve Reporting for Male Victims, p. 2) / GAO Report 15-284, Actions Needed to Address Sexual Assaults of Male Service Members (March 2015), p. 20

- How is your Military Service improving its response to male victims, to include implementing and monitoring methods to increase reporting of male sexual assault allegations? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, Objective 2.3, Task #1, p. 4)

- What progress is being made to improve victim care services and conduct Case Management Groups at Joint Bases, in Joint Environments, and for the Reserve Components? For the Reserve Components, how are you promoting timely access to Sexual Assault Response Coordinators by members of the National Guard and Reserves? What are your recurring challenges in this area (if any) and how are you accommodating those challenges? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #5, p. 3)

- How many Service member victims requested that a GO/FO review their separation action and how many Service members received the GO/FO review of their separation action? (DoDIs 6495.02, 1332.14 and 1332.30)

- How many Military Protective Orders were issued as a result of an Unrestricted Report (e.g., number issued, number violated) and what steps were taken to improve protections? (DoDI 6495.02, "Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures," (July 7, 2015), Encl 5, para 7)

- How many Service members who reported a sexual assault (if any) had their medical care hindered due to a lack of Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE) kits, timely access to appropriate laboratory testing resources, mental health counseling, or other resources? What actions did your Military Service take to remedy the situation? (NDAA for FY 2006, section 596)

Navy achieves the Victim Assistance and Advocacy end state by maintaining readily available high quality services and support capabilities provided by well-trained personnel. SAPR services are intended to instill confidence and trust, strengthen resilience, and encourage victims to report. This support capability includes Sexual Assault Response Coordinators (SARC), SAPR Victim Advocates (SAPR VA), Deployed Resiliency Counselors (DRC), Chaplains, and medical providers. Navy's response program continues to mature and deliver consistent and quality care and advocacy to Sailors across the Fleet.

Defense Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP)

Commander Navy Installations Command (CNIC) Headquarters (HQ) SAPR released new, standardized initial SAPR VA Training. The updated training provides 40 hours of classroom instruction and incorporates policy updates, best practices in sexual assault prevention and response, and updated activities and exercises to engage participants and ensure SAPR VAs have the knowledge and skills needed to provide quality victim advocacy care. The updated products include the SAPR VA Training Instructor Guide, SAPR VA Training Student Manual, and the SAPR VA Training Modules PowerPoint presentations. In addition, a Pocket Guide was created to serve as a quick reference tool for SAPR VAs when providing sexual assault response.

In an effort to standardize continuing education, a CNIC Refresher Training Library was developed to help SARCs provide ongoing refresher trainings for SAPR VAs. These trainings are pre-approved in accordance with OPNAV 1752.1C and are reviewed by CNIC and Office of Judge Advocate General (OJAG) Criminal Law Division to ensure they accurately state law and policy, and meet Navy messaging requirements. The refresher trainings build SAPR VAs' skills and knowledge, thereby improving victim advocacy and response.

Navy continued to conduct installation SAPR Drills, which ensure that the highest standard of service delivery is provided to victims. The drills help formalize installation testing procedures, response, and capabilities, and identify training needs and close potential gaps in victim services.

In accordance with DoD policy, all SARCs and SAPR VAs are required to complete D-SAACP requirements prior to providing victim advocacy and assistance services. The requirements include screening for the position (an interview and verification of background check), leadership recommendation, and completion of initial training. As part of the D-SAACP certification process, all SARCs and SAPR VAs agree to adhere to the Code of Ethics for victim engagement and advocacy.

SARCs and SAPR VAs are required to renew their D-SAACP certification every two years. A total of 32 Continuing Education Units (CEUs), including two hours of ethics, are required for recertification. The ongoing continuing education training emphasizes compassionate and trauma informed care for victims of sexual violence, and consists of webinars and face-to-face trainings. SARCs or SAPR VAs who do not meet this requirement have their certification suspended and will not be able to provide victim advocacy and assistance services until the requirements are met. For D-SAACP revocation, CNIC HQ SAPR requires installations to follow the written request procedures identified in Department of Defense Instruction (DODI) 6495.03. The written request to de-certify is sent to the National Organization for Victim Assistance (NOVA) and to DOD SAPRO.

Continuing Education

CNIC HQ SAPR continues to provide a variety of training opportunities for SARCs and SAPR VAs. The training enables SARCs and SAPR VAs to gain more knowledge and experience in working with victims of sexual assault, further enhances their skills, and makes them eligible to renew their certification at a higher level. In order to increase their quality of victim assistance, SARCs and SAPR VAs are strongly encouraged to attend webinar trainings and external training opportunities. SARCs and SAPR VAs are informed of upcoming training opportunities through email notification from CNIC HQ SAPR sent via the Regional SARCs (RSARC) and the CNIC HQ bi-monthly newsletter that is distributed to the field and posted on the CNIC SAPR website. CNIC HQ SAPR develops and conducts webinars and trainings that are scheduled at different times to allow maximum participation by Navy Regions worldwide.

Due to the expeditionary nature of operations, Navy has many more uniformed SAPR VAs than the number of reported sexual assaults. This ensures that all Navy units have advocacy support, but may result in some uniformed SAPR VAs not gaining the experience necessary to advance their certification. D-SAACP recertifications have shown that SARCs and civilian SAPR VAs have a higher likelihood of advancing their certification than uniformed SAPR VAs. Uniformed SAPR VAs are encouraged to volunteer with local community sexual assault response centers to obtain the required experience for advanced certification.

Assessment of Victim Assistance Efforts

CNIC HQ SAPR continues to work with the regions on expanding installation evaluation methods including surveys, self-assessments, focus groups, command assessments, and quality assurance reviews. SARC and leadership utilize feedback from DEOCS Surveys, Inspector General (IG) inspections, FFSC certification site visits, regional Sexual Assault Case Management Group (CMG) quality assurance, and SAPR Drills After Action Reports to gauge program deficiencies and progress. In FY17, CNIC HQ SAPR completed site visits to Commander Navy Regions Northwest (CNRNW), Europe, Africa, and Southwest Asia (CNREURAFSWA), and Japan (CNRJ). During those visits, CNIC HQ SAPR conducted focus groups with SAPR VAs, Unit SAPR Points of Contact (SAPR POC), SARC and leadership. Themes of the site visits included regional coordination best practices, SAPR UVA (uniformed and collateral duty) management, the co-advocacy program, primary prevention efforts, the role of unit SAPR POCs, and challenges related to staffing, caseloads, and administrative tasks.

Installation SARC oversees the SAPR VAs under their purview to ensure an integrated response capability and accountability. SARC provides program implementation guidance within their area of responsibility and serve as conduits for information flow to and from CNIC HQ SAPR. SARC serve as the single point of contact to coordinate sexual assault response when a sexual assault is reported. SAPR VAs facilitate care and provide referrals and non-clinical support and advocacy to victims. The Navy SAPR program currently has 102 civilian SARC, 1 Active Duty SARC, 70 civilian SAPR VAs, and over 5,400 SAPR UVAs.

CNIC utilizes the annual installation Case Management Group (CMG) assessment as a means of evaluating the SAPR program. The CMG provides an avenue to assess the quality of care and support being provided to sexual assault victims and also provides a method to review the effectiveness of various resources being provided by SARC and SAPR VAs. FFSCs also administer anonymous quarterly and annual surveys to their clients in order to obtain feedback on the SAPR services rendered. Lastly, FFSC Certification Reviews and CNIC IG-directed reviews are conducted at installations in an effort to measure the effective delivery of SAPR services and compliance with policy at all Navy installations. These assessments help to determine the adequacy and appropriateness of the current policies in the execution of the SAPR program.

Certification Revocation

Reports accusing SAPR personnel of sexual assault, inappropriate behavior, or criminal activity trigger a Commander's Critical Information Requirement (CCIR) and are routed through the Navy chain of command and to the Secretary of Defense. SARC and SAPR VAs who are under investigation or found to have engaged in inappropriate behavior, committed a punitive offense, or violated the code of conduct/ethics have their certification suspended and/or revoked and access to DSAID immediately rescinded. Alleged or suspected criminal activity is reported to NCIS, the individual's commander, and the Human Resources Office (when civilian personnel are involved). The accused SARC, SAPR VA, or SAPR UVA is notified of the allegation and has their ability to perform SAPR duties suspended until the outcome of the pending investigation.

FY17 D-SAACP STATUS

FY17 D-SAACP STATUS
PERSONNEL	SUSPENSION	REVOCATION	REINSTATEMENT	TOTAL
SAPR VA/UVA	1	4	0	5

Joint and Reserve Force Improvements

Service members, regardless of branch of service affiliation and status, have access to SAPR services from any branch of service. In an effort to promote seamless and standardized response, SARCs continue to integrate other Service's SAPR VAs/UVAs onto the installation watch bill and refresher training sessions, discuss joint program measures as a part of the Commanding Officer (CO) Toolkit briefing, and incorporate joint environment issues and Reserve and National Guard Components requirements into their SAPR trainings to better educate other Services tenant commands and Reserve members. At the installation level, Navy SARCs collaborate with other Service representatives on a regular basis and discuss the impact of policy and training on joint environments as part of the ongoing dialogue. The primary goal is to ensure victims receive comprehensive care regardless of Service affiliation and duty status. Navy SARCs meet this goal by participating in the joint base CMGs as well as engaging with the Navy Operational Support Centers (NOSC). Available medical and investigative services vary depending on duty status, but SAPR services are always available. Challenges throughout FY17 included incident data management and metrics, and management of SAPR incidents in joint environments due to conflicting Service SAPR policy implementation.

Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Collaboration

Collaboration with the VA is an ongoing effort to effectively communicate services and benefits to Sailors. The Bureau of Medicine and Surgery (BUMED) is a bridge to VA resources and assists in warm hand-offs to the VA when appropriate, and as requested by the patient.

Policy Development Input

Navy uses the results of the biennial Workplace and Gender Relations Study Active and Reserve (WGRA/R) as well as information from focus groups comprised of male and female victims of sexual assault to help shape and develop SAPR policy and initiatives. Victim feedback from these instruments allows Navy to target outreach and risk reduction activities, identify issues and gaps within policy that need to be improved or developed, and determine which policies are most helpful and effective.

Male Victim Response Improvement

Navy has been actively engaged in the DOD SAPRO led working group on male victim response improvement. The working group has been tasked to develop an implementation strategy for DoD SAPRO's Plan to Prevent and Respond to Sexual Assault of Military Men. Information from a recent Men's Expert Symposium assisted Navy stakeholders in further developing, aligning and implementing more comprehensive outreach, training, prevention, and gender-specific response protocols for male sexual assault victims.

Sailor Separation GO/FO Review

Navy instruction, OPNAVINST 1752.1C, requires a Flag officer review the circumstances of a proposed involuntary separation of a Service member if it occurs within one year of the final disposition of their Unrestricted report of a sexual assault. Navy is not required to track the number of Flag officer reviews.

Military Protective Orders Issued

A total of 264 Military Protective Orders were issued by Navy in FY17 in response to allegations of sexual assault, with no violations reported.

Sexual Assault Forensic Exam (SAFE) Availability

Navy Medicine has no reports of members who reported a sexual assault and had their medical care hindered due to a lack of SAFE kits, timely access to appropriate laboratory testing resources, mental health counseling, or other resources.

2.2 Briefly describe your leadership-approved future plans to deliver consistent and effective advocacy and care for all Service members or their adult dependents.

Navy continues to successfully deliver consistent and effective victim support, response, and reporting options by leveraging training and skill-building opportunities for SAPR personnel and Sailors. The goal is to increase skills and knowledge while ensuring individuals are aware of reporting options, and available victim advocacy and supportive services.

Navy is finalizing a revision of the initial SARC training for release in second quarter of FY18. The updated training will allow opportunities for active learning while also providing a strong foundation for key SARC responsibilities of data and case management, SAPR VA supervision, and SAPR Program Management/assessments. The new SARC training will provide information on primary prevention, including the spectrum of prevention, healthy sexuality/relationships, engaging men in prevention, and active intervention techniques. Additionally, Navy will continue to expand the existing Refresher Training library for the purpose of standardizing and improving the quality of educational resources within the program.

Lastly, CNIC HQ SAPR will continue partnerships across SAPR organizations. Navy will continue to collaborate with SAPR and other Service SAPR stakeholders to share information and drive policy, training, and resourcing such as supporting DOD SAPRO's current training initiatives "Strengthening Military-Civilian Community Partnerships to Respond to Sexual Assault." This training is an interactive 1-day class designed to help community-based sexual assault advocates partner with local military installations to respond effectively to the needs of sexual assault victims in the military. These efforts will facilitate consistent and effective advocacy and care for all Service members or their adult dependents.

3. Goal 3—Investigation—“Sustain a high level of competence in the investigation of adult sexual assault using investigative resources to yield timely results.”

3.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Investigation goal. (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 3 – Investigation, p. 9)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant changes to the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ this year to improve investigation of sexual assault cases? What enhancements have been made to your Military Services’ Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution Capability for MCIOs? (DoDI 5509.19, “Establishment of Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution (SVIP) Capability within the Military Criminal Investigative Organizations (MCIOs)”)
- What continuing efforts are being made to increase collaboration and improve interoperability with civilian law enforcement to include sharing information on Civilian and Military Protective Orders and assuring receipt of civilian case dispositions? (DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (July 7, 2015), Encl 4, para 3g)

REQUIRED:

- What metrics are being used to assess the effectiveness of investigation efforts intended to sustain a high level of competence in the investigation of adult sexual assault? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 3 – Investigation, p. 9)
- What updates have been made to the training of your Military Service MCIO and other DoD law enforcement activity (LEA) resources assigned to conduct an investigation of adult sexual assault? Describe efforts undertaken to provide training and guidance to all first responders to a sexual assault allegation, ensuring the preservation of evidence and witness testimony. (DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (May 24, 2017), Encl 10, para 4p / DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 3 – Investigation, Objective 3.1, Task #1, p. 4 / DoDI 5505.18, “Investigation of Adult Sexual Assault in the Department of Defense,” (March, 22 2017), para 3.3, p. 7)

- What efforts are being made to improve or address turnaround time for evidence sent to the Defense Forensic Science Center (e.g., processing of Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE) kits and other evidence)? (Joint Chiefs of Staff Strategic Direction to the Joint Force on SAPR (May 7, 2012), p. 11)

NCIS continues to provide a high level of competence in the investigation of all reports of sexual assault. Agents are trained and responsive to the needs of victims, interact with Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution (SVIP) partners, coordinate and collaborate, when appropriate, with other Military Criminal Investigative Organizations and local law enforcement to achieve executing timely and thorough investigations.

Force-wide Initiatives and SVIP Capability

NCIS Headquarters has greatly expanded the oversight of all sexual offense investigations and improved the timely communication of the status of the program to all of the field units. During FY17, the NCIS Family and Sexual Violence (F&SV) Program reviewed and evaluated 100% of the Open reports for all of the sexual offense investigations agency-wide. The focus of the reviews was to ensure the initial, time-sensitive steps in the investigative process were completed in a timely fashion and the proper notifications were made to partner organizations in the SVIP Capability team. The NCIS F&SV Program also developed a monthly status report designed for the field office senior management to identify areas of strength and areas for improvement for each office's sex offense investigations. The report also identified agency-wide trends in the investigative process and provided guidance to the field on best practices for addressing challenges in sex offense investigations. NCIS adheres to all provisions of the SVIP Capability, requiring field offices to make the initial notification on all sexual assault, child abuse, and domestic violence cases to the SVIP team within 24 hours of determining an allegation meets the elements of a qualified offense. All SVIP contacts are documented in NCIS investigative reports. NCIS reports lacking proper SVIP documentation are individually identified by the NCIS F&SV program and sent to the field office leadership for immediate corrective action.

Investigation Metrics and Measurements

All NCIS Open reports for investigations of sexual offenses, domestic violence, and child abuse (both physical and sexual) are thoroughly reviewed and measured against a standardized checklist to ensure all time-sensitive investigative tasks are completed expeditiously at the initiation of the investigation. Field offices receive a monthly scorecard showing how effective their offices were in responding to F&SV crimes for that particular month. The reviews also rate the appropriateness of the NCIS response to an allegation; for example, notifying a local law enforcement agency to open a joint investigation or assuming the case as an NCIS lead investigation. The F&SV program conducts a thorough case review of a minimum of 10% of all closed cases every year to evaluate the NCIS investigative response through the entirety of the investigation.

Agent Training Enhancements

NCIS also continues efforts to have all agents who potentially could respond to an incident of sexual assault trained in the NCIS Advanced Adult Sexual Assault Investigator Training Program (AASAITP). Currently, NCIS is on track to have 100% of the agent corps trained in the AASAITP by the end of FY19. This training focuses on the effective response by law enforcement for victims of trauma rather than suspect centered training used in most law enforcement programs. In line with the SVIP Capability, NCIS actively includes SVIP partners from the Judge Advocate General Corps and active duty investigative personnel as attendees at the training. A SARC also presents a block of instruction during this training program, ensuring that responders to incidents across the Department of the Navy are trained to the same standard. During FY17, NCIS HQ hosted a “train the trainer” symposium where F&SV agents from around the agency were provided refresher training in sexual assault investigative techniques and the latest in public law and DOD policy for sex offense investigations. The agents then returned to their home offices to provide the refresher training.

Coordination Improvements with Defense Forensic Science Center

For several years, NCIS has assigned an NCIS forensic consultant agent to serve as the liaison between the Defense Forensic Science Center and NCIS. The forensic consultant is assigned to the lab in Georgia and triages all NCIS submissions to prioritize completion based on the urgency of the cases (e.g. the suspect is in pre-trial confinement and the speedy trial clock is running). NCIS also began submitting all SAFE kits that were collected during the course of the investigation to the lab for analysis regardless of the circumstances of the incident. NCIS field offices are required to submit these kits to the lab immediately upon seizure. By making the submission of each kit mandatory, NCIS will submit the kits in a more timely fashion instead of evaluating each kit to see if it meets the criteria for submission. More timely NCIS submission of kits will reduce the total turnaround time from the time of the examination to the time the laboratory analysis is completed.

3.2 Briefly describe your leadership-approved future plans to sustain a high level of competence in the investigation of adult sexual assault.

NCIS will continue to train all agents in the AASAITP course as well as provide additional refresher and advanced training to agents already working sexual offense investigations. Once 100% of the agent corps completes AASAITP, NCIS will enhance the basic sexual assault investigation training provided to new agents at the NCIS Special Agent Basic Training Program at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center to include the victim centered response training featured in the AASAITP. In this way, all new NCIS agents will arrive at their first assignment with the training required to begin investigating sexual offenses. NCIS will continue to provide advanced training opportunities to F&SV agents to include professional symposiums such as Ending Violence Against Women and through investigative training programs such as the Reid Advanced Interrogation Course.

4. Goal 4—Accountability—“Maintain a high competence in holding alleged offenders appropriately accountable.”

4.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Accountability goal. (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 4 – Accountability, p. 9)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant or force-wide changes to how your Military Service addresses the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ this year to improve legal support to Service members and adult family members who reported a sexual assault? What enhancements have been made to the SAPR training provided to those who are affiliated with the Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution Capability program (paralegals, trial counsel, and victim-witness assistance personnel) for responding to allegations of sexual assault? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 4 – Accountability, Objective 4.1, Task #1, p. 4)
- What are your efforts to ensure SARC, SAPR VA, MCIO, and commander knowledge of recent victim rights and military justice updates? (DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (July 7, 2015), Encl 10, para 7)

REQUIRED:

- What metrics are being used to assess the effectiveness of holding alleged offenders appropriately accountable, to include your Military Service’s metrics for measuring the success of the SVC/VLC program? (SecDef Memo (August 14, 2013), Improving Victim Legal Support, p. 1 / NDAA for FY 2016, section 532 / NDAA for FY 2013, section 573)
- Describe enhancements to the Special Victims’ Counsel (SVC)/ Victims’ Legal Counsel (VLC) program. Describe efforts to plan and fund for these programs in your POM process. (SecDef Memo (August 14, 2013), Improving Victim Legal Support, p. 1 / NDAA for FY 2016, section 532 / NDAA for FY 2013, section 573)
- (NGB) What efforts are being made to reassess the Office of Complex Administrative Investigation’s (OCI) timeliness and resources to determine how to improve the timeliness of processing sexual assault investigations involving members of the Army National Guard, and identify the resources needed to improve the timeliness of these investigations? (GAO Report 17-217, Better Resource Management Needed to Improve Prevention and Response in the Army National Guard and Army Reserve (February 27, 2017), p. 2)
- Has your Military Service experienced any challenges in implementing 10 USC 1565b(b)(3) regarding states laws and confidential disclosures of a sexual assault. (NDAA for FY 2016, section 536 / DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (May 24, 2017), para 4b(3))

Navy continues to improve the level of legal support Judge Advocate General personnel provide to Sailors and their adult family members who reported a sexual assault. Enhancements include expanded communications for Victims' Legal Counsel (VLC) Program, better methods to notify commanders of changes to victim rights and to provide military justice updates, and providing additional training for those who support the Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution Capability program.

Victim Legal Counsel Communications

This year Navy VLC Program continued the issuance of smart phones to all field VLC within the program, with only three (all overseas) out of 32 still awaiting final issuance at the time of this report. All smart phone contracts include data and call ability overseas and include the ability to call, text, e-mail, and FaceTime. These capabilities dramatically enhance communications with existing clients as well as newly reporting victims of sexual offenses. All VLCs report vastly improved ability to serve their clients' interests due to the newly acquired smart phone capabilities.

Commander Support and Notification Enhancements

In order to ensure commanders have current knowledge about victim rights and military justice updates, Naval Justice School (NJS) monitor Congressional SAPR mandates, implementing Executive Orders, DOD/DON SAPR policy changes, and changes made through case law. The NJS Military Justice Cross-Functional Team continually reviewed and updated NJS military justice and SAPR training at all levels of instruction. Training is routinely updated to meet Fleet requirements as part of annual curriculum review, as well as short-term updates to address emergent changes. Training provided by NJS to prospective commanding officers and other senior officer leadership is primarily provided through the Senior Officer Course (SOC), a three-day course offered 19 times in FY17, providing training to approximately 800 US Navy officers. A three-hour block of instruction at the SOC relates exclusively to military justice and scenario-based sexual assault response training, including victim rights. The SOC curriculum is updated annually and as needed throughout the year to reflect any changes in the law and DOD/DON policy. NJS is a member of the Litigation Training and Coordination Council (LTCC) chaired by the Assistant Judge Advocate General for Military Justice and the Chief Judge of the Department of the Navy. The LTCC provides a forum for all Navy and Marine Corps military justice practitioners to provide input into the development of training.

Trial Counsel Assistance Program (TCAP) developed a new course with the coordination of NJS, "Prosecuting Special Victims Crimes, (PSVC)." This 5-day course brought together Air Force, Coast Guard, Marine Corps, and Navy prosecutors, Legalmen and paralegals. The course focused on prosecuting domestic violence, strangulation, child abuse, and child pornography cases. In addition, TCAP was invited by the Department of Justice to assist with their "Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners' Expert Witness Training." The course linked trial counsel (prosecutors) with sexual assault nurse examiners (SANEs) to practice trial advocacy through the direct examination of SANEs, who served as expert witnesses.

SAPR Program Personnel Support Improvements

The OJAG Criminal Law Division continued to provide trainings and materials tailored to specific demographics. The Criminal Law Division created products for commanders and Staff Judge Advocates (SJA) on sexual assault related topics, such as a guide to Military Rule of Evidence 514, and a reference guide for SJAs on sexual assault response that incorporates all relevant requirements and references. The sexual assault response reference was updated in 2017, with an expanded focus on foreign criminal jurisdiction, post-trial matters, appellate Victim and Witness Assistance Program (VWAP) issues, and social media issues. The Criminal Law Division published explanatory materials on military justice updates on an ad hoc basis throughout the year. These materials are distributed to the JAG Corps via email and the Criminal Law Division's Sharepoint site.

The Criminal Law Division continued to co-sponsor an annual two-day course on Sexual Assault Policy for the Staff Judge Advocate. The course provides military justice and SAPR policy updates for SJAs who primarily advise commanders who serve as General Court-Martial Convening Authorities. The Criminal Law Division provided training on sexual assault and military justice updates at the Advanced Staff Judge Advocate Course, and presented on military justice matters relating to sexual assault and appellate VWAP at a joint conference on Integrated Legal Services for Victims.

The Division continued to have a strong relationships with DON SAPRO, OPNAV N17 (Navy 21st Century Sailor Office), Naval Education and Training Command (NETC), and CNIC, and provided legal review of all SAPR training projects and materials (including videos, brochures, and posters), before release to the Fleet. This legal review extends to trainings produced by a third party that are requested for use with a Navy audience, to ensure that all training materials follow applicable legal and policy requirements. The Criminal Law Division and CNIC drafted guidance for creating SAPR training, including a detailed explanation of the review process. The guidance will also provide sample trainings and submission packets.

Lastly the Criminal Law Division worked closely with NETC to develop FSA 2.0. As mentioned in Goal 2 – Prevention, this training builds on the foundational elements of personal accountability, peer engagement and intervention, values-based decision-making, resilience, and leadership articulated in prior trainings. FSA 2.0 includes a vignette and discussion on prevention of and response to social media misconduct, specifically the wrongful distribution of intimate images.

Navy VLCs work closely with Navy SARCs and SAPR VAs in their regions on all aspects of victim support, to include regular training and understanding of the nature and scope of Military Rule of Evidence 514 pertaining to the Victim Advocate - Victim privilege and provide military justice updates as they occur. VLCs also regularly present substantive training at the Navy's Fleet Law Enforcement Training Centers (FLETCs) in multiple locations. FLETCs are tasked with training agents within NCIS and have included VLC presenters since the program's inception in 2013. VLC Program leadership participates in policy level meetings with NCIS, OJAG's Criminal Law Division, and the Marine Corps Victims Legal Counsel Office to address systemic issues between the organizations. In addition, VLC in all locations provide regular training on the VLC Program as well as victim rights to command triads, local installation commanders, SJAs who advise commanders, SARCs, SAPR VAs and Sexual Assault Medical Forensic Examiners (SAMFE), all of whom may be considered first responders for sexual offenses. NCIS, prosecutors, and, when applicable, VLC, work together to enhance victim participation and build confidence in the investigation and military justice process—by engaging all parties throughout the entire process, as appropriate, victims receive constant communication, with less confusion about hand-offs of investigations from Military Criminal Investigative Organizations (MCIO) agent to prosecutors.

TCAP, in coordination with NCIS, teaches two special victim courses. The two courses, AASAITP and Advance Family and Sexual Violence Training Program (AFSVTP), are attended by both NCIS special agents and Navy trial counsel. During these courses TCAP specifically address all of the new changes regarding victim's rights and military justice updates.

Measurement of Accountability

The Criminal Law Division provides legal review of DOD surveys prior to promulgation to the Fleet, such as the WGRA/R survey, which are used to provide insight into the effectiveness of the SAPR program. As detailed in question 5.1 below, the Division is also responsible for the entry and verification of all Navy case dispositions in DSAID.

Navy's VLC program measures success in a variety of ways: at the Navy level, at the program level and at the victim level. On the Navy level, the Navy VLC Program is rigorously inspected on a routine basis by the OJAG IG, to include review of a VLC Self-Assessment Guide completed by each VLC office at the time of inspection, personal interviews with each VLC and support staff member, interviews with VLC Program leadership, and interviews of local SAPR stakeholders such as SARCs, SAPR VAs, and Regional Legal Service Office (RLSO) personnel. At the program level, the VLC program leadership collects a weekly report from each VLC accounting for new clients, appearances at proceedings, travel, results of specific cases, motions and other relevant data. These reports are consolidated and provided to Commander, Naval Legal Service Command (CNLSC) on a weekly basis.

It is through this weekly review of reports from each VLC that leadership is able to monitor trends in legal issues, policy conflicts, or practice trends, as well as the professional health and welfare of each VLC. In addition, CNLSC meets with the Navy VLC Program Chief of Staff by phone on a weekly basis, and often meets with individual VLCs during site visits. At the victim level, the Navy VLC Program conducts an online, anonymous and voluntary survey that all VLC clients are invited to complete at the close of their cases. Victim responses to the survey are exceedingly positive. For example, 100% of clients responding to the survey indicated that they believe their VLC represented their personal interests and maintained their privacy. In addition, 100% of survey respondents indicated they would recommend VLCs to others who have been victims of sexual offenses. Remarkably, the survey comments reflect a satisfaction with VLC representation even when a victim's case did not end as he or she anticipated or desired.

Beginning in November 2016 and throughout FY17, the Office of the Secretary of Defense's Office of General Counsel (OSD OGC) required quarterly reports from all service VLC/Special Victim Counsel (SVC) programs and instituted a quarterly meeting of all service VLC/SVC program leadership, known as the Interservice Coordination Committee (ICC). The ICC is also attended by a representative of OSD OGC. The Navy VLC Program submitted detailed quarterly reports via the Judge Advocate General of the Navy and Navy VLC Program leadership attended all ICC meetings.

The Navy provided effective defense representation of eligible Armed Forces personnel through four Defense Service Offices (DSO) in Norfolk, Washington D.C., San Diego, and Yokosuka, Japan, with several detachments and branch offices in the United States and around the world. The DSO enterprise utilizes a SharePoint data collection system to assess case resolutions of all kinds. In addition, weekly updates are provided to the Chief of Staff, Defense Service Offices and the Defense Counsel Assistance Program (DCAP). This provides an opportunity for senior leadership to review and assess the process by which our clients navigate the military justice system as the case moves forward to resolution.

TCAP inspects the Navy's prosecution offices during the course of their annual TCAP Mobile Training Teams, as well as during the NLSC IG's inspection, to ensure prosecution offices are in compliance with SAPR requirements. Trial counsel manage metrics via an internal tracking system that permits caseload evaluation at the regional and individual counsel level.

Victims' Legal Counsel Program Enhancements

In addition to the provision of smart phones to Navy VLC, the Navy VLC Program contracted for local counsel in Bahrain and added one billet in Sigonella, Italy where a need was identified. This billet was filled in June 2017, bringing the total Navy VLC billets to 33 located at 25 installations worldwide.

It was identified prior to FY17 that within the Bahraini court system, victims' rights are recognized. However, local Navy VLC were not permitted to represent clients in Bahraini court for any purpose (including giving a preliminary statement) so in cases against foreign national offenders (where the military has no jurisdiction), victims were not able to effectively exercise their rights often resulting in charges against alleged offenders to be dropped. After research into this issue, the Navy VLC Program executed a contract with a local Bahraini law firm solely for the purpose of representing victims of sexual offenses in the Bahraini court system. FY17 was the first full year of this contract, which has since been extended for another year, and the result thus far is that all eligible victims of sexual offenses allegedly perpetrated by foreign nationals in Bahrain now have the ability to fully exercise their rights in court.

The Navy VLC Program Chief of Staff is in regular contact with the Comptroller for the Office of the Judge Advocate General of the Navy, to include routine conversations regarding the Program Objectives Memorandum (POM) process. Expenses related to program enhancements such as provision of smart phones to all VLC, contracting a local counsel in Bahrain, and any billet additions or changes are all included in POM planning with the Comptroller who then represents Navy VLC Program requirements during the POM process each year.

Navy has experienced no challenges in implementing 10 USC 1565b(b)(3) regarding states laws and confidential disclosures of a sexual assault.

4.2 Briefly describe your leadership-approved future plans to maintain a high competence in holding alleged offenders appropriately accountable.

The Criminal Law Division, working as the Judge Advocate General's representative on the Joint Service Committee on Military Justice (JSC), has diligently protected the accused's due process rights in revisions to the Rules for Courts-Martial and Uniform Code of Military Justice. The JSC is in the process of revising the Manual for Courts-Martial for implementation of the Military Justice Act of 2016. Members of the Division are also currently drafting an instruction to cover VWAP at the appellate level, and are conducting notifications to the victims on the status of cases under appellate review, or with appellate review completed from March 2016 to the present. Additionally, a permanent hire of a civilian employee to exclusively manage appellate VWAP issues is pending.

5. Goal 5—Assessment—“Effectively measure, analyze, assess, and report SAPR Program progress to improve effectiveness.”

5.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Assessment goal. (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 5 – Assessment, p. 10)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant or force-wide changes to how your Military Service addresses the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ to ensure the quality, reliability, and validity of data collected in the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID)? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 5 – Assessment, Objective 5.1, p. 10 / DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (May 24, 2017), Encl 2, para 6ad)
- What transition policies are in place for incoming personnel to ensure Service member sponsorship and unit integration into a chain of command? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 5 – Assessment, Objective 5.1, Task 8, p. 4)

REQUIRED:

- What are your efforts to enhance SAPR Program oversight activities, to include the use of recent surveys (e.g., WGRA and MIJES) and insights from the Government Accountability Office, advisory committees, internal inspections, and feedback from enlisted and officer trainees to improve your programs and services? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021, (December 1, 2016), Objective 5.2, p. 10 / DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 5 – Assessment, Objective 5.1, Tasks #2 & #6, p. 4)
- What policy and procedures are in place to fulfill the 50-year retention of DD Form 2910 (Victim Reporting Preference Statement) and DD Form 2911 (DoD Sexual Assault Forensic Examination Report) regardless of whether the Service member filed a Restricted or Unrestricted Report? (NDAA for FY 2014, section 1723 / DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (May 24, 2017), para 4u)
- What policy and procedures are in place to implement minimum qualification standards to be selected, trained, and certified as a SAPR Program Manager? (NDAA for FY 2014, section 1725 / Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness Memorandum, “Certification Standards for Department of Defense Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Program Managers,” (March 10, 2015))

Continuous assessment of Navy SAPR programs and policies is critical in determining if these efforts are achieving the desired outcome of command cultures and climates where sexual assault and associated behaviors are not tolerated. Navy strives for responsive, meaningful, and accurate systems of measurement and evaluation in every aspect of the SAPR program. Navy draws on authoritative data from sexual assault reports, survey instruments, focus group discussions, and other measures to effectively evaluate the SAPR program and inform strategy and policies.

DSAID Data Validations

Navy SAPR stakeholders continue to collaborate on efforts to ensure the quality, reliability, and validity of data collected in DSAID. This information allows for accurate trend analysis, helping tailor effective and efficient initiatives.

CNIC HQ SAPR works with Regional and Installation SARCs to ensure all sexual assault reports are recorded in DSAID with a 0% data entry error rate. This is accomplished through use of DSAID checklists, monthly DSAID Quality Assurance (QA) reports, and ongoing RSARC oversight. These tools identify gaps and inconsistencies in the data entry process and allow for quick correction of data errors and remediation of improperly executed processes. Additionally, RSARC review of data integrity and approval is required to close or transfer all DSAID cases. CNIC HQ SAPR provides updated policy and guidance to the Regions, and responds to SARC programmatic and technical questions.

Judge Advocates from OJAG's Criminal Law Division are responsible for data input in the DSAID Legal Officer module. Their data input responsibilities are primarily to input and validate legal dispositions of all Unrestricted Reports of sexual assault. These Legal Officers coordinate with NCIS and CNIC throughout the year for year-end data analysis. If additional information is required, Legal Officers will reach out to the command, NCIS, CNIC, or the cognizant RLSO or Staff Judge Advocate to obtain further case information.

The result of these collaborative efforts is that information entered into DSAID is accurate, processes are timely and appropriate, and the responsibility for maintaining a reliable database is appropriately shared amongst key players.

Transition Policies

Locally executed command sponsorship programs provide incoming personnel with meaningful pre-arrival communication and assistance throughout the transition process. Newly reporting personnel are given local area information and a peer sponsor before moving to the area. The sponsorship program ensures the new member is rapidly integrated into the command upon check-in and has access to the chain of command in the event a question or problem arises.

Sponsors make initial contact with and escort new members in and around the command, ensuring the new member is introduced to their immediate supervisor and SAPR personnel. The sponsor remains engaged to ensure basic needs are taken care of while the member adjusts to the new organization. Additional one-on-one opportunities also assist the new member with unit integration. Even after check-in, on-going mentorship programs target at-risk populations, including junior officers and enlisted members, for opportunities to interact and learn from more senior leadership.

Efforts to Enhance Oversight Activities

Navy leverages information from the WGRA/R surveys, site visit reports from Naval Inspector General (NAVINSGEN) and other inspection teams, and feedback from oversight visits to various fleet locations to improve SAPR policies, programs and activities. As addressed in the Prevention Goal, Navy's fundamental means to measure the success of its SAPR program is through the biennial DOD WGRA/R which estimates the prevalence of sexual assaults across the Navy.

Navy also utilizes the DEOCS to assess shared perceptions about equal opportunity, SAPR, and organizational effectiveness. DEOCS is used as a management tool to assess aspects of command organization and efficiency. These surveys provide leadership with anonymous, direct feedback from all unit personnel. Local commanders can assess their command climate in comparison with Navy and DOD averages, and take appropriate action as necessary to address specific areas of concern. Navy uses this information to continuously assess the effectiveness of policy and training initiatives, and inform updates to activities or training.

The OJAG Criminal Law Division also participates in, and provides responses to request for information from advisory committees, such as the Judicial Proceedings Panel (JPP) and the Defense Advisory Committee on Investigations Prosecution, and Defense of Sexual Assault Cases in the Armed Forces (DAC-IPAD). Division personnel provided substantive input to the JPP Report on Sexual Assault Investigations in the Military. Criminal Law Division staff also provided review and advice to OPNAV N172 as they developed and executed focus groups in Norfolk and San Diego on expedited transfers. They are currently working with OPNAV N172 to incorporate the lessons learned from those focus groups into updates to instruction (e.g., OPNAVINST 1752.1C) and related training materials.

DD Form 2910/2911 Retention

Navy executed records retention requirements in accordance with FY14 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA). In accordance with OPNAVINST 1752.1C, SARCs will upload the Department of Defense (DD) Form 2910 Victim Reporting Preference Statement in unrestricted reports of sexual assault into DSAID where it must remain for 50 years. For restricted cases a hard copy of the DD Form 2910 will be maintained in a two-lock, protected location for 50 years. Hard copies of DD Form 2910s for Unrestricted Reports are not maintained outside of DSAID.

As required, DD Form 2911 DOD SAFE Report is collected by NCIS investigative personnel following a victim's SAFE. The form is a required exhibit in the NCIS report of investigation, which, by policy, is retained for 50 years from the date the investigation is closed. NCIS considers all Restricted Reports as unsolved; therefore, SAFE kits are retained indefinitely. SARCs are not responsible for maintaining copies of the DD Form 2911.

NCIS further ensures agency wide compliance by issuing internal policy informing NCIS personnel of the DODI 5505.18 requirements involving records retention and inclusion of DD Form 2911. NCIS employs Program Support Assistants who are internally trained on records retention regulations. They are specifically trained on DOD standards enumerated within NCIS policy chapter "File Retention and Disposal of Closed Investigations, Operations, Sources and Security Clearance Adjudication Cases." The NCIS HQ Records Management Division is responsible for the physical retention of NCIS investigative records.

SAPR Program Manager Requirements

Navy has established and implemented qualification standards for all individuals designated as a SAPR Program Manager in accordance with Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness Memorandum dated 10 March 2015. In accordance with OPNAVINST 1752.1C, commanders and Commanding Officers (CO) shall ensure that, if assigned, SAPR Program Managers (SAPR PM) shall:

- a. Be a service member or DOD civilian employee experienced in developing policy, or program management and execution. It is highly recommended that SAPR PMs also have experience working with sexual assault or domestic violence prevention and response programs. SAPR PMs within the Navy will not work directly with sexual assault victims.
- b. Meet all standards for selection and training as prescribed by SECNAVINST 1752.4B. At a minimum, Navy SAPR Program Managers (PM) must complete the 40 hour National Advocate Credentialing Program approved Navy SARC training within the first 90 days of being assigned the position.
- c. Obtain a letter of recommendation written from their current commander or CO certifying the completion of required training and suitability for assignment as a SAPR PM.

5.2 Describe your leadership-approved future plans for effectively measuring, analyzing, assessing, and reporting SAPR program progress to improve effectiveness.

Navy will continue analyzing data and programs at all levels in order to implement policies and procedures to improve program effectiveness. Beyond efforts previously mentioned in Goals 1 through 4, additional efforts include:

- CNIC HQ SAPR will work with Regions to analyze data and programs in order to implement policies and procedures that promote safety and encourage reporting. The SAPR staff will continue to perform monthly DSAID audits, telephone audits at all times throughout the day and week, and site visits to ensure that Regions are adhering to policies and procedures. Regions will also use feedback from Command Climate Assessment questions, surveys, IG inspections, DON SAPRO visits, FFSC Certification reviews, and bi-annual installation SAPR Drills to support this process.
- To assist in assessing investigative and accountability activities, the Navy Justice Information System (NJIS), a web-based application for the DON criminal/military justice communities, including law enforcement, criminal investigations, command actions, judicial actions, and corrections will be rolled out in 2018. NJIS will be an integrated “cradle-to-grave” DON information system for reporting data ranging from an initial incident to the details of investigation, prosecution, and confinement.
- NJIS has a module designed for VLC which will allow each VLC to track their cases and Program leadership to track and review detailed information regarding progress of the VLC Program. Additionally, NJIS will be used to document court-martial and non-judicial punishments and track the review process of the Navy and Marine Corps appellate leave/apellate review activities.
- BUMED implemented and deployed a dashboard that provides Military Treatment Facility leadership with standardized information and data allowing them to identify and monitor trends within their command and larger AORs. This tool, which has been implemented across Navy Medicine, has been instrumental in allowing leaders to identify, assess, and measure specific trends or medical intervention effectiveness that were previously unknown or not readily available.

These assessment efforts assist in collecting and analyzing data to measure and report the impact of Navy SAPR programs and to drive adjustments to prevention and response efforts. These assessments support Navy's ability to continually improve overall command culture, and set conditions to prevent, respond to, or intervene in destructive behaviors.

6. Core Functions: Communication and Policy

6.1 Provide a brief summary for new or expanded efforts taken in FY17 on the following:

- How does your Military Service publicize the sexual assault restricted and unrestricted reporting options to your Service members and adult dependents? (DoDI 6495.02, "Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures," (May 24, 2017), Encl 4)
- How are commanders being held accountable for the climate of their units? What actions (both positive and negative) are taken by senior commanders to document the subordinate commander's success or failure in establishing and maintaining a supportive command climate? (SecDef Memo (May 6, 2013), Enhancing Commander Accountability, p. 2)

REQUIRED:

- How does your Military Service publicize to your Service members the different individuals and organizations available (i.e., SARCs, VAs, SVC/VLCs, command, IG, MCIO, law enforcement, etc.) to assist them in addressing sexual assault-related retaliation? (DoD Retaliation Prevention and Response Implementation Plan (January 2017), p. 11)
- How does your Military Service disseminate information to first responders, uniformed witnesses, and bystanders on the protections available to them if they are retaliated against for providing assistance to sexual assault victims? (DoD Retaliation Prevention and Response Implementation Plan (January 2017), p. 11)

Navy continues to develop and improve SAPR policy in accordance with programmatic changes directed by Congress, the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of the Navy and Navy leadership. Navy ensures Fleet-wide communication of current and changing policies, programs and practices to include, publicizing victim reporting options, and resources to address retaliation related to reporting a sexual assault.

Communication of Reporting Options

SAPR reporting options were publicized throughout Navy commands and installations through posters, brochures, electronic media, Plans of the Day/Week/ Month, and events throughout the year. Additional methods of communicating SAPR reporting options include:

- Use of CNIC HQ SAPR and Navy SAPR webpages to provide SAPR information to victims, bystanders, friends and family, and commands. The webpages also provide victims with an understanding of the program's crisis response services, including the different reporting options, tools to prevent a sexual assault, and information on available services to victims.
- Overseas, local Armed Forces Network radio and television are used to broadcast SAPR commercials and discussions with commanders, Command Master Chiefs (CMC), and SARCs.
- Laminated, wallet-sized cards are disseminated to provide individuals quick reference to reporting options as well as contact information for local SAPR resource and the DOD Safe Helpline.
- Key SAPR personnel and available resources are highlighted during annual training, Indoctrinations and SAPR stand-downs.
- CNIC HQ SAPR developed various marketing materials in order to publicize available SAPR resources. During the 2017 Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month (SAAPM), the CNIC HQ SAPR marketing team developed brochures, posters, and table tents that were distributed to installations across the Navy.
- In addition to their duties directly representing and advocating for their clients, Navy VLC performed regular outreach within their Areas of Responsibility in order to publicize the VLC Program as well as victims' rights and reporting options. During FY17, Navy VLC conducted more than 580 presentations worldwide, briefing almost 30,000 individuals throughout their communities including military and civilian employees, dependents, command representatives, other SAPR stakeholders, Midshipmen at the United States Naval Academy, Service members and dependents reporting to new duty stations, and students at enlisted education centers such as the Basic Enlisted Submarine School.

Sexual Assault Related Retaliation

Navy continues to address retaliatory behavior by encouraging Sailors to report any incidents and creating an environment free of such conduct. Navy efforts to post and disseminate information on methods for reporting allegations of retaliation as a result of making a report of sexual assault, serving as a first responder, witness, or an individual who intervened, are similar to those used to promote the SAPR program and involve a variety of media designed to reach the widest audience possible. Individuals and services available include SARCs, SAPR VAs, VLCs, NAVINSGEN, NCIS and local base law enforcement.

Command leadership and SAPR personnel ensure compliance with all DOD, DON, and Navy instructions and policies relating to retaliation. Victims are monitored by SARCs, SAPR VAs, and SAPR UVAs to determine if there were instances of retaliatory behavior directed against them and assist the victim in contacting the VLC or appropriate organization to receive help and make a report. Commanding Officers reinforced, through

All-Hands calls and continued training, a culture and policy of eliminating destructive behaviors and negative victim treatment. Any feedback received from a victim regarding care or retaliation is discussed with command leadership to ensure that concerns are immediately addressed and corrective actions put in place and communicated with the wider command audience.

Navy VLCs engage directly with victims and their chain of command to assert their client's rights and interests across a range of issues, including retaliation. This may include matters of career impact, duty section status, social ostracism, command retaliation, and other concerns expressed by a victim meriting engagement with that victim's command. VLCs base their interactions with commands on the client's consent, input, and desires. Legal advice, support and advocacy given by VLC to victims reporting a sexual offense or related incidences of retaliation fosters their client's trust, faith, and confidence in the Navy justice process.

Navy VLC also ensure a robust discussion of resources available in cases of retaliation and social ostracism when presenting to first responders (to include MCIOs, SJAs, Trial Counsels, command representatives, and medical personnel) in order to ensure current, thorough, and consistent information is available and provided to all impacted personnel throughout the reporting process.

Allegations of sexual assault related retaliation were actively reviewed by NCIS and discussed at the monthly CMG meetings to understand the nature of the allegation as well as command actions to address and end the behavior. Timely and thorough CMG follow-up with victims, first responders, and any others affected by retaliatory behavior by their CO, VLC, SARC, or SAPR VA demonstrate command concern and improves trust.

Retaliation was also discussed in quarterly SAPR Executive Steering Committee meetings hosted by the Fleets and in Fleet Workshops to counter destructive behaviors. Information from these various meetings and interactions was taken back to commands for dissemination and action, where required.

Command Climate Accountability

Efforts by senior commanders to hold subordinate commanders accountable to establish and maintain a supportive command climate were ongoing across the Navy as well. Commanding Officers are evaluated on the extent to which they have or have not established a command climate where allegations of sexual assault are properly managed and fairly evaluated, and a victim of sexual assault can report the assault without fear of reprisal or retaliation. The data from command climate surveys inform and support this evaluation.

Navy requires all commanding officers and officers-in-charge to conduct a command climate survey within 90 days after assuming command, with annual follow-up assessments during their command tenure. Survey outcomes are provided to the Immediate Superior in Command (ISIC) and the commanders for full visibility. The ISIC and commander review and discuss the survey results and proposed way forward to address areas of concern. Leaders are expected to fully address input provided in command climate surveys, as well as feedback provided by command assessment team focus groups, interviews, records reviews, and assessors' observations.

The Navy Performance Evaluation System, BUPERSINST 1610.10D CH-1 requires that commanders, commanding officers and officers-in-charge fitness reports include whether or not a command climate assessments was conducted per Navy Equal Opportunity policy. Failure to conduct the command climate assessment will be clearly documented by the reporting senior.

7. NDAA Requirements - Provide your Military Service's status on the following NDAA for FY 2017 requirements. If the provision has been implemented, indicate "Completed," provide the implementation date, and a short explanation (150 words or less) of the action taken. If the provision has not been implemented, indicate "In Progress," provide the projected completion date, and a short update (150 words or less) of the current status. All are required.

7.1 Discharge review board (Board of Correction of Military Records (BCMR)) guidance on claims asserting post-traumatic stress disorder or traumatic brain injury in connection with combat or sexual trauma as a basis for review of discharge.

Additionally, describe BCMR procedures for the following requirements:

- How does a former Service member present medical evidence from the Secretary of Veterans Affairs or civilian health care provider to the BCMR, and how does the BCMR review and use that evidence?
- Method of presentation: Is the review conducted in person with the former Service member, by file review, or both? If not in-person, does the former Service member have the option to request an in-person meeting or to be represented by counsel?
- What steps are taken to review (with liberal consideration to the former Service member) how post-traumatic stress disorder or traumatic brain injury potentially contributed to the circumstances resulting in a discharge of a lesser characterization?

(NDAA for FY 2017, section 535)

Completed, August 31, 2017.

The Board of Corrections for Naval Records (BCNR) completed a 2 day training workshop (Aug 1-2 2017) for Board members and staff with an emphasis on providing liberal consideration when reviewing discharge cases where the petitioner claims post-traumatic stress disorder, traumatic brain injury in connection with combat, sexual trauma or any mental health issue as a factor in the discharge. In addition to other presentations by psychiatrists and SAPRO, a staff member of OUSD P&R briefed the soon to be published "Clarifying Guidance to Military Discharge Review Boards and Boards for Correction of Military/Naval Records Considering Requests by Veterans for Modification of their Discharge Due to Mental Health Conditions, Sexual Assault, or Sexual Harassment."

- When applying for a change to the characterization, narrative reason, or reenlistment code of a discharge, the petitioner is responsible for submitting any and all documentation available to support their contention. If no documentation is submitted and the petitioner service record does not support contentions, the BCNR notifies the member in writing, and requests submission of any information the member has, such as medical documentation. The BCNR also requests personnel and medical records on these individuals from the location that the service or medical record has been archived (generally Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) or National Personnel Records Center). BCNR does not request DVA records outside the petitioner's active service. Once available documentation is collected, the BCNR requests an advisory opinion from a clinical psychologist or psychiatrist.
- The DD 149 (Application for Correction of Military Record) form includes a block for the petitioner to indicate whether they want a personal appearance. If the petitioner requests a personal appearance, the Board members will vote on whether a personal appearance is necessary.
- All information, to include the advisory opinion and any rebuttals to the advisory opinion, if submitted, are provided in writing and verbally briefed to the BCNR Board Members. The examiner and Board members review all relevant OSD published guidance for each case to ensure all steps are followed and liberal consideration is provided for each individual case.

7.2 Professional military justice career development for judge advocates.

Additionally, provide comments on the following:

- What metrics are used to assess your Military Service Pilot Program?
- Did your Military Service develop a system for “military justice experience designators” or “skill identifiers?” (section 542(b))
- Does your Pilot Program assess “other matters related to professional military justice development?” If so, please describe. (section 542(c)(2))
(NDAA for FY 2017, section 542)

Completed, May 3, 2007.

The Navy has an established Military Justice Litigation Career Track. The Career Track recruits junior officers with a demonstrated aptitude for criminal litigation, selects track officers at a competitive board, and purposefully develops the talent and skills of those officers through a deliberate assignment plan and a robust training program. The Career Track program ensures that the Navy has military justice practitioners capable of prosecuting and defending complex cases in military courts-martial, as envisioned by Sec 542(c).

Health of the Career Track is assessed through the following metrics:

- Number of applications to the annual selection board (i.e., are we attracting enough junior officers);
- Strength of applications (i.e., are we recruiting the right officers);
- Retention of Career Track officers (i.e., are we retaining the talent that we've identified and trained); and,
- Promotion of Career Track officers (i.e., are these officers selecting for promotion commensurate with their non-Track peers).

Designations have been established within the MJLCT:

- SPECIALIST I - entry point. Normally eligible after 4th year of active duty.
- SPECIALIST II - obtained after receiving additional military justice litigation experience. Normally eligible after 5 years as SPECIALIST I.
- EXPERT - obtained after receiving significant additional military justice litigation experience as well as demonstrated leadership of junior judge advocates. Normally eligible after 5 years as SPECIALIST II.

The MJLCT continually monitors and assesses professional military justice development through the following:

- Application for Advancement to SPECIALIST II and EXPERT;
- Career Assignment Policy;
- Assignment to Disassociated Tours (non-litigation tours); and
- Litigation Training Curriculum Committee (LTCC); and,
- Navy Justice School.

7.3 Specialized training for Military Service Inspector General and other personnel who investigate claims of retaliation associated with sexual harassment and sexual assault reports.

Provide brief comments on the following:

- What training do your Military Service Inspector General personnel and other personnel who investigate claims of retaliation receive on the nature and consequences of retaliation for both sexual harassment and sexual assault?

Briefly describe the training addressing the "nature and consequences of sexual assault trauma.

- Which personnel in your Military Service receive this training and how is it conducted?

- Who does the intake of the retaliation complaint/allegation for sexual harassment? for sexual assault?

- Who investigates the complaint/allegation of retaliation for sexual harassment? for sexual assault? (NDAA for FY 2017, section 546)

Completed, September 30, 2017.

The Department of Defense Administrative Investigations Basic Whistleblower Reprisal Investigator Course and the Navy Military Whistleblower Course provide investigative training on claims of retaliation for reporting sexual harassment and/or sexual assault allegations. Although our training does not specifically address the “nature and consequences of sexual assault trauma,” the training does provide Investigators with knowledge and information to ensure victims receive the appropriate contact for redress to include the Department of the Navy Sexual Assault Response Coordinator, and/or Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS).

U.S. Military and Department of Defense Civilians who serve in Naval Inspector General billets receive this training. The training is conducted by Department of Defense Inspector General Trainers in a four day classroom setting. Additionally, Navy Basic and Advanced Military Whistleblower Course are each five days in length and are scheduled on a quarterly basis.

Intake for complaints of military whistleblower retaliation for reporting sexual harassment and/or sexual assault is conducted by all Naval Inspector General Investigators.

Naval Inspectors General conduct inquiries and/or investigations into allegations of retaliation in cases involving reports of sexual assault and sexual harassment in accordance with 10 U.S.C. Code § 1034 Protected Communications; Prohibition of Retaliatory Personnel Actions. Claims of personnel actions are submitted to Department of Defense, Whistleblower Reprisal Investigations for notification and decision to investigate. Complaints of harassment are processed outside of Whistleblower Reprisal channels by our Hotline investigators. Sexual harassment matters involving criminal misconduct are referred to NCIS. Sexual assault allegations are also reported to the command’s sexual assault program manager or equivalent and NCIS.

7.4 Notification to complainants of the resolution of investigations into retaliation.

Additionally, provide your Military Service policy or practice on the following:

- Who notifies the sexual harassment complainant of the resolution of a retaliation investigation? What is the timeframe between resolution and notification to the complainant? Identify the Military Service authority directing the action.
- Who notifies the victim of retaliation relating to a sexual assault of the resolution of a retaliation investigation? What is the timeframe between resolution and notification to the retaliation victim? Identify the Military Service authority directing the action.
- In instances of retaliation relating to sexual assault, is the retaliation allegation reported to the SAPR Case Management Group? If so, are these retaliation allegations tracked until resolution? (NDAA for FY 2017, section 547)

Completed, September 30, 2017.

NCIS does not investigate complaints of sexual harassment.

NCIS will initiate separate investigations if additional allegations of criminal activity against a victim and/or a witness as a result of providing information regarding a sexual assault are identified. While NCIS will investigate all criminal activity done in retaliation to a sexual assault victim and/or witness regardless of the severity of the criminal act, NCIS will refer allegations of reprisal, restriction, maltreatment, and ostracism to the appropriate DoD component with investigative authority. In NCIS investigations of retaliation, the NCIS case agent will provide an investigative update to the victim at a minimum of every 30 days during the pendency of the investigation. Once the active investigation is complete and the case is submitted for prosecutorial determination, the trial counsel assumes the responsibility for providing the updates to the victim.

NCIS will report all NCIS retaliation investigations related to a sexual assault case to the SAPR Case Management Group. NCIS tracks all NCIS retaliation investigations until the final disposition in the case.

8. Analytics Discussion

8.1 Military Services/NGB*: provide an analytic discussion (1,000 words or less) of your Statistical Report of reported sexual assault cases from the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID). Required elements included on this template are information on Unrestricted Reports; Restricted Reports; service referrals for victims alleging sexual assault; and case synopses of completed investigations.

NGB should provide comments based on its available information and data.

This section must briefly address each of the following:

- Notable changes in the data over time
- Insight or suspected reasons for noted changes, or lack of change, in data
- The application of insights from data analyses for programmatic planning, oversight, and/or research
- Total number of Sexual Assaults (Restricted Reports and Unrestricted Reports) over time (since FY 2008) (Metric #12)
- The number of sexual assault investigations completed by the MCIO in the FY and the corresponding mean and median investigation length. Case open date can be in any year, but the close date must be by the end of the FY (Metric # 5)
- The number of subjects with victims who declined to participate in the military justice process (Metric #8)
- Command action for military subjects under DoD legal authority (to be captured using the most serious crime investigated, comparing penetration to contact crimes) (Non-Metric #1)
- Sexual assault court-martial outcomes (to be captured using the most serious crime charged, comparing penetration to contact crimes) (Non- Metric #2)
- Summary of referral data – Unrestricted and Restricted Reports - either referrals received from other sources or referrals made to other sources (e.g., medical/mental health, command, criminal investigation/security services, legal, civilian or VA authorities, etc.)
- Any other information relating to sexual assault case data

I. Overview

In FY17 there were 1,585 reports of sexual assault in the Navy, representing a 9.3% increase from FY16 (1,450). The sustained increase in reporting suggests that the Navy is making progress on closing the gap between reporting and prevalence of sexual assault. While these results are a favorable indicator, much work remains in understanding, preventing, and responding to this destructive behavior.

II. Unrestricted Reports

In FY17 there were 1,191 unrestricted reports, representing a 9.3% increase from FY16 (1,090), continuing the upward trend that started in FY11. Unrestricted Reporting triggers command notification, initiates a MCIO investigation and provides an opportunity to hold offenders appropriately accountable, in addition to giving victims access to support and advocacy services.

Service Member on Service Member

Navy Service member on Service member (or “blue-on-blue”) allegations of sexual assault represented 47.9% (570 of 1,191) of Unrestricted Reports compared to 49.7% (542 of 1,090) in FY16. There was a 22.2% increase in blue-on-blue penetrating allegations (270 compared to 221 in FY16) and a 7.8% decrease in blue-on-blue contact allegations (272 compared to 295 in FY16).

Male Victim Reporting

Male victims continue to be an area of strategic focus for the Navy SAPR program and the reporting by this population improved in FY17. Unrestricted Reports made by male victims increased by 15.9% (219 compared to 189 in FY16) and they accounted for a slightly larger percentage of unrestricted reports than in FY16 (18.4% compared to 17.3%).

Victims in Initial Unrestricted Reports (by Gender)
Fiscal Year (FY)	Males	Females	Total
FY17	219	829	1,048
FY16	189	737	926
FY15	156	725	881

Expedited transfers

In FY17, there were 305 requests for expedited transfers made by Service member victims (compared to 306 in FY16). Of these, 27 were unit/duty requests and 278 were installation requests (compared to 19 unit/duty and 287 installation requests in FY16). Eight of those requests were denied for the following reasons: four were not credible; one was pending completion of NCIS investigation to determine credibility; one where the Service member was sent TAD instead; one where Service member didn't give a sufficient reason for the request due to length of time since report and unknown alleged perpetrator; and one where the Service member was pending separation from the Navy.

Expedited Transfer Requests
Fiscal Year (FY)	Requested	Approved	Denied	Total SVM Initial Unrestricted Reports
FY17	305	297	8	1,048
FY16	306	299	7	926
FY15	236	233	4	881

Military Protective Orders (MPO)

In FY17, there were 277 MPOs issued, representing a 16.9% increase from FY16 (237). No MPO violations were reported during this fiscal year.

III. Restricted Reports

In FY17 there were 557 Restricted Reports of sexual assault in the Navy, representing a 16.5% increase from FY16 (478). Of those, 163 or 29.3% were converted to Unrestricted Reports (compared to 118 or 24.7% in FY16), resulting in 394 reports remaining restricted (compared to 360 in FY16). Restricted Reports enable a victim to receive support services, without command notification or initiation of an investigation. SARCs do not report the types of offenses for Restricted Reports.

IV. Victims Support Services

Unrestricted Reports

In FY17, there were 5,902 support service referrals for victims who made unrestricted reports, representing a 41.2% increase from FY16 (4,181). Of those referrals, 5,468 or 92.6% were for military resources and 434 or 7.4% were for civilian resources.

The top three military resources requested by victims were: victim advocate (1,362), legal (1,202), and mental health (964) referrals. These military resource referrals accounted for 64.5% of all requests made in this category. Additionally, DoD Safe Helpline referrals increased by 47.3% (408 compared to 277 in FY16).

The top three civilian resources requested by victims were: victim advocate (136), other (99), and rape crisis center (86) referrals, and they accounted for 74.0% of all requests made in this category.

Restricted Reports

In FY17, there were 1,938 support service referrals for victims who made restricted reports representing a 36.7% increase from FY16 (1,418). Of those referrals, 1,788 or 92.3% were for military resources and 150 or 8.4% were for civilian resources. The top three military resources requested by victims were: victim advocate (459), mental health (321), and legal (274) referrals. These military resource referrals accounted for 58.9% of all requests made in this category.

The top three civilian resources requested by victims were: rape crisis center (49), victim advocate (32), and mental health (31) referrals. They accounted for 74.7% of all requests made in this category.

V. Investigations

In FY17, 1,052 investigations were completed, representing a 5.7% increase from FY16 (995). Of those investigations, 1,050 or 99.8% were completed by the service MCIOs and 2 or 0.2 % were completed by either US civilian or foreign law enforcement agencies. The average length of investigations conducted by the NCIS was 113 days and the median length was 84 days. This average includes offenses involving complex investigation, scientific analysis of evidence, and/or procurement of expert witnesses, as well as simpler cases involving confessions or limited evidence (e.g., cases involving victim declinations or unknown subjects).

In cases where the most the most serious offense investigated by NCIS was an alleged penetration offense, the average length of time between the date the investigation was completed and the date legal advice was rendered to the command regarding case disposition was 53 days.

In those cases disposed of at courts-martial, the average length of time between the date the victim made an Unrestricted Report and the date the sentence was imposed or an accused was acquitted at courts-martial was approximately 424 days.

In cases disposed of at non-judicial punishment, the average length of time between the date the victim made an Unrestricted Report and the date non-judicial punishment was concluded was approximately 206 days.

Victims Declining to Participate in the Military Justice Process

In FY17, the percentage of victims who declined to participate in the military justice process rose to 25% (256 of 1,025) compared to 14% (91 of 655) in FY16 and 11% (60 of 548) in FY15. This is not reflective of all cases where the victim declined to participate in the investigative/military justice process. In some cases, command action was pursued, resulting in administrative or disciplinary action against a subject, despite non-participation of the victim – these cases are not categorized as a victim declination within our reporting. Additionally, some cases were categorized as victim declinations that may have been categorized as “unknown subject” or “insufficient evidence,” and may have been so categorized in previous years. Navy will conduct a study in FY18 to better understand the reasons for the increase in declinations.

Command Action for Military Subjects Under DoD Legal Authority

In FY17, command action was taken against 453 (46.1% of 983) Service members for both sexual assault and non-sexual assault (e.g., failure to obey order or regulation) allegations. Types of command action include court-martial, non-judicial punishment, administrative separation, and other adverse administrative actions.

Sexual Assault Court-Martial Outcomes

In FY17, there were 165 (16.8% of 983) cases where court-martial charges were preferred for a sexual assault offense, compared to 115 (17.6% of 655) in FY16.

A total of 98 (67.6% of 145) cases proceeded to trial on at least one sexual assault offense. Of those, 63 cases were for penetrating offenses, resulting in 39 (62.0%) convictions and 24 (38.1%) acquittals. The remaining 35 cases were for contact offenses, resulting in 29 (82.9%) convictions and 6 (17.1%) acquittals.

8.2 Complete the following table with your numbers as of the end of the fiscal year. Use the job/duty descriptions provided and the following inclusion criteria:

- Include all Reserve and Active Duty military personnel. Army and Air Force do not need to include their respective National Guard component information as it will be included in the National Guard Bureau’s response.
- Include civilian and contractor personnel, as applicable
- Only include filled positions
- Indicate the number of full-time and part-time personnel
- Provide the exact number of current personnel, whenever possible. If the number is an estimate, please indicate how the estimate was reached and any other relevant information.

36	Abusive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	E-2	Male	Unknown		Male				Q1 (October-December)	Offender is Unknown									Notes: Victim reported that, while in a restroom onboard his ship, an unknown male Subject approached him. Victim was able to describe Subject, but did not know who Subject was. Subject appeared to be R, in Victim's presence and asked Subject if he was alone. Victim denied alcohol and advised that Subject was intoxicated. Victim attempted to help Subject avoid use but Subject became hostile, and attempted to touch Victim. Victim reported Subject, and Subject became aggressive, grabbing Victim's collar/neck area and pushed her head into the mirror in the restroom. Victim made attempts to push Subject off of her but was unable to do so. Subject threatened and pushed her backwards before he walked for his own. Once Subject had the back of Victim, he pulled on it and attempted to pull her pants down. Subject was able to get Victim's pants down to his legs through the effort of Victim's own ability to get his pants up. At that point, an unknown male entered the restroom and pulled Subject out of the restroom. NCIS was unable to identify Subject, and the case was closed with no further action.
37	Abusive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	E-1	Multiple Victims	Navy	E-1	Male	No	No		Q2 (January-March)	Court-Martial Charge Preferred	Abusive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)			Charges dismissed for any other reason prior to Court-Martial followed by Art. 15 punishment		Under Other than Honorable Conditions (UDHC)			Forfeiture of Pay and Absconction: Yes; Fine: No; Restriction: No; Reduction in rank: Yes; Pay Grade Reduced To: E-2; Extra Duty: No; Hard Labor: No; Conventional Confinement (NCP Only): No. Notes: Seven Victims reported that Subject usually assaulted them by grabbing their nipples and thighs in the communal showers. NCIS investigated. BSIC recommended prosecution, and SA-IDA reviewed seven specifications under Article 120 (generic sexual contact) to a Special Court-Martial. The charges were subsequently withdrawn and dismissed as part of a pre-trial agreement, wherein Subject accepted nonjudicial punishment and separation from military service under Other Than Honorable conditions.
38	Abusive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	O-2	Male	Unknown		Unknown	No	No		Q1 (October-December)	Non-judicial punishment for non-sexual assault offense		Failure to obey orders or regulation (Art. 15)	Article 15 Punishment Imposed			None			Forfeiture of Pay and Absconction: Yes; Fine: No; Restriction: No; Reduction in rank: Yes; Pay Grade Reduced To: E-4; Extra Duty: No; Hard Labor: No; Conventional Confinement (NCP Only): No. Notes: Victim reported that Subject had a group of others to surround him and have him, including Subject, grabbing the genitals against Victim's buttocks. Subject was standing behind her and pulled her body against his groin area and was grabbing her crotch with his right hand. Subject pulled his pants out of his pants, took Victim 1's right hand, and placed it on his pants and forced her to stroke his pants. Subject told Victim 1 and stopped her legs around his waist, until Victim 1 was able to convince him to let her back on the platform and go back into the ship because others would find her. While there, Victim 2 reported that Subject put down his pants, and put his left hand down Victim 1's right arm. Subject moved his hand further up Victim 2's right arm towards Victim 2's inner thigh. Victim 2 put his right arm on his right leg to prevent Subject from continuing to have further towards Victim 2's groin area. Subject attempted to kiss her, at which time, Victim 2 turned his head and told Subject that he had a boyfriend. Shortly after saying that, someone entered the room that the two were in and Subject departed from the room. No action was taken with regard to Victim 1's report, due to Victim 1's declaration and insufficient evidence. Commanding Officer imposed nonjudicial punishment for misconduct in violation of Article 120(c) (discretionary) and was administratively separated from under Other Than Honorable conditions.
179	Abusive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	E-4	Female	Navy	O-2	Male	No	No		Q4 (July-September)	Non-judicial Punishment	Abusive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)		Article 15 Punishment Imposed			None			Perforation of Pay and Absconce: No; Fine: No; Restriction: No; Reduction in rank: No; Extra Duty: No; Hard Labor: No; Confinement: Confinement (DUP Only): No. Notes: Victim reported that Subject sexually assaulted her onboard their ship while they were underway. Victim reported that Subject made sexual advances toward her, including asking to see her breasts, vagina, and buttocks. Victim told Subject to stop. Subject grabbed her by the arm, turned her body against the wall of the ship, and pressed his unconsented upon parts against her unconsented buttocks. Subject and Victim were fully clothed during the incident. NCIS investigated. Subject admitted to the misconduct. Commanding Officer imposed nonjudicial punishment for misconduct in violation of Article 12 (sexual harassment), 120 (abusive sexual contact), and 134 (discrimination). Subject was awarded a punitive letter of reprimand.
180	Abusive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	Multiple Victims	Multiple Victims Male & Female	Navy	O-3	Male	No	No		Q2 (January-March)	Non-judicial Punishment	Abusive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)		Article 15 Punishment Imposed			Honorable			Perforation of Pay and Absconce: No; Fine: No; Restriction: No; Reduction in rank: No; Extra Duty: No; Hard Labor: No; Confinement: Confinement (DUP Only): No. Notes: Victim 1 reported that Subject grabbed her hips from behind and cannot be read. Victim 2 reported that Subject made sexual advances to Victim 2, placed his hands on Victim 1's genital region and brushed his genitalia against Victim 1. Victim 3 reported that Subject pressed his body against Victim 3's buttocks and repeatedly made unwanted contact, and inappropriate comments in their work area. Victim 4 reported that Subject made sexually explicit comments in the workplace by brushing his genitalia against Victim 4. Commanding Officer imposed nonjudicial punishment for misconduct in violation of Article 12 (sexual harassment), 120 (abusive sexual contact), and 134 (discrimination) by a battery. Subject was awarded a punitive letter of reprimand. Subject was subsequently separated under Honorable conditions.

616	Reactive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	Multiple Victims	Multiple Victims Female	Navy	E-4	Male	No	No		O2 (January-March)	Non-Judicial Punishment	Reactive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)			Article 15 Punishment Imposed		General			Forfeiture of Pay and Absolution: Yes; Fine: No; Restriction: Yes; Standdown Level: Other: Restriction Length (Days): 60; Reduction in rank: Yes; Pay Grade Reduced To: E-3; Extra Duty Yes: Hard Labor: No; Confinement Custody (DWP Only): No Notes: Victim 1 reported that Subject grabbed her based on her separate occasion. During the NCIS investigation, Victim 2 reported that Subject sexually assaulted her. Commanding Officer imposed nonjudicial punishment for misconduct in violation of Article 120 (sexual sexual contact) and 107 (sexual harassment). Subject was subsequently reported under General conditions.
617	Sexual Assault (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	N/A	US Chillon	Female	Navy	E-6	Male	No	No		O2 (April-June)	Courts-Martial charge preferred for non-sexual assault offense		Failure to obey order or regulation (Art. 12)	Disposition in Lieu of Courts-Martial						Notes: Victim reported that Subject groped her without her consent, and forced her into performing oral sex while he was in a vehicle and she was in the Delight Entry Program. NCIS investigated. BCSO recommended prosecution for non-sexual assault offense. SA-GA referred charges under Article 107 (false official statement) and Article 107 (false official statement) to a Special Court-Martial. Pursuant to a plea agreement, Subject was reported in lieu of trial under Other Than Honorable conditions.
618	Reactive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	E-5	Female	Unknown		Unknown	No	No		O4 (July-September)	Offender is Unknown									Notes: Victim reported going on a casual date, and then going to a party with her date at her date's apartment. She did not know everyone at the party. People were consuming alcohol at the party, but Victim did not because she had duty early the next morning. Victim asked if she could sleep at her date's home because she had to be at work early the next day. her date agreed, and said she could sleep in his room and he would ensure that his partner did not disturb her. Victim asked him to do so to ensure entering his room and groping her breasts. The unknown Subject kissed her mouth and neck and attempted to get into bed. Victim pushed him away. her date ordered the room due to the noise and grabbed the unknown Subject, and demanded to leave the room. NCIS investigated. Victim was unable to identify Subject. Local civilian police declined to take action. SA-GA closed the case with no further action due to unknown Subject.
619	Sexual Assault (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	E-2	Female	Navy	E-3	Male	No	No		O1 (October-December)	Courts-Martial Charge Preferred	Sexual Assault (Art. 120)			Convicted		Assault (Art. 120)			Courts-Martial discharge: BCSO - Bad Conduct Discharge; Confinement: No; Forfeiture of Pay and Absolution: Yes; Fine: No; Restriction: No; Reduction in rank: No; Hard Labor: No Notes: Victim reported that Subject pinned her down forcibly in off-base lodging and sexually assaulted her by digitally penetrating her vagina. SA-GA referred charges under Article 120 (sexual assault), 128 (sexual) and 124 (dissemination). The Article 120 and 124 charges were withdrawn and dismissed. Subject was convicted of assault under Article 120 and awarded a Bad Conduct Discharge.
620	Rape (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Air Force	E-1	Female	Navy	E-3	Male	No	No		O4 (July-September)	Administrative Discharge						Under Other Than Honorable Conditions (OTHC)	Both Victim and Subject		Notes: Victim reported Subject sexually assaulted her at an off-base residence by confining to have sexual intercourse with her against her will, after she verbally and physically resisted. BCSO recommended action prosecution due to insufficient evidence. SA-GA convened an Administrative Separation Board, which recommended that Subject be reported on the basis of conviction of a serious offense, under Other Than Honorable conditions.
621	Rape (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	E-5	Female	Navy	E-5	Male	No	No		O2 (January-March)	Courts-Martial Charge Preferred	Sexual Assault (Art. 120)			Extortion did not support a recommendation for prosecution			Both Victim and Subject		Notes: Victim reported that Subject sexually assaulted her (prohibited) in an off-base hotel. NCIS investigated. Subject denied any sexual activity occurring. Medical examinations did not find evidence of intercourse. SA-GA referred charges under Article 120 (sexual assault) to an Article 12 preliminary hearing. The Preliminary Hearing Officer recommended dismissal of charges with further action due to insufficient evidence. SA-GA dismissed the charges with no further action due to insufficient evidence. her further action was taken.
622	Sexual Assault (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	US Chillon	Female	Navy	E-5	Male	No	No		O4 (July-September)	Courts-Martial Charge Preferred	Sexual Assault (Art. 120)			Acquitted			Subject (single subject)		Notes: Victim reported that she and Subject committed Mutual Sexual Intercourse and oral sex. However, Subject then reportedly penetrated her without her consent. NCIS investigated. BCSO recommended prosecution. SA-GA referred charges under Article 120 (sexual assault) to a General Court-Martial. Subject was acquitted, and the case was closed with no further action.
623	Sexual Assault (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	E-1	Female	Navy	E-1	Male	No	No		O2 (April-June)	Other Adverse Administrative Action									Adverse Administrative Action Type: Letter of Counseling (LOC) Notes: Victim reported that Subject touched Victim's inner thigh under a table from across the table while at shore. NCIS investigated. BCSO recommended action prosecution. Commanding Officer awarded Subject a letter of counseling for inappropriate conduct, and removed Subject from recruit training.
624	Reactive Sexual Contact (Art. 120)	UNITED STATES	Navy	E-1	Male	Navy	E-2	Male	No	No		O4 (July-September)	Non-judicial punishment for non-sexual assault offense		Failure to obey order or regulation (Art. 12)	Article 15 Acquittal						Notes: Victim reported that, while showering, Subject touched against her, and asked her to grope against Victim's buttocks in a left side of her thigh. NCIS investigated. BCSO recommended consideration of administrative action. Commanding Officer held a nonjudicial punishment hearing for misconduct in violation of Article 12 (Failure to obey order or regulation), but did not impose nonjudicial punishment due to insufficient evidence.

Subject touched her chest and genital area without her consent, and digitally penetrated her vagina. Civilian police investigated referred the case to civilian prosecutors. Civilian prosecutors declined to take action due to lack of prosecutable merit.

FY 2017 Annual Report on Sexual Assault in the Military Executive Summary: United States Marine Corps

The Marine Corps measures the number of sexual assaults in two ways—survey data and report data. Based on results from the 2016 Workplace and Gender Relations Survey for Active Duty Service Members (WGRA), the estimated prevalence of sexual assault has decreased by 30 percent since 2014. In comparison, reporting levels are lower than estimated prevalence. The Marine Corps strives to increase reporting and close that gap between estimated prevalence and reporting, ensuring all Marines who experience sexual assault get the support they need. In Fiscal Year 2017 (FY17), we made a significant step in that goal with an increase in reporting. More Marines sought and received care than any previous year.

Knowledge is the first step in developing effective programs and policies to prevent and combat sexual assault. Survey data from the 2016 WGRA indicated that men and women who experienced sexual harassment in the military are more likely to experience sexual assault. This serves as an important indicator of areas to target in our education and prevention efforts. Identifying and acknowledging these target areas in FY17, the Marine Corps Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program coordinated and hosted several symposiums and brown bag lunches. Topics included gender bias, social media, trauma-informed care, and healthy relationships. These topics were presented by experts from the public sector, academia, law enforcement, and the military services. This wide array of expertise provided insight into the population that constitutes the Corps.

The Marine Corps population is the youngest and most junior service, with a majority of all Marines aged 25 or younger. This population is also the most at-risk for experiencing a sexual assault. In an effort to reach junior enlisted Marines and officers, the Marine Corps SAPR Program developed the “Join the Conversation” Professional Military Education (PME). Piloted at the beginning of FY17, the PME guided Marines in identifying five destructive behaviors—hazing, sexual assault, sexual harassment, retaliation, and alcohol misuse. Marines were educated on the importance of understanding destructive behaviors, the negative impact of those behaviors to the unit and the Corps at large, and what Marines can do to combat them. The PME was transitioned to a Period of Instruction later in the year at The Basic School.

While developing new training programs, such as the “Join the Conversation” PME, the Marine Corps SAPR Program also leverages research efforts to address gaps in knowledge. For example, according to survey data, male Marines are less likely to report experiencing a sexual assault. Few studies focus on males who experience a sexual assault during their military service. To that end, the Marine Corps SAPR Program conducted interviews with Sexual Assault Response Coordinators (SARCs) and SAPR Victim Advocates (VAs) to learn about their interactions with male Marines who report experiencing a sexual assault. The interviews provided valuable information regarding barriers to reporting, reasons why male Marines report, and techniques to build rapport with this population. The ultimate goals of the study were to inform the development of a job aid for SARCs and SAPR VAs who interact with male victims and promote reporting for male Marines by highlighting that Restricted Reports are confidential.

Engaging Marines in the fleet is critical to implementing an effective prevention effort. The annual Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month (SAAPM) serves as a launch point for this effort. In April 2017, Marines around the fleet came together for SAAPM to take up the message “Protecting Our People Protects Our Mission.” Marines shared their messages of what sexual assault awareness and prevention means to them. SARCs organized events across the fleet to engage Service Members in the prevention effort and to educate participants about SAPR.

Sexual assault is a crime, and the Marine Corps will continue to leverage subject matter experts, research efforts, or training programs to help combat this crime.

1. Goal 1—Prevention—“Institutionalize evidenced-based, informed prevention practices and policies across the Department so that all Military Service members are treated with dignity and respect, and have the knowledge, tools, and support needed to prevent sexual assaults.”

1.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Prevention goal. (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 1 – Prevention, p. 6)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant or force-wide changes to how your Military Service addresses the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ this year to reduce the occurrence of sexual assault? What prevention initiatives did your Military Service employ with targeted subgroups of your population or for specific locations? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016))

- Communications and Engagement: How does you align prevention communications and training across your Military Service? (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5 (Communications), p. 11)

- Leader Involvement: How do you prepare and include command to support the Military Service prevention approach? How does the Military Service prepare and help command address unit climate challenges and climate survey results? (DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (July 7, 2015), Encl 5, para 9f)

- Community Involvement (Internal to DoD): How does your Military Service prepare and configure military communities and their resources to support the prevention approach? (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5 (Community Involvement), p. 11 / SecDef Memo (May 1, 2014), Develop Collaborative Forum for Sexual Assault Methods, p. 2)

- Community Involvement (External to DoD): How does your Military Service employ resources external to your military communities to advance prevention initiatives? These can be force-wide initiatives or initiatives taken with specific locations or subgroups based on risk or some other factor. If this section is included, examples of these external collaborations, rationale for their use, and an assessment of the collaboration's outcome should be included. (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5, (Community Involvement), p. 11 / SecDef Memo (May 1, 2014), Develop Collaborative Forum for Sexual Assault Prevention Methods, p. 2)

- Education and Training: How are education/training activities used to advance the Military Service's prevention approach? What specific training programs are used (e.g., interpersonal communication, healthy relationships, and improving alcohol choices) and how/when were they distributed throughout the Military Service population? (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5 (Education and Training), p. 12)

REQUIRED:

- What metrics are being used to assess the effectiveness of prevention efforts intended to reduce the prevalence of sexual assault. Include a discussion of the metrics used to assess your sexual assault prevention program, and how they support or supplement DoD's core prevention metrics (i.e., prevalence and bystander intervention experience). Describe how the results of those metrics are informing prevention planning? (DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 5 (Harm Reduction), p. 12) / DoD 2014-2016 Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy (April 30, 2014), para 6 (Prevention Metrics, Assessment, and Research), p. 13

The Marine Corps continues to implement a comprehensive and coordinated prevention approach as outlined in the Department of Defense (DoD) Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Strategic Plan, 2017-2021. The Marine Corps SAPR Program is committed to promoting military readiness by eliminating sexual assault through prevention, advocacy, and execution of SAPR Program policy, planning, and oversight. In Fiscal Year 2017 (FY17), several force-wide initiatives were employed to help reduce the occurrence of sexual assault in the Marine Corps, including comprehensive educational symposiums, SAPR training revisions, and targeted social media communication.

Communication and Engagement

The Marine Corps SAPR Program has a developed Strategic Communication Strategy that includes social media, print media, educational symposiums, and face-to-face engagements.

Social Media

The Marine Corps SAPR Program uses official Marine Corps social media pages (Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube, and Vine) to promulgate primary and secondary prevention messaging since late 2013. To date, the Marine Corps SAPR Program has posted 34 times to official Marine Corps social media, reaching approximately 8.7 million people, and linking nearly 2,100 users to supportive resources (Department of Defense Safe Helpline, local 24/7 Support Lines, Inspector General of the Marine Corps website, and DSTRESS). Posts have covered topics such as primary prevention, retaliation, bystander intervention, suicide prevention, alcohol misuse prevention, consent, sexual assault of military men, hazing, and incentives to promote prevention. Future posts will continue to focus on primary prevention.

Print Media

To inform the Marine Corps Total Force of reported incidents of sexual assault and provide Marines with awareness of sexual assault in the Corps, the Marine Corps SAPR Program continued publication of the SAPR Monthly Snapshot publication in FY17. Each SAPR Monthly Snapshot includes talking points designed to educate commanders on the SAPR Program and provide specific talking points to share with their Marines. Figure 1 shows an example of a SAPR Monthly Snapshot released in FY17. HQMC SAPR also releases a Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC) Newsletter that keeps SARCs in the fleet abreast of changes to policy and best practices for prevention and response.

Educational Symposiums

In March, April, and May of 2017, the Marine Corps SAPR Program hosted two Social Media Misconduct Symposiums and one Gender Bias Symposium designed for SAPR, Behavioral Health, Equal Opportunity, Judge Advocate Division (JAD), Victims Legal Counsel (VLC), Department of Navy (DON) Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (SAPRO), and Navy SAPR headquarters personnel. These symposiums focused on educating attendees on social media misuse, sexual communication in the digital age, recognizing and reducing victim blaming, increasing the likelihood of bystander intervention, gender expectations and the impact on the individual, primary prevention, and gender bias in the military.

In June of 2017, DON SAPRO hosted a two-day symposium, which included the Commandant of the Marine Corps (CMC) as a featured speaker. Following the two-day DON-specific days, the Marine Corps SAPR Program hosted two days of training to provide Marine Corps SAPR personnel with Marine Corps-specific continuing education. One specific session was a prevention Operational Planning Team (OPT) that framed the problem of sexual assault, defined prevention (primary, secondary, and tertiary) and the prevention elements (incentives to promote prevention, communication, peer-to-peer mentors, organizational support, leadership involvement, deterrence, harm reduction, community involvement, accountability, and education and training). The OPT also described the differences between prevention and response and provided SAPR personnel with the opportunity to develop primary prevention courses of actions (COAs) tailored to one prevention element.

Leadership Involvement

Command Climate Assessment

The Marine Corps uses a command climate survey to assess perceptions of leadership and unit support as they relate to SAPR. The Defense Equal Opportunity Management Institute (DEOMI) Organizational Climate Survey (DEOCS) is a DoD-wide survey that measures organizational climate dimensions. This survey is conducted within 90 days after a Commander assumes command and at least annually thereafter. Since March 2012, the DEOMI Survey has included questions that measure the climate associated with SAPR.

Community Involvement (Internal to DoD)

As part of our overarching prevention effort, military community leaders and organizations support the Marine Corps SAPR Program efforts to develop collaborative education and outreach programs. Our efforts aim to eliminate destructive behavior through evidence-based education, deterrence, and marketing, as well as to ensure Service Members are aware of sexual assault support resources.

Strategic Communication

The Marine Corps SAPR Program's Strategic Communication Strategy places a large emphasis on collaboration, both within the Marine Corps and the DoD at-large. For example, social media posts always include contact information for the DoD Safe Helpline as well as the option for an installation SAPR Victim Advocate (VA). Collaboration also includes working with other readiness impacting programs, such as Suicide Prevention, Substance Abuse Program, Equal Opportunity, and Community Counseling Program in an effort to reinforce the primary prevention message that is communicated via the training. Such collaborations also include relevant resources, such as DSTRESS, the Inspector General of the Marine Corps (IGMC) website, and the DoD Safe Helpline.

Working Groups

The Marine Corps also participates in DoD SAPRO sponsored working groups, such as those dedicated to understanding the impact that sexual assault has on military men and combating retaliation experienced by sexual assault victims, sexual harassment complainants, bystanders, and first responders. The purpose of these working groups is to promote primary prevention and improve response. Furthermore, DoD SAPRO hosts a Quarterly Prevention Roundtable that addresses DoD sexual assault prevention efforts and requirements. Findings from the aforementioned working groups and roundtable are used in training sessions and initiatives to support the Marine Corps and all relevant stakeholders.

Career Outcomes of Sexual Assault Victims Study

In March 2017, the “Career Outcomes of Sexual Assault Victims” study, a collaborative research effort between faculty and students at the Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) and the Marine Corps SAPR Program was completed. The research examined how career outcomes for Marines who filed a formal unrestricted report of sexual assault differ from those who never filed a report, and if differences exist, the factors that explain those differences. It was observed that Marines who reported a sexual assault were more likely to separate from Active Duty than Marines who did not report a sexual assault. SAPR will use these findings to inform the delivery of more responsive services to help sexual assault victims.

SAPR Personnel in the Fleet

MARFORCOM

Marine Forces Command (MARFORCOM) and its subordinate command II Marine Expeditionary Force (MEF) have effectively established the G-10, Force Preservation section that is made up of multiple programs (safety division, suicide prevention, substance abuse prevention, SAPR, equal opportunity/hazing/discrimination, domestic violence prevention, and child abuse prevention) to sync prevention efforts and identify trends, command and community needs.

MARFORRES

Marine Forces Reserve (MARFORRES) collaborates with local bases and stations during Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month to further promote prevention education to service members and their families. Efforts are combined with various programs within the DoD such as Equal Opportunity, Family Advocacy, and Substance Abuse. For example, the MARFORRES SAPR Program attends Yellow Ribbon Events and Family Days at various Reserve Sites to provide education, outreach, and resources during these events.

Marine Corps Installations Command

Camp Lejeune: To facilitate prevention approaches with military communities, the Camp Lejeune SAPR Program supported events and activities to build collaboration with our military community partners. The SAPR Program co-hosted a prevention-focused breakfast with leaders in the Community Counseling Program, the Family Advocacy Program, the Substance Abuse Counseling Program, G-10 (Force Preservation), and the Embedded Preventive Behavioral Health Capability. The SAPR Program and the Family Advocacy Program joined efforts with the inclusion of blue t-shirts for Child Abuse Prevention Month on Denim Day in 2017. For the purposes of on-going information sharing and opportunities for potential combined prevention efforts, the SAPR Program serves on the Family Advocacy Council and the Collaborative Health Board where community organizations on the base share program information and updates.

Marine Corps Air Station (MCAS) New River: The SAPR program participated in the “Building the Warrior Within” event hosted by the Community Counseling Program for suicide prevention and resiliency.

Training and Education Command

Marine Corps Recruit Depot (MCRD) Parris Island: The SARC attends the Safety Council which is responsible for implementing safety measures aboard the Depot. The SARC sits on the Armed Forces Discipline Control Board (AFDCB) which addresses locations that may need to be added to the Off-Limits Establishment list when illegal activity has occurred there or may pose a threat to our Marines and families. SAPR teams with Marine Corps Family Team Building (MCFTB) and Semper Fit to provide R.A.D. (Rape Aggression Defense Training) to all active duty service members, civilians, and family members.

Marine Corps Communication-Electronics School (MCCES): MCCES created a collaborative effort with the George Bush Naval Hospital Sexual Assault Medical Forensic Examiner (SAMFE) and Emergency Room staff to create mock drills in an effort to streamline processes and care, ensure a victim-centric approach, and increase efficiency and proficiency. Efforts have been made to strengthen relationships with local rape crisis center services and resources. In addition, the MCCES SARC has built strong relationships with the Chaplain’s office, Equal Opportunity, and Military and Family Life Counseling (MFLC) to address issues related to sexual assault. In addition, the command has collocated the SARC, Substance Abuse Control Officer (SACO)/Equal Opportunity Representative, Chaplain, and MFLC into one facility to support confidentiality and accessibility of services.

Community Involvement (External to DoD)

The Marine Corps leverages external community leaders and organizations in its efforts to prevent sexual assault. In FY17, we partnered with academia and organizations across a wide spectrum of fields in order to best leverage knowledge from experts in the community. Since the expansion of the Marine Corps SAPR Branch in 2013, prevention personnel have made a cognizant effort to collaborate and employ external subject matter experts to further the Marine Corps prevention program, both primary and secondary prevention. Over the current review period, examples of collaboration with external subject matter experts include the following:

Coordination with External Subject Matter Experts

- Trauma-Informed Care Brown Bag in Support of Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month; Dr. Brian Sims, National Center for Trauma Informed Care
 - Target audience: Headquarters-level personnel of readiness impacting programs, such as SAPR, Behavioral Health, Equal Opportunity, Family Care; DON SAPRO, Navy SAPR, and DoD SAPRO.
 - Rationale for their use: to incorporate the best practices of trauma-informed care into all prevention and advocacy training and communication materials that will be promulgated to the fleet for use.
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Pre- and post-test surveys will be incorporated into all updated training packages that include language on trauma- informed care.
- Healthy Relationships Brown Bag in Support of Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month; Amy Sirocki-Meck, Title IX Coordinator at James Madison University; Kristy Koser, Licensed Professional Counselor; and Cierra Davis, Licensed Professional Counselor
 - Target audience: Headquarters-level personnel of readiness impacting programs, such as SAPR, Behavioral Health, Equal Opportunity, Family Care; DON SAPRO, Navy SAPR, and DoD SAPRO.
 - Rationale for their use: Discuss best practices that are being utilized in the college environment covering healthy relationships.
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Pre- and post-test surveys will be incorporated into all updated training packages that include language on healthy relationships.
- Technology, Social Media, and Relationships; Dr. Michelle Drouin, Professor of Psychology at Indiana University-Purdue and the University of Fort Wayne
 - Target audience: Headquarters-level personnel to include SAPR, Behavioral Health, Equal Opportunity, JAD, VLC, Bureau of Surgery and Medicine

- (BUMED), DON SAPRO, DOD SAPRO, Navy SAPR, Office of United States Marine Corps Communications (OUSMCC).
 - Rationale for their use: Educate the audience on how social media is utilized by our at-risk demographic.
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Incorporation of information into materials being created by the newly stood up Personnel Studies and Oversight Office, a direct result of the Marines United scandal.
- Beat the (Victim) Blame Game; Ms. Heather Imrie, Director of Program Development and Efficacy at Catharsis Productions
 - Target audience: Headquarters-level personnel to include SAPR, Behavioral Health, Equal Opportunity, JAD, VLC, BUMED, DON SAPRO, DOD SAPRO, Navy SAPR, OUSMCC.
 - Rationale for their use: Educate the audience on how victim blaming negatively impacts all individuals.
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Pre- and post-test surveys will be incorporated into all updated training packages that include language on victim blaming.
- Hegemonic Masculinity; Mr. Ben Murrie, Director of Contracts and Client Relations at Catharsis Productions
 - Target audience: Headquarters-level personnel to include SAPR, Behavioral Health, Equal Opportunity, JAD, VLC, BUMED, DON SAPRO, DOD SAPRO, Navy SAPR, OUSMCC.
 - Rationale for their use: Educate the audience on the pros and cons of hegemonic masculinity; how it is used positively (combat) and how it can contribute to destructive behaviors (gender bias and inequality).
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Pre- and post-test surveys will be incorporated into all updated training packages that include language on hegemonic masculinity.
- The Psychology of Non-Consensual Pornography: An Emerging Form of Sexual Misconduct; Dr. Asia Eaton, Professor of Psychology at Florida International University
 - Target audience: Headquarters-level personnel to include SAPR, Behavioral Health, Equal Opportunity, JAD, VLC, BUMED, DON SAPRO, DOD SAPRO, Navy SAPR, OUSMCC.
 - Rationale for their use: Educate the audience on the prevalence of non-consensual and consensual pornography in the digital age and how it can contribute to a climate that promotes sexual misconduct.
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Incorporation of information into materials being created by the newly stood up Personnel Studies and Oversight (PSO) Office.

- Understanding the Complexities of Gender; Ms. Laura Grimes, LCSW, River Rock Therapy, Psychotherapy, and Consulting
 - Target audience: Headquarters-level personnel to include SAPR, Behavioral Health, Equal Opportunity, JAD, VLC, BUMED, DON SAPRO, DOD SAPRO, Navy SAPR, OUSMCC.
 - Rationale for their use: Educate the audience on how gender biases can contribute to an unhealthy command climate, a risk factor for sexual assault.
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Pre- and post-test surveys will be incorporated into all updated training packages that include language on hegemonic masculinity.
- Seeing is Believing: Leveling the Playing Field at Work; Dr. David Smith, Associate Professor of Sociology at the United States Naval Academy
 - Target audience: Headquarters-level personnel to include SAPR, Behavioral Health, Equal Opportunity, JAD, VLC, BUMED, DON SAPRO, DOD SAPRO, Navy SAPR, OUSMCC.
 - Rationale for their use: Educate the audience on the impact of gender biases in a professional setting.
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Pre- and post-test surveys will be incorporated into all updated training packages that include language on gender biases.
- Trauma Informed Care; Dr. Brian Sims, National Center for Trauma Informed Care
 - Target audience: SAPR personnel in the fleet
 - Rationale for their use: Educate SAPR personnel of trauma-informed care and how to effectively assist victims of sexual assault.
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Pre- and post-tests will be incorporated into SAPR VA training and SARC training.
- Gender Biases; Mr. Sam Killermann, Director of Creativity at Hues
 - Target audience: SAPR personnel in the fleet
 - Rationale for their use: Educate the audience on the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer+ (LGBTQ+) community
 - Assessment of the collaborations outcome: Pre- and post-tests will be incorporated into SAPR VA training and SARC training.

Local Collaboration Efforts

I MEF currently has two primary prevention initiatives in coordination with external resources: Recording Artists, Actors, and Athletes Against Drunk Driving (RADD) and Lyft. These are universal interventions and are force-wide initiatives at Camp Pendleton. First, RADD is a non-profit organization that provides supplementary strategies, products, and “edutainment” outreach in order to promote alcohol-free driving. The rationale is that by employing an environmental strategy, this initiative targets harm reduction, as Marines and Sailors can make responsible decisions regarding impaired driving. The expected outcome is that this initiative will increase prevention based efforts, provide awareness and education through positive messaging, and decrease risk factors associated with drinking.

Another prevention strategy involves I MEF's coordination with Marine Corps Community Services (MCCS) and Lyft. The goal is to ensure safety in traveling on and off base for Marines and their families. Transportation innovations are now being tested on Camp Pendleton to develop more responsible and personalized mobility for Marines. The expected outcome is that this initiative will increase prevention based efforts and decrease risk factors associated with transportation challenges and responsible decision-making.

Hopeful Horizons is the Sexual Assault and Rape Crisis agency for Beaufort, Jasper, Colleton and Hampton counties of South Carolina. The MCAS Beaufort SAPR team participated in Hopeful Horizons Bar Outreach Project that provided prevention information to local bars and restaurants. This outreach effort targeted local bars frequented by the military communities.

Education and Training

The Marine Corps employs a balanced SAPR training continuum that extends to all ranks, providing Marines with the tools to make healthy, informed, effective decisions while understanding criminal behaviors. SAPR training begins with prospective Marines and extends into the later stages of a Marine's career. SAPR personnel are also constantly learning, drawing on expertise from the military and civilian sectors to improve knowledge about topics ranging from revenge pornography to trauma-informed care. This knowledge is then infused into SAPR training programs at the headquarters and local levels. Examples of specific training programs and their distribution to the Marine population are discussed below.

"Take a Stand" Bystander Intervention Training for Non-Commissioned Officers

HQMC SAPR is currently in the process of updating SAPR-related training. Specifically, content in "Take a Stand" Bystander Intervention Training for Non-Commissioned Officers was just updated and is awaiting implementation.

Newly added content covers empathy, effective communication, healthy boundaries, and healthy relationships/interactions. Each of the aforementioned topics also include a practical application to test one's knowledge. HQMC SAPR is moving away from communication that has negative connotations and, instead, are focusing on communication that is empowering and builds skills.

"Join the Conversation" Professional Military Education

The "Join the Conversation" Professional Military Education (PME) was designed to help Marines identify destructive behaviors such as hazing, sexual harassment, sexual assault, retaliation, and alcohol misuse. To properly identify these behaviors, the Marine Corps SAPR Program worked closely with representatives from DON SAPRO, Military Equal Opportunity, and the Behavioral Health Substance Abuse Program. This collaboration resulted in a PME that informs Marines how to identify destructive behaviors in themselves and others, identify the warning signs of these behaviors, understand the impact to mission readiness, and employ effective intervention techniques.

1st Sergeants Professional Military Education, Commandant Commandership Cornerstone

Specialized training is facilitated by SAPR personnel at the 1st Sergeants PME and Commandant's Commandership Cornerstone to enhance commander and senior enlisted advisors knowledge on their roles and responsibilities in executing the SAPR program. The PMEs are comprised of three main components; (1) framing the problem with current statistics, trends analysis, and current events impacting the program, (2) prevention methods, best practices, awareness and education options, and (3) response. Throughout the PME administrative requirements, policy, and protocols are provided to support commanders and senior enlisted advisors.

Metrics

HQMC SAPR used multiple methods to assess the Marine Corps sexual assault prevention efforts in FY17.

Surveys

The DEOCS provides a snapshot of the SAPR climate and relates Marine perceptions about topics such as the publicity of SAPR information, unit reporting climate, barriers to reporting a sexual assault, and bystander intervention. This survey provides direct and indirect insights into the progress of several prevention efforts, including leadership involvement, peer-to-peer mentorship, accountability, organizational support, deterrence, and harm reduction.

Social Media Assessment

HQMC SAPR monitors each social media post that SAPR publishes for at least eight hours after the post goes live. Subject matter experts interact with the public in real-time to answer questions, refute myths, and link users to supportive services.

Review of SAPR Programs and Practices

The Marine Corps SAPR Program is reviewing its SAPR course curricula to ensure that prevention education efforts have appropriate goals and measurable learning objectives that can be measured for performance and effectiveness. HQMC contracted the RAND Corporation to conduct a study aimed at identifying and developing measures of performance (MOPs) and measures of effectiveness (MOEs) to ensure that existing SAPR programs and practices have the intended effects and outcomes.

1.2 Future Efforts: Briefly describe your leadership-approved future plans to reduce the occurrence of sexual assault in your Military Service.

Future plans pertaining to prevention center around collaborating, capitalizing on shared risk and protective factors, reinforcing the prevention messages of individual programs, and reducing stovepipes.

Prevention Collaboration Operational Planning Team (OPT). HQMC SAPR will host a Prevention Collaboration OPT with other readiness impacting programs, such as Behavioral Health (Suicide Prevention, Substance Abuse Program, Family Advocacy Program), Equal Opportunity, Semper Fit, G-10 (Force Preservation), Family Readiness, Family Care, Future Operations, and the Chaplains. The OPT will focus on adapting a prevention model and then developing a shared mission statement, vision, goals, and objectives. Once a standard operating procedure is established, the OPT will commence with the same individuals to develop COAs that will then be actioned at the headquarters-level. Where appropriate, COAs will be piloted in the fleet with the target population.

SARC Advisory Committee. Twice per year the Marine Corps SAPR Program hosts SARC Advisory Council (SAC) meetings that are intended to further the SAPR program by collaboration with senior SARCs in the fleet. During the August 2018 SAC, HQMC SAPR Program Development will host a Prevention Collaboration session that will focus on best practices from the IPT/OPT as well as what is gleaned from the Prevention Capacity Building meetings that are occurring at the DoD-level.

Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month. In observance of Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month (SAAPM) 2018, HQMC SAPR will be releasing a SAAPM Toolkit that will provide SAPR personnel in the fleet with information on conducting SAAPM events and initiatives in their respective areas of responsibility. This toolkit will focus on primary prevention and also include information on weaving measures of effectiveness and performance into all initiatives.

SAPR Course Curricula Review. The Marine Corps SAPR Program is reviewing its SAPR course curricula to ensure that prevention education efforts have appropriate goals and measurable learning objectives that can be measured for performance and effectiveness.

Interacting with Male Marines. Findings from the study, “Evaluating Best Practices for Interacting with Male Marines Who Experienced a Sexual Assault,” will be incorporated into SAPR efforts.

2. Goal 2—Victim Assistance & Advocacy—“Deliver consistent and effective advocacy and care for all military Service members or their adult dependents, such that it empowers them to report assaults, promotes recovery, facilitates dignified and respectful treatment, and restores military readiness.”

2.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Victim Assistance & Advocacy goal.
(DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, p. 7)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant or force-wide changes to how your Military Service addresses the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ this year to improve response to sexual assault? What victim assistance and advocacy initiatives did your Military Service employ with targeted subgroups of your population or with specific locations? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016))
- What are your oversight processes for reviewing D-SAACP credentials, qualifications, continuing education, inappropriate behavior, and revocation of certification, if appropriate? What progress is being made to ensure SAPR personnel meet D-SAACP screening requirements prior to attending your Military Service's SAPR certification training? What are your procedures for suspending, revoking, or reinstating certification of SARCs and SAPR VAs in accordance with the D-SAACP guidelines? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, Objective 2.1, p. 8 / DoDI 6495.03, "Defense Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP)," (September 10, 2015), Encl 2, para 4c / DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan "Task List," (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #6, p. 3)
- What efforts is your Military Service utilizing to encourage SARCs and SAPR VAs to renew their certification at a higher level in order to increase the quality of victim assistance providers? Are there any identified challenges that SARCs and SAPR VAs have in obtaining continuing education advanced training, to included training on emerging issues and victim-focused trauma-informed care? What is being done to address these challenges? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, Objective 2.1, p. 8 / DoDI 6495.03, "Defense Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP)," (September 10, 2015), Encl 3, para 3)
- What progress has your Military Service made in collaborating with the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to develop a protocol for routinely communicating the availability of VA resources and benefits to your Service members? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan "Task List," (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #10, p. 3)
- What progress has your Military Service made in performing a gap analysis between the actual role being performed by SARCs and SAPR VAs in the field and the requirements of DoDI 6495.02 and Military Service regulations to ensure current policies are adequate and appropriate? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #4, p. 3)

- What efforts are underway to strengthen service provider participation in an integrated victim services network of care to effectively integrate SAPR support and victim services (e.g., legal, health, investigations, SARCs, SAPR VAs, Victim Witness Assistance Programs, and IG)? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #9, p. 3)

REQUIRED:

- What metrics or assessment processes are being used to address the effectiveness of victim assistance and advocacy efforts intended to deliver consistent care for all Service members and/or their adult dependents? What is your status in developing indicators for measuring SARCs and SAPR VAs “quality response” in support of D-SAACP? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #7, p. 3)

- What are your procedures for suspending, revoking, and reinstating certification of SARCs and SAPR VAs in accordance with the D-SAACP guidelines? How many SARCs and SAPR VAs in your Military Service received a suspension? A revocation? A reinstatement? (Identify how many SARCs and VAs in each category) (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, Objective 2.1, p. 8 / DoDI 6495.03, “Defense Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP),” (September 10, 2015), Encl 3, para 3)

- How is your Military Service continuing to ensure that both male and female victim input is included in the development of your SAPR policy? (SecDef Memo (May 1, 2014), Improve Reporting for Male Victims, p. 2) / GAO Report 15-284, Actions Needed to Address Sexual Assaults of Male Service Members (March 2015), p. 20)

- How is your Military Service improving its response to male victims, to include implementing and monitoring methods to increase reporting of male sexual assault allegations? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance & Advocacy, Objective 2.3, Task #1, p. 4)

- What progress is being made to improve victim care services and conduct Case Management Groups at Joint Bases, in Joint Environments, and for the Reserve Components? For the Reserve Components, how are you promoting timely access to Sexual Assault Response Coordinators by members of the National Guard and Reserves? What are your recurring challenges in this area (if any) and how are you accommodating those challenges? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 2 – Victim Assistance and Advocacy, Objective 2.1, Task #5, p. 3)

- How many Service member victims requested that a GO/FO review their separation action and how many Service members received the GO/FO review of their separation action? (DoDIs 6495.02, 1332.14 and 1332.30)
- How many Military Protective Orders were issued as a result of an Unrestricted Report (e.g., number issued, number violated) and what steps were taken to improve protections? (DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (July 7, 2015), Encl 5, para 7)
- How many Service members who reported a sexual assault (if any) had their medical care hindered due to a lack of Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE) kits, timely access to appropriate laboratory testing resources, mental health counseling, or other resources? What actions did your Military Service take to remedy the situation? (NDAA for FY 2006, section 596)

In Fiscal Year 2017 (FY17), the Marine Corps persisted in its efforts to improve victim services and increase confidence and trust in the response system, with the knowledge that only when victims are confident in the support they will receive will they come forward to report. The Marine Corps Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program uses targeted communication to reach out to subgroups of Marines. For example, since 2015, the Marine Corps SAPR Program has been improving prevention and response efforts in an attempt to make the efforts more appropriate and applicable for males. This has included improving messaging (i.e., not referring to males as “victims”), addressing barriers to reporting, and discussing facts about sexual assault.

Oversight Processes for Credentials

Sexual Assault Response Coordinators (SARCs) are the final reviewers of the Department of Defense (DoD) Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP) packages for accuracy and completeness prior to submission. SARCs are to ensure the letter/statement from the security manager/Human Resource Office for national background investigation, local background investigations, and training documentation are included in the package prior to submission. The background information is to ensure the background check information has been adjudicated but it will not be submitted to D-SAACP. Once applicants are D-SAACP certified, SAPR VAs are to first provide SARCs a copy of their approval email and finally a copy of the D-SAACP certification package, when received. SARCs track the date the certificate is issued to ensure the SAPR VA submit renewal applications during the appropriate timeframe.

D-SAACP: Qualifications

Marine Corps Order (MCO) 1752.5B outlines standards of competence for Command SARCs and SAPR Victim Advocates (VAs) and provides a detailed list of selection criteria to ensure capable victim advocates are chosen, including the requirement that they epitomize the Marine Corps core values of honor, courage, and commitment. Commanders or Supervisors select the best suited personnel to fulfill the SARC and SAPR VA positions. SARCs and SAPR VAs must also demonstrate competence by successfully completing a 40-hour National Organization for Victim Assistance (NOVA)-approved VA Training course that includes practical application exercises and SARCs must additionally demonstrate further knowledge and competence in a 24-hour SARC Training course. This training provides SARCs and SAPR VAs with the in-depth knowledge and skills needed to successfully complete their duties and responsibilities to include incorporating Department of Defense Instruction (DoDI) 6495.03 requirements, DoD Core Competencies, and adult learning theory into the execution of their advocacy and training duties.

D-SAACP: Continuing Education

After credentialing, all SARCS and SAPR VAs are required to maintain and expand their knowledge and skills by completing a minimum of 16 continuing education hours annually, totaling 32 hours of relevant continuing education every 2 years. To assist our SARCs and SAPR VAs with this requirement, HQMC SAPR publishes training guidance and a training catalog of pre-approved external agency courses, many of which provide current information regarding best practices in terms of victim care. Additionally, our SARCs and SAPR VAs are encouraged to attend SARC and community-led training, workshops, and webinars. SARCs are required to track and monitor SAPR VAs continuing education progress/hours in the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID). Prior to attending any external training for continuing education hours, the training must be preapproved so as to ensure the content is within the scope of the approved topics.

D-SAACP: Inappropriate Behavior

All allegations or inappropriate behavior will be considered by the commander or appropriate appointing authority who will determine if it is consistent with the SARC or SAPR VA core duties, if it violates a provision under the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ), or if it violates a state or local law. The SARC or SAPR VA's D-SAACP is suspended until an investigation completed. Based on the outcome of the investigation, the SARC or SAPR VA D-SAACP certification may be either revoked or reinstated.

HQMC SAPR is developing a Marine Corps Bulletin (MCBUL) titled SAPR Personnel Critical Incident Reporting Requirements. The MCBUL will provide guidance to commanders, directors, administrative supervisors and other key stakeholders. It will establish reporting requirements when violations and complaints (alleged or actual) of D-SAACP certification standards and/or against D-SAACP certified SAPR personnel occur and also will address the requirement to develop a contingency plan to ensure the continuity of the SAPR program and/or services.

D-SAACP: Screening Requirements

The only requirement to attend the 40-hour NOVA preapproved Victim Advocate Training is to be selected by the Commander or appropriate appointing authority. MCO 1752.5B outlines standards of competence for Command SARCs and SAPR VAs and provides a detailed list of selection criteria to ensure capable SARCs and SAPR VAs are chosen for the positions. Additionally, SARCs and SAPR VAs cannot have a conviction for a sexual offense or be required to register as a sexual offender. SARCs and SAPR VAs must complete the NOVA-approved Victim Advocate and/or SARC Training and complete a National Agency Check with Inquires (NACI) or higher background investigation and a local background check with a favorable finding are also required prior to applying for the D-SAACP certification. HQMC SAPR is in the process of changing the position description of civilian SARCs and SAPR VAs to require Tier 3 background investigations because the Department of the Navy, at this time, does not conduct Tier 2 investigations, as required by the DoDI 6495.03. SARCs and SAPR VAs are appointed to the position by commanders or other appropriate appointing authority only after completing the required background investigation, training and obtaining the D-SAACP certification.

Encouraging Certification Renewal at a Higher Level

The Marine Corps encourages its SAPR personnel to stay current in the field and engage with victims of sexual assault, both within their responsibilities as a SARC and/or SAPR VA and within the civilian community. For example, SARCs and SAPR VAs are encouraged to volunteer at their local civilian rape crisis and/or women centers to obtain additional sexual assault advocacy hours and experience. These hours and experience will count towards a higher level of certification.

Operations tempo and deployment cycles can impact the training opportunities for collateral duty SARCs and SAPR VAs. Directly related to these are connectivity issues to complete online training and/or to access the SAPR SharePoint while in a deployed or training environment. To mitigate these issues, SARCs will provide the deploying SAPR VAs with the links to online training and encourage them to register for the sites (e.g., Office for Victims of Crime Training and Technical Assistance Center, End Violence Against Women International) prior to deploying.

Collaboration with the Department of Veteran Affairs

The Veterans Affairs Assistant Inspector General for Health Care Inspections proposed to DoD SAPRO a collaborative research study that will produce a report on medical status and outcomes of victims who, in the last three years, filed an unrestricted report of sexual assault. This study, referred to as "STATUS-VA," will address Congressional concerns about treatment of military sexual assault victims at Veterans Affairs facilities, expressed during the US Senate Subcommittee on Personnel, Committee on Armed Services Hearing on the Relationships between Military Sexual Assault, Post-traumatic Stress Disorder and Suicide, and on DoD and Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Treatment and Management of Victims of Sexual Trauma. Information presently captured in Veterans Affairs records, which are made available to the Veterans Affairs Office of the Inspector General (OIG), will not allow Veterans Affairs OIG to conduct a comprehensive review and study of service members and veterans who are victims of sexual assault. As a result, DoD SAPRO has agreed to provide the Veterans Affairs OIG with data compiled from unrestricted sexual assault reports maintained in DSAID from the Military Services, to include the reported date of when the sexual assault allegedly occurred, and other data elements required by DoD policy. The United States Marine Corps will collaborate with DoD SAPRO and the VA Assistant Inspector General for Health Care Inspections to ensure that the data is delivered per DoD and Institutional Review Board protocols.

Progress in Gap Analysis

HQMC SAPR constantly assesses any gaps between the actual role performed by Marine Corps SARCs and SAPR VAs in the field and the requirements of DoDI 6495.02 and service regulations. The primary mechanisms for that assessment are biweekly teleconferences with Marine Forces (MARFOR) SARCs and the annual SARC Advisory Committees (SAC). These meetings give HQMC SAPR the opportunity to gather direct feedback from the fleet on their roles and responsibilities and monitor how they align with DoD policy.

To ensure SAPR personnel have clear guidance on DoDI 6495.02, the Marine Corps SAPR Program has released MARADMIN 545/16, "USMC Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Program Changes" in FY16 to ensure updated policy is promulgated to the fleet.

Efforts to Strengthen Service Provider Participation

In the continuum of care, integration across the service providers is critical in providing uniform, effective support to victims of sexual assault. As such, SAPR personnel and a myriad of legal, health, and investigative personnel serve as part of a larger integrated victim services network in providing SAPR support and other victim services. SAPR education is a part of fleet training for various support programs in support of this effort, including training with legal, law enforcement, Victim Witness Assistance Programs, Wounded Warrior Recovery Care Coordinators, and Inspector Generals. These training programs define the roles of the SAPR personnel, how to support each program to ensure victims can participate in all requested programs, and how the programs can support SAPR in awareness (e.g., participation in Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month (SAAPM), attending Case Management Groups (CMGs)/Sexual Assault Response Teams (SARTs) as requested, and points of contact at their installation).

A collaborative approach and partnership between SARCs and the various stakeholders ensures opportunities for on-going development of integrating and delivering improved victim-centered services. For example, to strengthen connections with the victim services, Marine Forces Pacific (MARFORPAC) arranged for bus tours to facilities with program stakeholders like the Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS), Legal Services Support Section (LSSS) (courtroom), Victims' Legal Counsel (VLC), medical, behavioral health, Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE), and the chaplain. The stakeholders provided

SAPR VAs with a tour of their facilities and explained their specific roles followed by question and answer sessions. Within Marine Forces Reserve (MARFORRES), SAPR staff members attend training of various service providers and provide SAPR briefs to those providers as well. Mental Health Providers such as Psychological Health Outreach Program (PHOP) and legal support to include VLCs and Staff Judge Advocates (SJAs) are part of the quarterly SART meetings where coordination efforts are discussed. Each Command SARC meets with their command's legal advisor on monthly basis to ensure that all legal support matters are addressed. Investigators, mental health providers, legal, and Inspector General (IG) are all also part of the SAPR VA Training course. In addition, MARFORRES has developed a G-10 department which addresses matters related to the total health of service members and works to strengthen the integration of provider programs.

Metrics

The Marine Corps uses findings from the biennial Workplace and Gender Relations Survey (WGRA) to assess victims' perceptions of the advocacy process. Service Members who reported a sexual assault were asked to rate their overall satisfaction with the responses and/or services received from SARCs and SAPR VAs, as well as other support service providers. Results from the 2016 WGRA suggest that a majority of Marines who reported sexual assault were satisfied with their experiences with SARCs and SAPR VAs. Furthermore, the WGRA asks respondents who reported a sexual assault whether they were provided specific information on available services (i.e., safety planning, protective orders, case updates, and victims' rights). The Marine Corps uses these results to assess whether Marines who have reported sexual assault are being offered the appropriate services.

As part of their required training, SARCs and SAPR VAs receive two hours of instruction in ethics. This ensures a strong baseline for a quality response in support of D-SAACP. Frequent communication (via teleconference and webinar) between SAPR personnel in the fleet helps maintain that baseline and provides HQMC a point of reference to measure the "quality response" of SAPR personnel.

SARC and SAPR VA Suspension, Revocation, and Reinstatement Procedures

In FY17, one SARC and eight SAPR VAs received a revocation of their credentials. Four SARCs and three SAPR VAs received a suspension; two SARCs received reinstatement. The Marine Corps applies the procedures for suspending, revoking, and reinstating certification of SARCs and SAPR VA in accordance with D-SAACP guidelines outlined in DoDI 6495.03.

Input on the Development of SAPR Policy

The Marine Corps is committed to receiving input from victims of sexual assault into the development of SAPR policy and initiatives. HQMC SAPR uses the results of external surveys and focus groups that seek the input of Marine victims of sexual assault, including the WGRA. Direct victim feedback from these surveys helps the Marine Corps focus its outreach and risk reduction activities, as well as understand which programs are helpful and effective. The results from these surveys also reveal areas that need to be improved upon and inform future development of SAPR policy and programs.

Whenever DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (SAPRO) plans to develop new guidance or policy, they typically solicit input from the Military Services via working groups to inform development. During these working groups, the Marine Corps highlights its research findings and how these findings are informing Marine Corps products. For instance, the Marine Corps shared information on SARC study findings with DoD SAPRO Male Victim Working Group leads. The shared information may inform the strategy in responding to male victims. Another example is the Retaliation Working Group. Marine Corps shared critical information and best practices in order to inform the development of the Retaliation Strategy.

Improving Response to Male Victims

According to survey results, male Marines are less likely to report a sexual assault. Following a targeted outreach campaign in FY16, the Marine Corps made notable gains in reporting from this population—a positive improvement that continued in FY17. HQMC SAPR continues to facilitate a research-based and comprehensive approach to preventing sexual assault that considers all affected Marine populations, including male Marines. To that end, from September 2016 to September 2017, HQMC conducted a study that explored best practices for interacting with Male Marines who report having experienced a sexual assault. The purpose of this project was to interview SARCs and SAPR Victim Advocates (VAs) who support male Marines who reported a sexual assault during their service. The interviews provided information on SARC and SAPR VA interactions with male Marines who reported experiencing sexual assault in the military. The aim was to identify best practices that SARCs and SAPR VAs use when interacting with this population and ensure that current SAPR practices are gender-responsive and sensitive to the experiences of male Marines who report this crime.

A secondary goal of the interviews was to use SARCs and SAPR VAs as proxy respondents for male Marines who experienced sexual assault and filed a formal report of sexual assault. Since our ability to directly interview these male Marines was limited, we relied on SARCs and SAPR VAs who regularly interacted with male Marines who experienced a sexual assault to provide information on the barriers and facilitators of reporting for this population. It was found that male Marines who experienced a sexual assault encounter a myriad of barriers to report. These include a lack of confidentiality, the Marine culture, undermining masculinity, weakness, no command support, and stigma-related concerns. Findings from this study will be used to: (1) inform the development of a job aid for SARCs and VAs who interact with males, (2) promote reporting for male Marines by highlighting that Restricted Reports are confidential, (3) enhance the HQMC communication strategy for male victims, and (4) incorporate findings and lessons learned into SAPR training.

Victim Care Services and CMGs at Joint Bases

The Marine Corps continues its efforts to improve victim care services and the conduct of CMGs at joint bases, in joint environments, and for the Reserve Components. In February 2017, HQMC SAPR held a SAC meeting, hosted aboard MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa, Florida. The SAC membership was comprised of SARCs who support senior-level commands with diverse areas of responsibilities, to include joint bases and joint environments (in garrison and deployed). The collaborative presentation and follow-on discussion enhanced understanding and provided recommendations on how to improve victim care and overall execution of the Program in the joint environment.

Collaborating and establishing a strong relationship with sister-services is key to improving victim care services and conducting Case Management Groups in joint environments. Establishing a strong network amongst the SARCs in a joint environment affords the SARCs the ability to identify strengths and needs of the individual programs and its personnel. Marine Forces Europe/Africa (MARFOREUR/AF) and Marine Forces Central (MARCENT) have done an excellent job in collaborating with their sister-services that are co-located within their area of responsibility (AOR). The established relationships between those MARFORs and their sister-service counterparts have not only benefited those MARFORs, but have had an impact on Marine Forces Command (MARFORCOM). As a result of MARFOREURAF and MARCENT relationship building, many of the victims from MARFORCOM who were TAD or deployed to those AORs received outstanding support from sister-service counterparts as a result of the strong relationships established by MARFOREURAF and MARCENT.

MARFORRES SARCs, located at the Reserve Headquarters in New Orleans, Louisiana, work in coordination with Installation SAPR programs across the country. When a local Installation SARC or SAPR VA is needed to provide in-person advocacy services to a member of the Reserve Component, MARFORRES reaches out to the local SARC if available to engage their support. The MARFORRES SARC offers reserve specific information to ensure that any support or guidance provided meets the unique needs of reserve members. Those local SARCs brief cases at their Case Management Group when they are providing direct services in coordination with the MARFORRES Command SARC. When needed or requested, the MARFORRES SARC or SAPR Victim Advocate travels to the victim's location. Timely access to SAPR staff is ensured by effectively promoting the MARFORRES 24/7 Support Line and training victim advocates and leadership to contact their SARC for any and all reports of sexual assault involving MARFORRES Marines and Sailors. Each SARC has a cell phone that they carry at all times to ensure they are accessible to their advocates and commanders. Challenges, such as providing services from a distance or coordinating reporting responsibilities, have been addressed through frequent communication between the involved SARCs and commands.

Service Member Victims Requesting GO/FO Review

The Marine Corps does not actively track whether victims request GO\FO review of their separation file. Sexual assault case information are kept in separate files from personnel records and would require cross-referencing between the databases. This would create an undue risk of breaching the confidentiality of victims/integrity of SAPR privacy concerns.

Military Protective Orders

In FY17, a total of 130 Military Protective Orders (MPOs) were requested by victims who made an Unrestricted Report of sexual assault and 174 were issued by Command (many commands issue MPOs automatically before victims make the request). Two were violated, both by the subject. In only two cases was an MPO requested and not subsequently issued (in both cases the subject was unknown and an MPO could not be issued).

Safety is always a priority. Whenever issues surrounding safety are disclosed by the victim or identified by SAPR personnel, the Command works diligently to address the violation with the alleged subject and reaffirm the importance of safety with the victim. Improved protections can range from command requiring the SAPR VA to check in on the victim regularly over the weekend.

Other actions taken to improve protections have included putting the alleged offender in the brig where legally permitted. Most common practices to improve protections is to (1) ensure the victim has a roommate, (2) conduct a room inspection to ensure all doors and windows lock and the lights work, (3) allow victim to move to a room closer to the duty hut or onto a different floor, (4) issue an MPO to the victim and alleged offender/confirmation that both parties received copies, (5) move the alleged offender to other barracks, (6) move the alleged offender to other work area, (7) develop a safety plan and review it frequently with the victim, (8) ensure the victim has resources to contact in case of an emergency. Additionally, any Marine may request an expedited transfer at any time after filing an Unrestricted Report.

Protection efforts focused on increased education to both SAPR VAs and victims about the purpose of and place for MPOs. Collaboration with NCIS and VLC encourages repeated mention and understanding of victims' rights to include protective order. Additionally, monitoring of the effective and expiration date of MPOs at the monthly SAPR CMG and via monthly safety checks improves victim protection.

Hindered Medical Care

No victims experienced hindered medical care in FY17.

2.2 Briefly describe your leadership-approved future plans to deliver consistent and effective advocacy and care for all Service members or their adult dependents.

The Marine Corps SAPR Program aims to support individuals who have experienced sexual assault, from the time a report is filed to the conclusion of services. SARCs, SAPR VAs, medical professionals, and counselors continue to support the victim as long as the victim desires services, even if the ensuing investigation determines there is insufficient evidence to proceed to trial, and even if a court-martial returns a not guilty verdict. The investigative and legal outcomes of a case in no way affect the duration or quality of care that the Marine Corps provides to victims of sexual assault.

The Marine Corps constantly develops and improves its advocacy and victim services, with the goal of delivering consistent and effective support, response, and reporting options. To successfully deliver consistent and effective victim support, response, and reporting options, the Marine Corps employs comprehensive training with a goal to remove barriers to reporting while making Marines aware of available supportive services. The message in these training packages is infused with our core values of honor, courage, and commitment. For FY18, the Marine Corps plans to implement the following initiatives:

SAPR Training Review

HQMC SAPR is currently working with RAND to ensure that training, initiatives, education, and awareness are supported by measures of effectiveness and/or performance. HQMC SAPR is reviewing all SAPR related training for consistency, standardization, DoD learning objectives and core competencies, and Marine Corps SAPR foundational messaging.

SAPR VA Training Revision

SAPR VA initial training is currently being revised by HQMC SAPR Research, Program Development, and Program Implementation sections. Training revisions will address prevention messaging, trauma-informed care, how to support male victims of sexual assault, and retaliation. SARCs in the fleet will be given the opportunity to review, edit, and comment on the training prior to implementation.

Strategic Communication

The HQMC SAPR Strategic Communication Plan discusses who is eligible for SAPR-related services. For example, the August 2017 issue of the SAPR Monthly Snapshot focused on eligibility to ensure that dependents over the age of 18 were aware that they qualified for SAPR services. This targeted communication on print and social media will continue in FY18.

Implementing Research Findings

Using findings from the study, “Evaluating Best Practices for Interacting with Male Marines Who Experienced a Sexual Assault,” the Marine Corps aims to (1) inform the development of a job aid for SARCs and VAs who interact with male victims and (2) Promote reporting for male Marines by highlighting that Restricted Reports are confidential.

The interviews showed that building rapport with male Marines who experienced a sexual assault is critical in establishing trust and making male Marines feel comfortable. A trifold or other pocket material will be developed that will educate SARCs and SAPR VAs on male victim reporting barriers and strategies that can be used to build rapport with male Marines who decide to report. The interviews also showed that confidentiality was a major concern for male Marines who experienced a sexual assault. The Marine Corps SAPR Program will examine ways to educate and clearly communicate that a Restricted Report is a confidential avenue for reporting and what this option means for the reporter. (3) Enhance the Headquarters Marine Corps (HQMC) communication strategy for male victims, and (4) incorporate findings and lessons learned into SAPR training.

3. Goal 3—Investigation—“Sustain a high level of competence in the investigation of adult sexual assault using investigative resources to yield timely results.”

3.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Investigation goal. (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 3 – Investigation, p. 9)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant changes to the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ this year to improve investigation of sexual assault cases? What enhancements have been made to your Military Services’ Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution Capability for MCIOs? (DoDI 5509.19, “Establishment of Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution (SVIP) Capability within the Military Criminal Investigative Organizations (MCIOs)”)
- What continuing efforts are being made to increase collaboration and improve interoperability with civilian law enforcement to include sharing information on Civilian and Military Protective Orders and assuring receipt of civilian case dispositions? (DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (July 7, 2015), Encl 4, para 3g)

REQUIRED:

- What metrics are being used to assess the effectiveness of investigation efforts intended to sustain a high level of competence in the investigation of adult sexual assault? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 3 – Investigation, p. 9)

- What updates have been made to the training of your Military Service MCIO and other DoD law enforcement activity (LEA) resources assigned to conduct an investigation of adult sexual assault? Describe efforts undertaken to provide training and guidance to all first responders to a sexual assault allegation, ensuring the preservation of evidence and witness testimony. (DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (May 24, 2017), Encl 10, para 4p / DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 3 – Investigation, Objective 3.1, Task #1, p. 4 / DoDI 5505.18, “Investigation of Adult Sexual Assault in the Department of Defense,” (March, 22 2017), para 3.3, p. 7)

- What efforts are being made to improve or address turnaround time for evidence sent to the Defense Forensic Science Center (e.g., processing of Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE) kits and other evidence)? (Joint Chiefs of Staff Strategic Direction to the Joint Force on SAPR (May 7, 2012), p. 11)

Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS) Headquarters has greatly expanded the oversight of all sexual offense investigations and improved the timely communication of the status of the program to all of the field units. During Fiscal Year 2017 (FY17), the NCIS Family and Sexual Violence (F&SV) Program reviewed and evaluated 100 percent of the open reports for all of the sexual offense investigations agency-wide. The focus of the reviews is to ensure that the initial, time-sensitive steps in the investigative process are completed in a timely fashion and the proper notifications have been made to partner organizations in the Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution (SVIP) Capability team.

The NCIS F&SV Program also developed a monthly status report designed for the field office senior management to identify areas of strength and areas for improvement for each office’s sex offense investigations. The report identifies agency-wide trends in the investigative process and provides guidance to the field on best practices for addressing challenges in sex offense investigations. NCIS adheres to all provisions of the SVIP Capability, requiring field offices to make the initial notification on all sexual assault, child abuse, and domestic violence cases to the SVIP team within 24 hours of determining an allegation meets the elements of a qualified offense. All SVIP contacts are documented in NCIS investigative reports. NCIS reports lacking proper SVIP documentation are individually identified by the NCIS F&SV program and sent to the field office leadership for immediate corrective action.

Increasing Collaboration with Civilian Law Enforcement

During FY17, NCIS implemented policy requiring field offices to generate a separate report to affect entry into the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) of every Military Protective Order (MPO) issued during an NCIS investigation. The objective of the new policy is two-fold. First, it ensures the MPO is made readily available to civilian law enforcement agencies across the country allowing police departments to notify NCIS when active duty members are found in violation of the MPO. Second, it increases accountability by providing a mechanism to easily identify during oversight review whether or not the MPO has been entered into NCIC.

NCIS continues to require all field offices to report the disposition of all cases in which NCIS was the lead agency or worked the investigation jointly with another law enforcement agency. Field offices are unable to close their investigative report until disposition is reported for all active duty subjects. Each NCIS field office is responsible for maintaining a working relationship with local law enforcement agencies that encourages the sharing of information on sex offense investigations. This is accomplished in a variety of ways to include NCIS participation on local task forces, regional criminal intelligence fusion centers, and providing assistance for other agency cases.

Metrics

All NCIS open reports for investigations of sexual offenses, domestic violence, and child abuse (both physical and sexual) are thoroughly reviewed and measured against a standardized checklist to ensure all time-sensitive investigative tasks are completed expeditiously at the initiation of the investigation. Field offices receive a monthly scorecard showing how effectively their offices were in responding to F&SV crimes for that particular month. The reviews also rate the appropriateness of the NCIS response to an allegation. For example, notifying a local law enforcement agency to open a joint investigation or assuming the case as an NCIS lead investigation. The F&SV program conducts a thorough case review of a minimum of 10 percent of all closed cases every year to evaluate the NCIS investigative response through the entirety of the investigation.

Training Updates

NCIS continues efforts to have all agents who potentially could respond to an incident of sexual assault trained in the NCIS Advanced Adult Sexual Assault Investigator Training Program (AASAITP). Currently, NCIS is on track to have 100 percent of the agent corps trained in the AASAITP by the end of FY19. This training focuses on the effective response by law enforcement for victims of trauma rather than suspect centered training used in most law enforcement programs. In line with the SVIP Capability, NCIS actively includes our SVIP partners from the Judge Advocate General Corps and active duty investigative personnel to attend the training. The Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC) also presents a block of instruction during this training program. This ensures that responders to incidents across the Department of the Navy are trained to the same standard. During FY17, NCIS Headquarters hosted a “train-the-trainer” symposium where F&SV agents from around the agency were provided refresher training in sexual assault investigative techniques and the latest in public law and DoD policy for sex offense investigations. The agents then return to their home offices to provide the refresher training.

Turnaround Time for Evidence

For several years, NCIS has assigned an NCIS forensic consultant agent to serve as the liaison between the Defense Forensic Science Center and NCIS. The forensic consultant is assigned to the lab in Georgia and triages all NCIS submissions to prioritize completion based on the urgency of the cases (e.g., the suspect is in pre-trial confinement and the speedy trial clock is running). NCIS also began submitting all Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE) kits that were collected during the course of an investigation to the lab for analysis regardless of the circumstances of the incident. NCIS field offices are required to submit these kits to the lab immediately upon seizure. By making the submission of each kit mandatory, NCIS will submit the kits in a more timely fashion instead of evaluating each kit to see if it meets the criteria for submission. More timely NCIS submission of kits will reduce the total turnaround time from the time of the examination to the time the laboratory analysis is completed.

3.2 Briefly describe your leadership-approved future plans to sustain a high level of competence in the investigation of adult sexual assault.

NCIS will continue to train all agents in the AASAITP course as well as provide additional refresher and advanced training to agents already working sexual offense investigations. Once the goal is achieved of having 100 percent of the agent corps complete AASAITP, NCIS will enhance the basic sexual assault investigation training provided to new agents at the NCIS Special Agent Basic Training Program at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center to include the victim centered response training featured in the AASAITP. In this way, all new NCIS agents will arrive at their first assignment with the training required to begin investigating sexual offenses. NCIS will continue to provide advanced training opportunities to F&SV agents to include professional symposiums such as Ending Violence Against Women and through investigative training programs such as the Reid Advanced Interrogation Course.

4. Goal 4—Accountability—“Maintain a high competence in holding alleged offenders appropriately accountable.”

4.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Accountability goal. (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 4 – Accountability, p. 9)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant or force-wide changes to how your Military Service addresses the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ this year to improve legal support to Service members and adult family members who reported a sexual assault? What enhancements have been made to the SAPR training provided to those who are affiliated with the Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution Capability program (paralegals, trial counsel, and victim-witness assistance personnel) for responding to allegations of sexual assault? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan "Task List," (December 1, 2016), Goal 4 – Accountability, Objective 4.1, Task #1, p. 4)

- What are your efforts to ensure SARC, SAPR VA, MCIO, and commander knowledge of recent victim rights and military justice updates? (DoDI 6495.02, "Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures," (July 7, 2015), Encl 10, para 7)

REQUIRED:

- What metrics are being used to assess the effectiveness of holding alleged offenders appropriately accountable, to include your Military Service's metrics for measuring the success of the SVC/VLC program? (SecDef Memo (August 14, 2013), Improving Victim Legal Support, p. 1 / NDAA for FY 2016, section 532 / NDAA for FY 2013, section 573)

- Describe enhancements to the Special Victims' Counsel (SVC)/ Victims' Legal Counsel (VLC) program. Describe efforts to plan and fund for these programs in your POM process. (SecDef Memo (August 14, 2013), Improving Victim Legal Support, p. 1 / NDAA for FY 2016, section 532 / NDAA for FY 2013, section 573)

- (NGB) What efforts are being made to reassess the Office of Complex Administrative Investigation's (OCI) timeliness and resources to determine how to improve the timeliness of processing sexual assault investigations involving members of the Army National Guard, and identify the resources needed to improve the timeliness of these investigations? (GAO Report 17-217, Better Resource Management Needed to Improve Prevention and Response in the Army National Guard and Army Reserve (February 27, 2017), p. 2)

- Has your Military Service experienced any challenges in implementing 10 USC 15656(b) regarding states laws and confidential disclosures of a sexual assault.

The Marine Corps has taken great strides to ensure its Trial Counsel receive the necessary and appropriate training to assist investigators, develop and be effective advocates in criminal cases, and ensure appropriate victim care to achieve just results that withstand appellate review. On 25 May 2017, the Staff Judge Advocate (SJA) to the Commandant of the Marine Corps (CMC) issued Marine Corps Bulletin 5800 (MCBUL 5800), which sets forth the standards, policies, and procedures for the provision of military justice legal services in the U.S. Marine Corps. In particular, MCBUL 5800 consolidated previous guidance issued in response to statutory changes and promulgated additional guidance for handling special victim cases.

Special victim cases are those cases involving alleged violations of Articles 118, 119, 119a, 120, 120a, 120b, 125 (forcible sodomy or sodomy with a child), 128 (domestic violence involving aggravated assault or child abuse), 134 (child pornography or assault with intent to commit the previously listed articles), or 80 (attempts to commit the previously listed articles) of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). All special victim cases are tried by a Complex Trial Team (CTT) member.

A CTT consists of Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution (SVIP) Trial Counsel, civilian Highly Qualified Experts (HQEs), victim witness assistance personnel, Regional Trial Investigators (RTI), Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution (SVIP) administrative support personnel, and paralegals from across a legal support services area (LSSA), also known as a region. The Officers-In-Charge (OICs) of the Legal Services Support Sections (LSSS) that provide services to the LSA maintain a list of all SVIP personnel in their respective LSAs.

To become SVIP qualified, a Trial Counsel must meet the following requirements:

- (1) be a General Court-Martial Trial Counsel (GCMTC);
- (2) demonstrate to the LSSS OIC's satisfaction that the Trial Counsel possesses the requisite expertise, experience, education, innate ability, and disposition to competently prosecute special victim cases;
- (3) prosecute a contested special or general court-martial in a special victim case as an Assistant Trial Counsel (ATC);
- (4) attend an intermediate level trial advocacy training course for the prosecution of special victims cases (e.g., Trial Counsel Assistance Program (TCAP) Prosecuting Special Victim Cases Course); and
- (5) receive recommendations, in writing, from the Senior Trial Counsel (STC), Regional Trial Counsel (RTC), and, when applicable, LSST OIC.

The RTIs and SVIP administrative support personnel must also complete a Trial Counsel orientation course and attend a TCAP approved special victim training course.

An individual who has a conviction for a substantiated incident or is currently facing an open investigation into any of the following offenses is expressly prohibited from serving as SVIP personnel: (1) sexual assault, (2) domestic violence, (3) child abuse, or (4) any other felony-level offense.

In order to ensure appropriate supervision of cases, an SVTC assigned to a sexual assault or domestic violence case must provide a Prosecution Merit Memorandum (PMM) to the responsible staff judge advocate, except in those cases where no military jurisdiction exists. At a minimum, a PMM must include a summary of the case; a victim's preferred disposition, and reason for that preference if offered; an indication as to whether civilian authorities declined the case and reason for the declination; an evaluation of the real, documentary; and testimonial evidence in the case; and, a discussion of any jurisdictional and statute of limitations concerns. The PMMs are reviewed and approved by the RTC prior to submission to the staff judge advocate. The PMM must be submitted to the SJA prior to the Sexual Assault – Initial Disposition Authority (SA-IDA) initial disposition decision.

In addition to the steps taken above, the Marine Corps has taken steps to improve data collection regarding how sexual assault cases are handled in the Service. No later than two business days after final disposition of a sexual assault case, the SA-IDA is required to send a Sexual Assault Disposition Report (SADR) to Judge Advocate Division (JAD), Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps.

Victim Witness Assistance Personnel

With regard to victim-witness assistance personnel, JAD has incorporated a four hour block into its annual week long Victim Witness Assistance Program (VWAP) training. This block of training focuses on the effects of traumatic events on victims to help victim-witness assistance personnel better understand and assist victims of crime.

Ensuring Knowledge of Military Justice Updates

Special and general court-martial convening authorities attend the Senior Officer Course and the “Cornerstone: The Commandant’s Combined Commandership Course (Cornerstone).” The Senior Officer Course is provided by staff from the Naval Justice School, Newport, Rhode Island. It is also open to company commanders, battalion legal officers, and senior enlisted Marines upon availability.

The Senior Officer Course is two and a half to three days in length. Three hours of the course are devoted to legal training with approximately two hours devoted to responding to sexual assault cases. Naval Justice School also sends out a mobile training team to reach the major installations so commanders do not necessarily need to travel for the course. During Fiscal Year 2017 (FY17), Naval Justice School provided this course 22 times. Naval Justice School is planning on presenting this course 23 times during FY18.

In addition to the Senior Officer Course, commanders and sergeants major also attend the Cornerstone. The course is given twice a year. Attendance is mandatory for commanders and sergeants major either prior to or shortly after taking command or assuming their role as Senior Enlisted Advisor. During the Cornerstone, the attendees receive a three hour block of instruction on legal issues to include updates regarding victims’ rights and military justice. The period of instruction is divided into a one-hour block of classroom instruction followed by a two hour block of scenario based discussion led by a colonel (O6) and assisted by senior judge advocates in the rank of lieutenant colonel (O5) or major (O4).

The OIC, Victims’ Legal Counsel Organization (VLCO) conducts a site visit to each of the four VLCO regions at least once each year. This results in the OIC going to all Marine Corps Bases or Installations within each region where a Victims’ Legal Counsel (VLC) is located (11 in all). During each site visit, the OIC meets with as many of the general officers, commanding officers, and other members of the local leadership as available to discuss the program and the services the VLCs provide in general. Additionally, each Regional Victims' Legal Counsel (RVLC) has an aggressive and continuous outreach program designed to accomplish this goal within his or her region, to include having VLCs engage recruits at the Depots.

Metrics

The VLCO is currently undergoing metric development and refinement. The initial VLCO metrics are:

(1) How well informed are victims about the military justice system, investigative process, and other key processes which impact their lives? (Goes to victims making informed and the best decision for themselves.)

(2) How skillfully are VLCs advocating for their clients in and out of the court-martial process? (Goes to how well VLCs are safeguarding victim rights, for example privacy rights, and ensuring that victims have a voice.)

(3) Are victims fully apprised of all available military and non-military resources that they may qualify for as a result of being a victim of sexual assault, domestic violence, or other violent crime? (Goes to victims availing themselves of resources available to assist in their recovery and welfare.)

(4) Do VLCs treat their clients with dignity, respect, and honesty? Are they responsive to their clients? (Goes to ensuring professional standards and ethical conduct.)

There are no formal systems in place to address success. The case load for VLCs continues to increase across the organization despite the number of reports remaining relatively the same over the last few years. This seems to suggest that more victims are seeking VLC services. The VLCO has also seen increased referrals from Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR), Family Advocacy Program (FAP), Military Criminal Investigative Organizations (MCIOs), Trial Counsels, and Commands.

Enhancements to the SVC/VLC Program

The VLCO is currently undergoing Mission Essential Task analysis to in part ensure that it has the right VLC training curriculum to develop the VLC knowledge and skills to complete those tasks.

The VLCO continues to pursue training for counsel to serve as appellate VLC to increase its capability to raise petitions under Article 6b, UCMJ. The VLCO has added civilian paralegal personnel across the Organization to provide continuity and to be the face of the organization when the VLCs are in court, on Temporary Additional Duty (TAD), etc. Finally, the VLCO is currently studying whether other VLCs should be added to its four regions due to consistently high caseloads.

Challenges Implementing 10 USC 1565(b)

The Marine Corps has not experienced issues with implementing 10 USC 1565(b).

4.2 Briefly describe your leadership-approved future plans to maintain a high competence in holding alleged offenders appropriately accountable.

The Marine Corps seeks to elevate the practice of military justice in the Service. In this effort, the Marine Corps has taken steps to increase the number of judge advocates assigned the Additional Military Occupational Specialty (AMOS) 4409 Criminal Law Specialist by obtaining additional school seats to attend the graduate course at The Judge Advocate General's Legal Center and School (TJAGLCS). Graduates of the course obtain a Masters of Laws (LL.M.) degree and may also obtain a specialty in military justice.

The judge advocates who obtain this specialty are assigned to critical supervisory positions as senior trial counsel, complex trial counsel, or regional trial counsel across, senior defense counsel, regional defense counsel, and regional victims' legal counsel to mentor young judge advocates.

Each of the military justice practice areas (prosecution, defense, and victims' counsel) also attend annual training to enhance their advocacy skills and to provide updates on developments in military justice practice.

5. Goal 5—Assessment—“Effectively measure, analyze, assess, and report SAPR Program progress to improve effectiveness.”

5.1 Summarize your efforts to achieve the Assessment goal. (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 5 – Assessment, p. 10)

In this strategic summary, consider the following for inclusion, especially when there have been significant or force-wide changes to how your Military Service addresses the following matters (there is no need to repeat prior Annual Report submissions if these processes have remained largely the same as in prior years):

- Overall Approach: What force-wide initiatives did your Military Service employ to ensure the quality, reliability, and validity of data collected in the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID)? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021 (December 1, 2016), Goal 5 – Assessment, Objective 5.1, p. 10 / DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (May 24, 2017), Encl 2, para 6ad)
- What transition policies are in place for incoming personnel to ensure Service member sponsorship and unit integration into a chain of command? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 5 – Assessment, Objective 5.1, Task 8, p. 4)

REQUIRED:

- What are your efforts to enhance SAPR Program oversight activities, to include the use of recent surveys (e.g., WGRA and MIJES) and insights from the Government Accountability Office, advisory committees, internal inspections, and feedback from enlisted and officer trainees to improve your programs and services? (DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan, 2017-2021, (December 1, 2016), Objective 5.2, p. 10 / DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Strategic Plan “Task List,” (December 1, 2016), Goal 5 – Assessment, Objective 5.1, Tasks #2 & #6, p. 4)
- What policy and procedures are in place to fulfill the 50-year retention of DD Form 2910 (Victim Reporting Preference Statement) and DD Form 2911 (DoD Sexual Assault Forensic Examination Report) regardless of whether the Service member filed a Restricted or Unrestricted Report? (NDAA for FY 2014, section 1723 / DoDI 6495.02, “Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures,” (May 24, 2017), para 4u)
- What policy and procedures are in place to implement minimum qualification standards to be selected, trained, and certified as a SAPR Program Manager? (NDAA for FY 2014, section 1725 / Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness Memorandum, “Certification Standards for Department of Defense Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Program Managers,” (March 10, 2015))

Overall Approach

Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID) Program Managers (PMs) conducted data quality assurance audits at least monthly. These comprehensive audits targeted data points crucial to this annual report, such as victim demographics, incident details, and investigative agency information. Audits were formally tasked to the Sexual Assault Response Coordinators (SARCs) to be completed by the end of the month. After the tasker’s suspense date, DSAID PMs accessed each case in DSAID to verify that the missing items were completed and to enter any information that was not editable by the SARC.

Program Managers worked collaboratively with data analysts for Naval Criminal Investigative Services (NCIS) on a weekly basis to ensure that all investigations of adult sexual assault were entered in DSAID. NCIS analysts sent PMs a weekly report listing all pertinent investigations initiated during the previous week. Program Managers would compare the investigations to DSAID cases to ensure a one-to-one match.

Every three weeks DSAID PMs received an interface report from DoD SAPRO which detailed the Unrestricted Reports that successfully interfaced or failed to interface with the Military Criminal Investigative Organization (MCIO) databases. Program Managers collaborated with NCIS analysts to determine the reason for the interface failure and to rectify the problem. This process maximized the number of DSAID cases receiving the data interface.

Program Managers conducted audits of data to be received via the NCIS data interface, such as subject information and offense type. These audits were sent to NCIS analysts for reconciliation. These audits allowed PMs to account for Unrestricted Reports missing subject data.

DSAID PMs, Legal Officers (LOs) and NCIS analysts met quarterly to discuss data quality, case dispositions, and DSAID processes. These meetings, hosted by NCIS, ensured that the three prongs of the Service-level data entry process maintained a strongly cooperative relationship and allowed for the reconciliation of cases with data quality and cleanliness concerns.

Program Managers also hosted a DSAID and Data Management Training webinar on a monthly basis. Two webinars were held each month, one during Japanese and Hawaiian business hours and one during Continental United States (CONUS) business hours; both covered the same information and allowed for maximum participation.

Transition Policies

Per Marine Corps Order 1320.11G (Marine Corps Sponsorship Program), during the mandatory Permanent Change of Station (PCS)/PCS Outside the Continental United States (OCONUS) class, Marines are given the option of requesting a sponsor if they are doing a PCS move. OCONUS personnel in the grades of E-1 through E-5, WO-1 through CWO-2, and O-1 through O-3 are assigned a sponsor. Accompanied OCONUS personnel of all ranks will be assigned a sponsor. Other personnel will be assigned a sponsor upon request.

The Sponsor contacts the Marine prior to his/her arrival to help ease integration into the Command and the installation as a whole.

Enhancements to SAPR Program Oversight Activities

In Fiscal Year 2017 (FY17), the Marine Corps worked to enhance SAPR Program oversight activities across several areas:

- The Commandant of the Marine Corps (CMC) received weekly reports, which include the number of reports received year-to-date in the operational force and supporting establishment (top-line numbers). The CMC also received detailed reports via the Gouge Sheet and Tone of the Force that include such data points as total reports (Unrestricted/Restricted), reports converted to Unrestricted in the same FY and from previous FYs, prior-to-Service reports, offense types (e.g., sexual assault, rape, abusive sexual contact, attempts to commit offenses), and investigations initiated and completed in the current FY (case disposition information is updated quarterly).
- From September 2016 to September 2017, HQMC conducted a study that explored best practices for interacting with Male Marines who experienced a sexual assault.

The purpose of this project was to interview SARC and SAPR Victim Advocates (VAs) who support male Marines who reported a sexual assault during their service. The interviews provided information on SARC and SAPR VA interactions with male Marines who experienced sexual assault in the military.

- HQMC SAPR compiled and disseminated a series of information sheets with data from the 2016 Workplace and Gender Relations Survey of Active Duty Members (WGRA) to SARCs, SAPR VAs, and Commanders. The series of information sheets included a general overview of findings from the 2016 WGRA and results pertaining to sexual assault prevention, sexual assault response, and leadership climate and provided recommendations for how SAPR professionals and Commanders can use the findings.
- HQMC SAPR audits Marine Corps Installation 24/7 Sexual Assault Support Lines monthly to confirm that they are operating as intended and that they meet performance standards set by the Department of Navy. Results of the audits are reported quarterly in the SAPR Monthly Snapshot. These audits were conducted each month of FY17, with the following end result: 94% of calls were handled properly, while 6% of calls were not handled properly. These results meet and exceed the Department of Navy standards. Calls not returned within the required 15-minute timeframe accounted for the majority of the audit failures.

Policy and Procedures for Retention of DD Form 2910

Department of Defense Instruction (DoDI) 6495.02 (paragraph 4u) states that DD Forms 2910 and 2911 will be retained for 50 years, regardless of whether the Service member filed a Restricted or Unrestricted Report. Marine Corps Order (MCO) 1752.5B policy (Chap 5, paragraph 2b) states that all DD 2910s will be maintained by the responsible SARC in a secure file cabinet under double lock and key. In the case of Unrestricted Reports, a copy is also uploaded into the DSAID case.

Policy and Procedures for a SAPR Program Manager

The Marine Corps has designated the Headquarters Marine Corps SAPR Branch Head as the SAPR PM. Per protocols, the PM completes Marine Corps 40-hour Advocacy Training and all levels of Sexual Assault Response Coordinator Training, e.g., Command, Installation, and Marine Forces and pre-command training. In addition to SAPR training, the PM participates in the Marine and Family Programs Orientation and training for supervisory employees as well as the Director, Marine Corps Action Officer's Course.

5.2 Describe your leadership-approved future plans for effectively measuring, analyzing, assessing, and reporting SAPR program progress to improve effectiveness.

Motivated by a commitment to establishing and incorporating evidence-based practices, the Marine Corps contracted the RAND Corporation to identify and develop measures of performance (MOPs) and measures of effectiveness (MOEs) to ensure that existing SAPR programs and practices have the intended effects and outcomes. MOPs and MOEs will be finalized in December 2017 and HQMC SAPR will begin implementing these measures during FY18.

Using findings from the study, "Evaluating Best Practices for Interacting with Male Marines Who Experienced a Sexual Assault," the Marine Corps SAPR Program will (1) inform the development of a job aid for SARCs and SAPR VAs who interact with male victims, (2) promote reporting for male Marines by highlighting that Restricted Reports are confidential, (3) enhance the Marine Corps communication strategy for male victims, and (4) incorporate findings and lessons learned into SAPR training.

The Marine Corps SAPR Program will continue to collect measures of performance when assessing the impact of social media posts. For each post, total reach is garnered: impressions, shares, likes, and the number of people who used the supportive service provided in each post. With each post, we include a "call to action" that provides users with more information, advocacy services, or the opportunity to talk to support personnel. Because we cannot determine measures of effectiveness for social media posts, they act as complimentary initiatives to our prevention efforts.

6. Core Functions: Communication and Policy

6.1 Provide a brief summary for new or expanded efforts taken in FY17 on the following:

- How does your Military Service publicize the sexual assault restricted and unrestricted reporting options to your Service members and adult dependents? (DoDI 6495.02, "Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures," (May 24, 2017), Encl 4)
- How are commanders being held accountable for the climate of their units? What actions (both positive and negative) are taken by senior commanders to document the subordinate commander's success or failure in establishing and maintaining a supportive command climate? (SecDef Memo (May 6, 2013), Enhancing Commander Accountability, p. 2)

REQUIRED:

- How does your Military Service publicize to your Service members the different individuals and organizations available (i.e., SARCs, VAs, SVC/VLCs, command, IG, MCIO, law enforcement, etc.) to assist them in addressing sexual assault-related retaliation? (DoD Retaliation Prevention and Response Implementation Plan (January 2017), p. 11)
- How does your Military Service disseminate information to first responders, uniformed witnesses, and bystanders on the protections available to them if they are retaliated against for providing assistance to sexual assault victims? (DoD Retaliation Prevention and Response Implementation Plan (January 2017), p. 11)

Publicizing Reporting Options

The Marine Corps promotes Unrestricted and Restricted Reporting options to Service members and adult dependents via several methods, including:

- Annual SAPR Training. All Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) training for the fleet, supporting program training, pre-command, senior enlisted, and career advancing Professional Military Education (PME) include the different reporting options, who can accept the reports, and a breakdown of the differences in reporting options.
- Commandant Commandership Cornerstone. At this course, the Marine Corps SAPR Program addresses the reporting options, how to support and promulgate the options via their policy letters, prevention methods, and command's standard operating procedure.
- SAPR Monthly Snapshot. The SAPR monthly newsletter provides the phone number and link to the Department of Defense (DoD) Safe Helpline as well as the recommendation to seek local assistance.
- Social Media Posts. Every product that is supported by the SAPR Program Strategic Communication Strategy includes information about Restricted/Unrestricted reporting, supportive services (to include outside of installation and chain of command), as well as options for dependents over the age of 18.
- MCCS Forward. The official website of Marine Corps Community Services (MCCS), MCCS Forward is a dynamic, digital new publication that focuses on topics and services universally important to Marines and family members. The SAPR Program has been publicizing information about SAPR services, including reporting options, and topics since Fiscal Year 2016 (FY16).
- Unit Websites. Marine unit websites identify available resources for Service members and adult dependents, listing contact information for Sexual Assault Response Coordinators (SARCs), as applicable, as well as defining reporting options.

Commander Accountability for Unit Climate

Commanders have a variety of options available to hold subordinate commanders accountable for the command climate of their units. Pursuant to Marine Corps Order (MCO) 1610.7, a commander is required to comment on and evaluate a subordinate commander's ability to set a command climate that is non-permissive of misconduct, especially sexual assault, in the subordinate commander's fitness reports.

If a superior commander finds a subordinate commander is failing to set the appropriate command climate, the superior commander may take appropriate action, to include but not limited to, formal or informal counseling, relief of the subordinate commander, or pursue action through the military justice process.

The leadership and command climate evaluation of Commanders throughout the Marine Corps is a function that is carried out by the commander's immediate higher headquarters leadership. If a Commander is relieved by his Higher Headquarters (HHQ), then Manpower Management/Manpower Management Officer Assignments would assign orders to replace that Commander.

Publicizing Retaliation-Related Services

The Inspector General of the Marine Corps (IGMC) addresses complaints of retaliation. The IGMC, the Judge Advocate Division (JAD), and SAPR personnel all publicize services to individuals and organizations that address sexual assault-related retaliation.

Inspector General of the Marine Corps

The Deputy Naval Inspector General for Marine Corps Matters/IGMC has both a Hotline phone number and email address for use in submitting a complaint directly to the IGMC. The Hotline phone number and a link for complaint submission are available on the IGMC's website. As well, the IGMC website discusses the DoDIG's hotline and provides a link to the DoDIG's website.

The Command Inspector General (CIG) Offices at each command locally publicize their Hotline and the IGMC Hotline and reference the DoDIG Whistleblower Hotline.

The IGMC conducts or participates in a wide variety of training events, at which all forms of retaliation are discussed: Commandant's Commander's Courses, World-wide Annual IGMC Symposium, Senior Leaders Legal Course (annual, upon request), Inspector General Mobile Training Teams (4/year), Victims' Legal Counsel Training, all Basic School classes, Annual Sergeant Major Symposium, Brigadier General Select Orientation Courses, and IGMC Newsletters.

DoDIG information is further disseminated and publicized during IGMC biennial inspection of the CIGs Marine Corps-wide. The IGMC and all CIGs have the ability to in-take all allegations of retaliation via their general hotlines (there is no dedicated retaliation hotline in the Marine Corps).

Judge Advocate Division

The Marine Corps has taken a number of steps to publicize to Service Members the resources available to those who experience retaliation after reporting or a crime or making other protected communication.

On 16 May 2016, JAD issued Practice Advisory 2-16 to inform judge advocates and legal services support personnel, who advise commanders and inform service members, about the various types of retaliation a Service Member may experience after reporting a crime or making a protected communication, the avenues for reporting, and the entities that provide assistance.

On 6 June 2016, the Marine Corps issued MARADMIN 285/16 which provides guidance to all Service Members on the means available to report instances of suspected retaliation. The MARADMIN identifies the types of retaliation a Service Member may experience and details the reporting process through the various agencies available to assist those who have suffered retaliation.

During annual Victim Witness Assistance Program (VWAP) Training provided by JAD to victim-witness assistance personnel, there is a portion of instruction that covers the issues associated with retaliation and where Service Members who feel they have been subject to retaliation may seek assistance.

SAPR Personnel

The Marine Corps ensures that retaliation-related services are promoted using several methods to ensure the widest possible distribution. SAPR personnel maintain open dialogues with the Equal Opportunity Advisor and Inspector General to support case determination when there is a report of retaliation. Personnel training (e.g., SAPR Victim Advocate 40-hour training) provides the opportunity to disseminate information about retaliation-related services. Directly following an Unrestricted Report of sexual assault, the Command and need-to-know agencies are immediately notified in order to best ensure safety and accountability of any retaliation. Agency resources are combined in order to provide information and insight towards creating and implementing preventative measures. Command SARCs, SAPR Victim Advocates (VAs), Command Equal Opportunity, Commanders, and the Inspector General's office frequently participate in open, formal and/or informal discussions regarding retaliation and resources available to report.

Disseminating Information to Individuals Who Have Experienced Retaliation

MARADMIN 285/16, "Methods to Report Retaliation and Resolution Process," addresses the resources and avenues for reporting retaliation and the added protections detailed in the Retaliation Prevention & Response Implementation Plan have been incorporated into all IGMC training curricula on retaliation. This MARADMIN is also discussed during most SAPR training and is provided as a handout within select commands.

Every new-join brief, SAPR training session, and check-in process features the necessary reporting information for IGMC. Aboard an installation, posters and television monitors in high-traffic areas identify the appropriate reporting options for a sexual assault or for an instance of associated retaliation. Online, SARCs and other SAPR personnel use unit websites and social media to define what qualifies as retaliation and distribute contact information to report retaliation. Some commands use information sheets with frequently asked questions with the same intent. When an individual reports a sexual assault, the SARC or SAPR VA informs the victim of available resources. During every Case Management Group, information regarding these resources is reiterated for all participants.

7. NDAA Requirements - Provide your Military Service's status on the following NDAA for FY 2017 requirements. If the provision has been implemented, indicate "Completed," provide the implementation date, and a short explanation (150 words or less) of the action taken. If the provision has not been implemented, indicate "In Progress," provide the projected completion date, and a short update (150 words or less) of the current status. All are required.

7.1 Discharge review board (Board of Correction of Military Records (BCMR)) guidance on claims asserting post-traumatic stress disorder or traumatic brain injury in connection with combat or sexual trauma as a basis for review of discharge.

Additionally, describe BCMR procedures for the following requirements:

- How does a former Service member present medical evidence from the Secretary of Veterans Affairs or civilian health care provider to the BCMR, and how does the BCMR review and use that evidence?
- Method of presentation: Is the review conducted in person with the former Service member, by file review, or both? If not in-person, does the former Service member have the option to request an in-person meeting or to be represented by counsel?
- What steps are taken to review (with liberal consideration to the former Service member) how post-traumatic stress disorder or traumatic brain injury potentially contributed to the circumstances resulting in a discharge of a lesser characterization?

(NDAA for FY 2017, section 535)

The Board of Corrections for Naval Records (BCNR) completed a two-day training workshop (Aug 1-2 2017) for Board members and staff with an emphasis on providing liberal consideration when reviewing discharge cases where the petitioner claims post-traumatic stress disorder, traumatic brain injury in connection with combat, sexual trauma or any mental health issue as a factor in the discharge. In addition to other presentations by psychiatrists and the Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (SAPRO), a staff member of the Office of the Undersecretary of Defense (OUSD) for Personnel and Readiness (P&R) briefed the soon to be published "Clarifying Guidance to Military Discharge Review Boards and Boards for Correction of Military/Naval Records Considering Requests by Veterans for Modification of their Discharge Due to Mental Health Conditions, Sexual Assault, or Sexual Harassment."

When applying for a change to the characterization, narrative reason, or reenlistment code of a discharge, the petitioner is responsible for submitting any and all documentation available to support their contention. If no documentation is submitted and the petitioner service record does not support contentions, the BCNR notifies the member in writing to please submit any information they have, including medical documentation. The BCNR also requests personnel and medical records on these individuals from the location that the service or medical record has been archived (generally Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) or National Personnel Records Center). BCNR does not request DVA records outside the petitioner's active service. Once available documentation is collected, the BCNR requests an advisory opinion from a clinical psychologist or psychiatrist.

The DD 149 application includes a block for the petitioner to indicate whether they want a personal appearance. If the petitioner requests a person appearance, the Board members will vote on whether a personal appearance is necessary.

All information, to include the advisory opinion and any rebuttals to the advisory opinion, if submitted, are provided in writing and verbally briefed to the BCNR Board Members. The examiner and Board members review all relevant Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD) published guidance for each case to ensure all steps are followed and liberal consideration is provided for each individual case.

7.2 Professional military justice career development for judge advocates.

Additionally, provide comments on the following:

- What metrics are used to assess your Military Service Pilot Program?
- Did your Military Service develop a system for “military justice experience designators” or “skill identifiers?” (section 542(b))
- Does your Pilot Program assess “other matters related to professional military justice development?” If so, please describe. (section 542(c)(2)) (NDAA for FY 2017, section 542)

In progress. Estimated implementation date: 1 July 2018.

What metrics are used to assess your Military Service Pilot Program?

In Progress. Estimated date of implementation: 1 July 2018. The Marine Corps is the process of developing adequate metrics to assess our Service Pilot Program.

Did your Military Service develop a system for “military justice experience designators” or “skill identifiers?”

Completed. Prior to the passage of the Fiscal Year 2017 (FY17) National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA), the Marine Corps already assigned identifiers for additional military occupational specialties (AMOS) for its judge advocates with specialties in certain areas of the law. Marine judge advocates are assigned the AMOS 4409 to identify those with a military justice specialty. A judge advocate must obtain an advance law degree (LL.M.) in criminal justice from an American Bar Association accredited law school to be assigned the AMOS 4409.

Does your Pilot Program assess “other matters related to professional military justice development?”

Completed.

The Marine Corps developed a SharePoint based program to monitor the training and experience of its judge advocates to ensure the “right Marine in the right billet” through the use of a judge advocate-wide online education and experience tool (Training Jacket). The Training Jacket is used by occupational field sponsors (Plans and Innovation Branch, Judge Advocate Division (JPI)) when determining the appropriate placement for judge advocates.

The Training Jacket contains information regarding the judge advocate’s earned military occupational specialties, training and experience, positions held and duration of each assignment. Through use of the Training Jacket, the Marine Corps will be able to assess the experience level of each judge advocate based on education, training, and performance in assigned billets.

7.3 Specialized training for Military Service Inspector General and other personnel who investigate claims of retaliation associated with sexual harassment and sexual assault reports.

Provide brief comments on the following:

- What training do your Military Service Inspector General personnel and other personnel who investigate claims of retaliation receive on the nature and consequences of retaliation for both sexual harassment and sexual assault? Briefly describe the training addressing the “nature and consequences of sexual assault trauma.
- Which personnel in your Military Service receive this training and how is it conducted?
- Who does the intake of the retaliation complaint/allegation for sexual harassment? for sexual assault?
- Who investigates the complaint/allegation of retaliation for sexual harassment? for sexual assault?

(NDAA for FY 2017, section 546)

Complete. 8 August 2017.

What training do your Military Service Inspector General personnel and other personnel who investigate claims of retaliation receive on the nature and consequences of retaliation for both sexual harassment and sexual assault?

Inspector General of the Marine Corps (IGMC) personnel do not investigate retaliation for sexual assault. The Department of Defense Inspector General (DoDIG) has cognizance over sexual assault connected reprisal. IGMC would investigate reprisal complaints connected to sexual harassment. Command Inspector Generals (CIGs) do not investigate any reprisal complaints.

While the IGMC is the Office of Primary Responsibility for reprisal training, the Marine Corps Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program incorporates additional training regarding retaliation into their programs.

IGMC and the CIGs received training from Sexual Assault Response Coordinators (SARCs) at the 2016 IGMC symposium. This training was a lecture supported by a slide presentation. Significantly, it spoke to the effects, physical and mental, a sexual assault can have on a victim, and how those effects manifest. This training was intended to ensure CIGs were appropriately informed when dealing with victims of sexual assault who come to the Inspector General's office.

Which personnel in your Military Service receive this training and how is it conducted?

All IGMC and participating CIGs received training at the Symposium described above.

Who does the intake of the retaliation complaint/allegation for sexual harassment? for sexual assault?

The IGMC and all CIGs have the ability to in-take all allegations of retaliation. Complainants can contact DoDIG directly via the DoDIG Hotline as well. All complaints received by the CIGs will be forwarded to IGMC.

For cases involving reprisal/retaliation for sexual assault, IGMC will refer the case to DoDIG.

For cases involving retaliation for reporting harassment, IGMC will conduct a preliminary analysis and make a recommendation to DoDIG Whistleblower Reprisal Investigations (WRI) to either investigate or dismiss. The Directorate for WRI has the final decision as to whether a case is investigated as reprisal, dismissed, or investigated for non-reprisal matters.

For non-reprisal retaliation, IGMC will refer the case back to the command, monitor its progress, and provide oversight.

Who investigates the complaint/allegation of retaliation for sexual harassment? for sexual assault?

For reprisal/restriction/some forms of ostracism or complaints against a senior official, IGMC will conduct a preliminary analysis and make a recommendation to DoDIG WRI to either investigate or dismiss. The Directorate for WRI has the final decision as to whether a case is investigated as reprisal, dismissed, or investigated for non-reprisal matters, and will investigate or direct IGMC to investigate. For some forms of non-reprisal/restriction retaliation for harassment, IGMC may refer the matter to the command for investigation.

DoD WRI will handle all whistleblower reprisal complaints where the victim alleges that his or her protected communication was reporting or preparing to report a sexual assault or being perceived as reporting or preparing to report a sexual assault or assisting someone reporting or preparing to report a sexual assault or assisting them after they reported the sexual assault. DoDIG may refer elements of the case, back to IGMC for investigation.

7.4 Notification to complainants of the resolution of investigations into retaliation. Additionally, provide your Military Service policy or practice on the following:

- Who notifies the sexual harassment complainant of the resolution of a retaliation investigation? What is the timeframe between resolution and notification to the complainant? Identify the Military Service authority directing the action.
- Who notifies the victim of retaliation relating to a sexual assault of the resolution of a retaliation investigation? What is the timeframe between resolution and notification to the retaliation victim? Identify the Military Service authority directing the action.
- In instances of retaliation relating to sexual assault, is the retaliation allegation reported to the SAPR Case Management Group? If so, are these retaliation allegations tracked until resolution?
(NDAA for FY 2017, section 547)

Complete. 17 August 2015. HQMC IG followed DoD policy, outlined in DoDD 7050.03, dated 17 April 2015.

Who notifies the sexual harassment complainant of the resolution of a retaliation investigation? What is the timeframe between resolution and notification to the complainant? Identify the Military Service authority directing the action.

Military Equal Opportunity (MEO) will refer all cases of individuals who, in good faith, engage in protected communication and activity are protected from reprisal or retaliation, while ensuring individuals who believe they have been the victim of reprisal or retaliation are aware that they can make a complaint of such reprisal or retaliation to the IGMC or DoDIG. The IGMC at the first General Court Martial Convening Authority will notify the complainant of the resolution of a retaliation investigation and the timeframe in which to expect notification.

NCIS does not investigate complaints of sexual harassment.

Who notifies the victim of retaliation relating to a sexual assault of the resolution of a retaliation investigation? What is the timeframe between resolution and notification to the retaliation victim? Identity the Military Service authority directing the action.

If the case has been investigated by the command, the lowest level appropriate commander will notify the complainant of the resolution of a retaliation investigation and the timeframe in which to expect notification. If the case has been referred to the IGMG or the DoDIG, the Inspector General will notify the complainant directly of the timeframe between resolution and notification.

NCIS will initiate separate investigations if additional allegations of criminal activity against a victim and/or a witness as a result of providing information regarding a sexual assault are identified. While NCIS will investigate all criminal activity done in retaliation to a sexual assault victim and/or witness regardless of the severity of the criminal act, NCIS will refer allegations of reprisal, restriction, maltreatment, and ostracism to the appropriate DoD component with investigative authority. In NCIS investigations of retaliation, the NCIS case agent will provide an investigative update to the victim at a minimum of every 30 days during the pendency of the investigation. Once the active investigation is complete and the case is submitted for prosecutorial determination, the trial counsel assumes the responsibility for providing the updates to the victim.

In instances of retaliation relating to sexual assault, is the retaliation allegation reported to the SAPR Case Management Group? If so, are these retaliation allegations tracked until resolution?

In instances of retaliation relating to sexual assault, the retaliation allegations are reported to the SAPR Case Management Group (CMG) if the SARC or command has been notified of the allegation. There may be instances in which the victim of retaliation reports the incident directly to IG, in which case the command may not be aware of the allegation. If it has been reported at the CMG, the allegation of retaliation will be tracked until resolution, however members of the CMG may not be aware of the resolution if the allegation is being investigated by IG.

NCIS will report all NCIS retaliation investigations related to a sexual assault case to the SAPR Case Management Group. NCIS tracks all NCIS retaliation investigations until the final disposition in the case.

8. Analytics Discussion

8.1 Military Services/NGB*: provide an analytic discussion (1,000 words or less) of your Statistical Report of reported sexual assault cases from the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID). Required elements included on this template are information on Unrestricted Reports; Restricted Reports; service referrals for victims alleging sexual assault; and case synopses of completed investigations.

NGB should provide comments based on its available information and data.

This section must briefly address each of the following:

- Notable changes in the data over time
- Insight or suspected reasons for noted changes, or lack of change, in data
- The application of insights from data analyses for programmatic planning, oversight, and/or research
- Total number of Sexual Assaults (Restricted Reports and Unrestricted Reports) over time (since FY 2008) (Metric #12)
- The number of sexual assault investigations completed by the MCIO in the FY and the corresponding mean and median investigation length. Case open date can be in any year, but the close date must be by the end of the FY (Metric # 5)
- The number of subjects with victims who declined to participate in the military justice process (Metric #8)
- Command action for military subjects under DoD legal authority (to be captured using the most serious crime investigated, comparing penetration to contact crimes) (Non-Metric #1)
- Sexual assault court-martial outcomes (to be captured using the most serious crime charged, comparing penetration to contact crimes) (Non- Metric #2)
- Summary of referral data – Unrestricted and Restricted Reports - either referrals received from other sources or referrals made to other sources (e.g., medical/mental health, command, criminal investigation/security services, legal, civilian or VA authorities, etc.)
- Any other information relating to sexual assault case data

Data Source

In accordance with the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) for 2009, Section 593, the Department of Defense (DoD) maintains a centralized, case-level database for the collection and maintenance of information regarding sexual assaults involving members of the Armed Forces. The Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID) is a Service-wide database that relies on data from multiple sources, including Sexual Assault Response Coordinators (SARCs), Headquarters Marine Corps (HQMC) Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR), HQMC Judge Advocate Division, and Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS). As the source for victim, subject, incident, and legal disposition information for sexual assaults in the Marine Corps in Fiscal Year 2017 (FY17), DSAID was used to compile the information in this report.

NOTABLE CHANGES

Reports of Sexual Assault since Fiscal Year 2008 (Metric #12)

The Marine Corps received 998 Unrestricted and Restricted Reports of sexual assault in FY17, an increase of approximately 15% from 870 in FY16. This increase is driven by an increase in Unrestricted Reports. As depicted in Figure 1, Unrestricted Reporting increased from 565 in FY16 to 676 FY17, while Restricted Reporting remained virtually unchanged with 305 in FY16 and 322 in FY17.

Prevalence vs. Reporting (Metric #2)

The 2016 Workplace and Gender Relations Study of Active Duty Members (WGRA) is a biennial, congressionally mandated survey that measures the prevalence of sexual assault and sexual harassment among active duty Service members. Figure 2 illustrates the Marine Corps results for the WGRA. Prevalence for women and men is trending lower than in the FY14 survey, and reports of in-service incidents are higher than in previous years (discussed below), indicating that fewer Marines are experiencing sexual assault. Comparatively, of those who do experience a sexual assault, more are reporting than in previous years.

Victim Military Status

The percentage of total reports of sexual assault made by Marine victims in FY17 (84% [833]) was similar to FY16 (86% [751]). The remaining 165 (17%) reports were made by civilians or non-Marine Service Members.

- Prior-to-Service Incidents. The Marine Corps encourages any Service Member to report a sexual assault, regardless of when it occurred. In FY17, 22% (187) of all reports received from Marine victims were for a sexual assault occurring prior to the victim's entry into military service. This is similar to FY16, in which 23 % (176) of reports were for a prior-to-service incident.
- In-Service Incidents. In FY17, 78% (646) of all reports received from Marines involved an incident that occurred during the victim's military service. This percentage is similar to FY16, in which 77% (575) of Marines reported an in-Service incident.

Victim Gender in In-Service Incidents of Sexual Assault

Male Marine victims comprised 22% (144) of in-Service incident reports, a decrease from 30% (172) in FY16. This may be related to a decrease in prevalence for male victims of sexual assault as reported by the 2016 WGRA (0.7% in FY16 compared to 1.1% in FY14). Also, male victims perceive a number of barriers to reporting sexual assault, such as concerns about confidentiality, the potential for a report to undermine their masculinity, or the fear of being perceived as weak for not preventing the sexual assault, among others.

INVESTIGATION AND DISPOSITION INFORMATION

Investigations in FY17

A total of 585 investigations were initiated in FY17. NCIS completed 445 of these investigations in FY17 with a median investigation length of 100 days (mean 117), similar to the DoD median (93 days) and mean (119 days) investigation length. Figure 3 illustrates investigation length for the Marine Corps over time.

Victims Declining to Participate in Investigations

In FY17, there were 388 subjects who could be considered for possible action by DoD Commanders. Of these, there were 33 (9%) cases in which the victim declined to participate in the military justice action, virtually unchanged from FY16 (8% [31]), representing a continued decrease from FY15 (19% [69]). This sustained decrease from FY15 suggests that victims have continued trust in the military justice process. Ultimately, it is the victim's choice whether to participate in the process or not. Figure 4 illustrates the change in the percent of cases where victims declined to participate in the military justice process from FY09 to present.

Figure 4. Victims Declining to Participate in the Military Justice Process

Command Action for Subjects under DoD Legal Authority

In FY17, Command Action could be considered for 388 subject cases (contact, penetration, and attempt offenses). Of these cases, Command Action was not possible in 174 (45%) cases; 118 (68% of 174) of these were due to insufficient evidence of any offense, or because the Command determined the report to be unfounded (23 [13% of 174]). In no case did a Commander decline action.

Of the cases for which Command Action could be considered, 105 (27%) involved probable cause for only non-sexual assault offenses. In 82 (21%) cases court-martial charges were preferred, while 27 (7%) cases resulted in Nonjudicial Punishment (NJP) or other administrative action or discharge. Figure 5 depicts Marine Corps Command Actions taken.

Of the 388 subject cases for which Command Action could be considered, 356 (92%) were for contact (39% [139]) and penetrating (61% [217]) crimes. Command Action was not possible in a larger percentage of penetrating crimes (49%) compared to contact crimes (44%), primarily driven by a higher percentage of penetrating crimes for which there was insufficient evidence of any offense (75% of penetrating crimes where Command Action was not possible compared to 56% in contact crimes). However, a greater percentage of penetrating crimes involved court-martial charges preferred for a sexual assault offense (24%) compared to contact crimes (19%). Figure 6 illustrates differences in command actions for penetrating and contact crimes.

NOTE: This figure only includes command actions in which the action was completed in FY 2017. Command actions pending completion (e.g., court-martial preferred but pending trial) are not included in this graph. Additionally, some actions could not be classified as penetrating or sexual contact crimes because the crime alleged was attempted sexual assault.*

Cases with Courts-Martial Charges Preferred

In FY17, there were 49 (62%) penetrating crimes and 30 (38%) sexual contact crimes (79 total) with court-martial charges preferred. Most cases where court-martial charges were preferred proceeded to and completed trial for penetrating (71%) and contact (77%) crimes; 74% of these penetrating crimes resulted in a conviction, while 78% of these contact crimes resulted in a conviction. Charges were dismissed in 27% of penetrating cases and 20% of contact crime cases; 2% of penetrating crimes involved a discharge or resignation in lieu of trial (3% of contact crimes). Figure 7 compares the court-martial actions for penetrating and sexual contact crimes. Figure 8 compares conviction rates of the penetrating and sexual contact crimes proceeding to and completing trial.

SERVICE REFERRALS

The Marine Corps issued a total of 5,054 referrals for the 998 Unrestricted and Restricted Reports of sexual assault received in FY17. Referrals are recorded every time services are offered to the victim. Most common were referrals for Victim Advocate support (32% [1,591]), mental health (18% [922]), and legal support (16% [792]). Figure 8 below illustrates the types of referrals offered to victims.

8.2 Complete the following table with your numbers as of the end of the fiscal year. Use the job/duty descriptions provided and the following inclusion criteria:

- Include all Reserve and Active Duty military personnel. Army and Air Force do not need to include their respective National Guard component information as it will be included in the National Guard Bureau's response.
- Include civilian and contractor personnel, as applicable
- Only include filled positions
- Indicate the number of full-time and part-time personnel
- Provide the exact number of current personnel, whenever possible. If the number is an estimate, please indicate how the estimate was reached and any other relevant information.

MARINE CORPS FY17 UNRESTRICTED REPORTS OF SEXUAL ASSAULTS IN THE MILITARY
A. FY17 REPORTS OF SEXUAL ASSAULT (rape, sexual assault, aggravated sexual contact, abusive sexual contact, forcible sodomy, and attempts to commit these offenses) BY or AGAINST Service Members. Note: The data on this page is raw, uninvestigated information about allegations received during FY17. These Reports may not be fully investigated by the end of the fiscal year.
